THREE foreign fliers visited Wall Street's Stock Exchange yesterday and congratulated the bulls on an endurance flight that has lasted for months.

The bears' sad and prolonged crash was viewed with sympathy.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE will give medals to six fliers. Three recently arrived, the Frenchmen, Costes and Lebrix, and the able Italian, Nobile.

He might add one medal for Miss Junkers, daughter of the man that made the westward-flying airplane, responsible for the trip's success. Through all the excitement she has kept out of the limelight, and that deserves a medal.

GEN. YOURIEFF, related to Peter the Great, fought under the Czar against Japan, owned vast estates covering 90,000 acres and a big fortune. Bolshevism has them now and he is dead.

RICH Americans learn from Yourieff that everything depends on KEEPING THE PEOPLE SATISFIED. Without that, power and money are temporary. All the czars could not protect Yourieff in his possessions once the people were thoroughly dissatisfied and ABLY LED.

Moral: Keep the people happy.

ITALY'S heavyweight champion is here, 22 years old, six feet, two inches tall, weight 225 pounds. Boxing two and a half years, each of his 10 opponents kindly became unconscious in four rounds or less.

THIS descendant of Roman gladiators, Umberto Tolini, is artistic, sings, plays several musical instruments and could lecture on Verdi. He seems to be the natural, physical and mental opponent for Tunney.

TOLINI could interest local talent by offering to revive the old Roman boxing with the cestus, a glove of heavy thongs, loaded with iron or bronze, making it unnecessary for the referee to count.

A MUSEUM of the City of New York in Fifth avenue, opposite Central Park, is assured by gifts of $250,000 each from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and James Speyer; $200,000 from Edward S. Harkness, and other generous gifts.

New York's museum will record the city's history from earliest times, stimulating city enthusiasm. Every great city should have such a museum.

Thanks from New York are especially due to James Speyer, who originated and developed the idea. Every citizen should be urged to contribute.

NEW records for automobile building in April. Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Company, reports daily production of new cars now of 3,300, and expects to produce 5,000 cars a day in July. The Fords have unfilled orders for 900,000 cars.

President Sloan's figures show that General Motors produced in April more than 133,000 Chevrolet cars alone, 22,000 more than in April a year ago. The country is prosperous and will need 5,000,000 new cars a year indefinitely.

AUTOMOBILES lead in Detroit. The bootleg business is Detroit's second industry, with $215,000,000 a year. Government used to have a few hundred millions yearly from beer and whisky properly made. Now bootleggers take thousands of millions a year for poisonous whisky, and use the proceeds to finance our crime wave. Not much of an improvement.

THIS side of the Mexican border, between San Diego and Tia Juana, a steel lockup is used for sobering up purposes. Men violently drunk, coming north across the border, are put in the steel lockup until sober.

Authorities don't like to lock drunken women with the drunken men and request construction of a "stockade 10 feet high at the international border in which women returning from Tia Juana can be put until they cool off."

Why not fingerprint and photograph ladies and gentlemen returning drunk from their little trips and deprive them of passports for a while?

BY STEAM

Scalds caused by steam from an exhaust pipe from the hospital boiler brought death to Joseph Shilen, Jr., 4, son of a staff physician, Leech Farm Tuberculosis Hospital.

BY WATER

Betty Perry, 4, 1057 Evergreen avenue, Millvale, died from the effects of scalds suffered when she pulled over a bucket of hot water in her home.

BARELY SAVED

Frantic screams summoned Mrs. Alva Hick, 225 Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, who found flames enveloping the divan on which her daughter Catherine, 9 months old, was lying. She snatched the child to safety, narrowly averting a tragedy.

HIDES IN BED

Aaron, 3, brother of Catherine, ran from the flames and was later found in bed, frightened.

COOLIDGE DECORATES AIR HEROES

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP.)—The White House was thrown open today to the German-Irish crew of the airship Bremen, and awaiting them there was the Distinguished Flying Cross which the American Congress had voted to decorate the breasts of two men who only a decade ago wore the garb of enemies.

Baron Von Huenefeld, Maj. Fitzmaurice and Capt. Koehl, first to span the North Atlantic on a westward flight, were officially received by President Coolidge at noon, while more than a thousand persons jammed about the White House to catch a glimpse of the men whose flight marked a stride in transoceanic navigation.

TRIBUTE TO UNKNOWN

Earlier in the day they had been greeted by high government officials, diplomats, army and navy officers and fellow fliers at Bolling Field, where they made their official entry into the city. The White House ceremonies, including the presentation of the crosses and a luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, wound up a busy morning and left the afternoon open for a tribute to the Unknown Soldier in Arlington.

The White House luncheon was limited to a few guests. In addition to the German ambassador and the minister of the Irish Free State, those invited were Everett Sanders, secretary to Mr. Coolidge, and two White House aides.

The flying crosses were presented on the White House lawn, where photographers made up the larger part of those witnessing the ceremony. Assistant Secretary Davison, of the War Department; Assistant Secretary MacCracken, of the Commerce Department; the Irish minister, the German ambassador and the Presidential aides were grouped about.

Col. Osman Latrobe, the military aide, read the citations commending the feat of the Bremen's crew, and President Coolidge stepped forward and pinned the medals on the left breast of each. He then shook hands, but said nothing.

Prior to going to the White House, the fliers held a press conference at the Mayflower Hotel in the most approved Washington manner. Out of the conference came the word that they might fly the Bremen back to Germany and that they planned to bring the ship from Greenley Island

City Wants Bremen Crew

City Council today will discuss the extending of an invitation to the crew of Bremen trans-Atlantic plane to visit Pittsburgh. There is no regular meeting of Council today and the matter will only be mentioned at a committee meeting. A resolution asking that the invitation be extended will be presented in Council Monday by President James F. Malone.

The matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Malone late yesterday after Baron Guenther Von Huenefeld, Capt. Herman Koehl and Maj. James Fitzmaurice had announced they would begin their tour of the country Tuesday. If a favorable decision is reached by the councilmen today an invitation will be sent immediately to the fliers, who are in Washington.

TO MAKE AIR TOUR

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—The German-Irish crew of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen will leave May 8 for an air tour of all the principal cities of the country.

It was announced that invitations had been received from practically all the big cities and that they would all be accepted. The itinerary has not yet been made up.

M'Connell Under Fire

International News Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 2.—Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of the Pittsburgh area, has been formally charged with immorality and with maladministration, it was revealed today at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in quadrennial session here.

The maladministration charges are in connection with two cases submitted to the annual Pennsylvania area conference last year, and the charge of immorality is based on Bishop McConnell's alleged indorsement of the theory of evolution published by the American Civil Liberties Union in January, 1927.

The charges were filed by Rev. George A. Cooks, of Wilmington, Del., and Louisville, Pa.

The immorality charge deals entirely with violations of the church dogma and doctrines, and contains no element of moral turpitude.

U. S. COAL REMEDY PLEDGED

By MAX HENRICI
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—"Congress has conducted a number of investigations of the coal industry in recent years without effecting any improvement in the situation. We intend, however, that the present inquiry shall not be fruitless. My hope is that the committee will press on and succeed in procuring legislation to restore prosperity to this great industry."

Senator Frank R. Gooding, of Idaho, acting chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee in its investigation of the soft coal strike, made the foregoing statement today.

TESTIMONY OVER

After hearings begun on March 7, and held almost daily since then, the committee adjourned the investigation last night until such time as the chairman, Senator James E.

SENTENCE 4 TO JAIL IN VOTE CASE

Four election officers were sentenced and began serving jail terms of from 30 to 60 days today and 10 others were paroled, in the drive against ballot cheating. Those sentenced:

WILLIAM BULGER, judge of election, Second district, Twenty-fifth ward, 60 days.

WILLIAM J. STONE, inspector, Fourth district, Twenty-second ward, 30 days.

JOHN VAUGHAN, inspector, Fourth district, Twenty-second ward, 60 days.

Stone's sentence was lightened after Assistant District Attorney Andrew T. Park told Judge H. H. Rowand that Stone had "told the truth."

The four were committed to jail immediately.

The four, as well as those paroled, had pleaded no defense to negligence in performance of duties at last September's primaries.

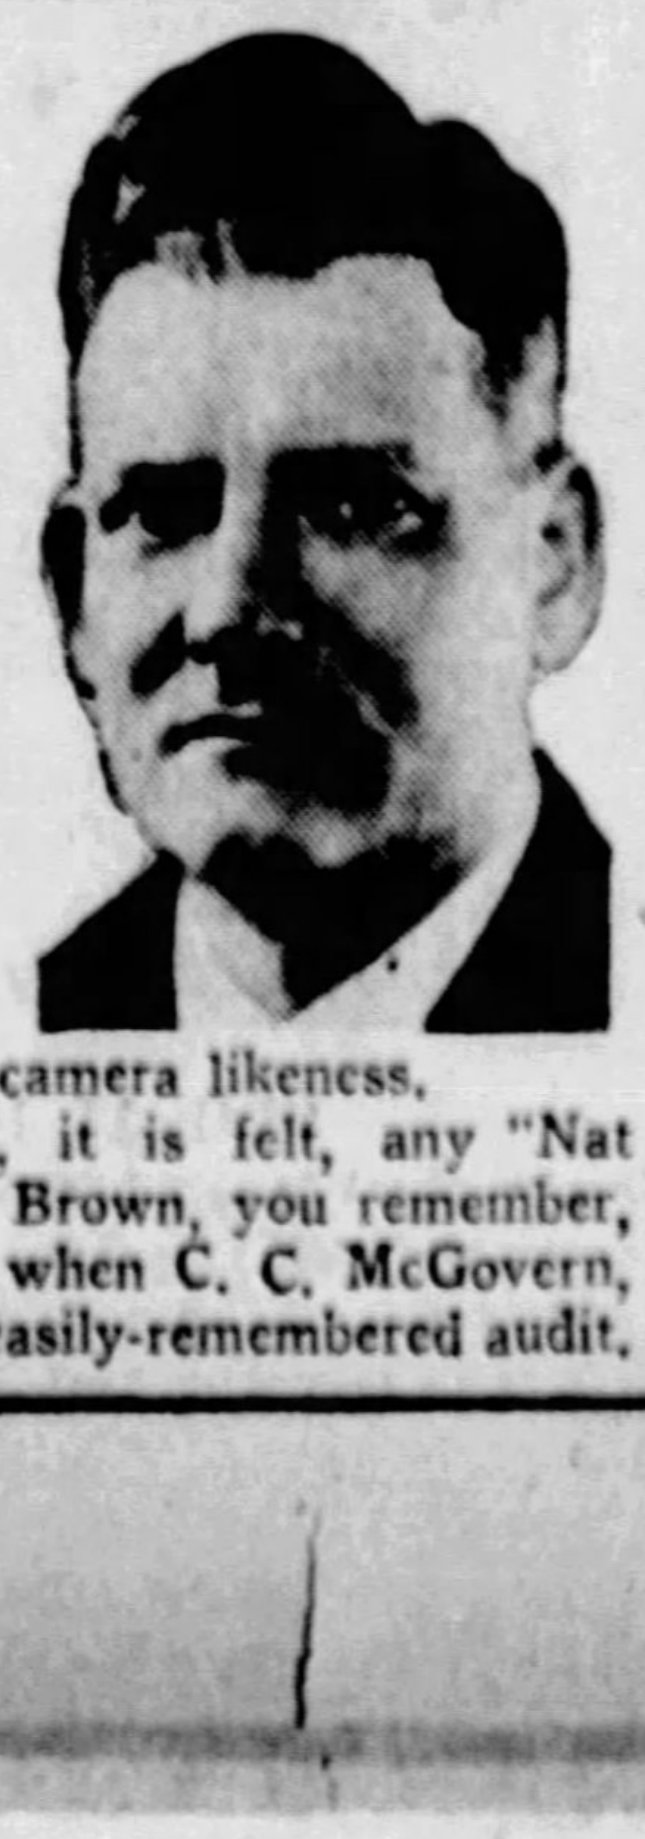
Judge Roward paroled the following for six months, after ordering them to pay costs of prosecution: First District, Fourth Ward, Homestead—Leslie R. Graham, Harvey Evans, Maurice O'Connor, Elsie Evans and Edward McMaully; Seventeenth District, Third Ward, Pittsburgh—Whitney Roush, Joe Sprout, John Brussaer, John Hartnett and Melvin Brooks.

Disposition was deferred in the cases of M. De Rose, judge; Miss K. E. Ditella and John Copocciana, inspectors, Ninth District, Twelfth ward; S. L. Ostrosky, judge, and Isadore Shaffer, clerk, Thirty-second district, Fifth Ward.

James H. Bates, judge in the Ninth District, Third Ward, is serving a 30-day jail sentence, imposed April 30, after entering a plea of guilty to negligence.

Judges John A. Evans and J. Frank Graff sat with Judge Rowand in the imposing of sentences today.

County 'Mugs' Whole Payroll



NO PICTURE, no pay!

This, in short, will be the edict by which county employes will be guided on payday, Controller Robert G. Woodside announced today.

Employes will be "mugged," and the paymaster, with the county album in hand, will see that the applicant resembles the camera likeness.

Such action will eliminate, it is felt, any "Nat Browns" from the payroll. Nat Brown, you remember, was the phantom on the payroll when C. C. McGovern, then Controller, was pushing his easily-remembered audit.

In an effort to sweep the series with the Bears and to increase the string of consecutive triumphs to three, Manager Donie Bush will send John Miljus, who already has beaten the Chicagoans in this series, to the hill for pitching duty today. Chicago expects to play behind the hurling of Charley Root or Freddie Blake.

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

The truce between the Pirates and Cubs which both clubs had lived up to in the first battle at Forbes Field, was suddenly and without warning terminated yesterday when the dangerous "dustoff" pitch was resorted to by Pitchers Carmen Hill of the Pirates and Guy Bush of the Cubs. And fans are on edge to see what happens at today's game.

The whole thing developed so quickly that the two managers, Donie Bush and Joe McCarthy seemed to be taken off their guard. It was believed that both Bush and McCarthy were anxious to see the games played on a clean basis and that neither had any part in the unsportsmanlike scene.

Instead of shooting at Hazen Cuyler, Hill's first pitch to make an enemy player dodge was hurled at the head of Riggs Stephenson. That happened in the fourth inning. Heathcote was on first when the big football star from the South had to use his gridiron tactics to keep from getting injured. Lefty Grimm was the next batter and Lefty had to do a nose-dive to escape injury as the ball whizzed at his head.

AIMS AT TRAYNOR

The Chicago players did not say a word, but when Pie Traynor came up in the same inning the whole team of Cubs apparently knew that Pie was to be "dusted off." Guy Bush's first pitch was straight at Traynor's head. Pie jumped up from the ground and challenged

HOMESTEAD PLANS FOR MARATHON DANCE

Not to be outdone by Pittsburgh, Homestead is going to stage its own Marathon dance. The dance is to begin May 21 in the Stahl Garden, Homestead. John Stahl, operator of the dance place said he did not expect any interference from the police if the dance went more than a week. Winners of the first three places will be awarded a certain percentage of the gate receipts.

PUNXSUTAWNEY HOLDS AUTO THEFT SUSPECT

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., May 2.—Paul Redding, caught in Pittsburgh Monday while attempting to steal an auto, was brought here and held for court for the theft of three cars. He had in his possession a gun stolen from Capt. Thomas Bell, of Troop F, 104th Cavalry, when the barracks was robbed three months ago.

BANK CASE VERDICT DELAYED BY ILLNESS

FRANKLIN, Pa., May 2.—When the case of Mrs. Adah H. Kauffman, 28, bank clerk, accused, of making false entries, was about to be given to the jury today, a juror became ill, the case went over until tomorrow morning. Mrs. Kauffman was convicted in January of embezzling funds of the Exchange Bank and Trust Company.

California Swept by Smith

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—(AP.)—The margin for Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York in California's presidential preference primary continued to grow as returns from 6,932 precincts out of 8,753 in the state were tabulated today. Likewise the vote for Herbert Hoover bounded upward.

The vote: Hoover, 485,178; Smith, 120,644; Reed, 50,460; Walsh, 38,876.

The election binds the Democratic delegates of 26 to register the state's preference at Houston next June by voting for Smith. Hoover will receive the 29 votes of the Republican delegation at Kansas City next month.

The victory of Governor Smith was heralded by the Smith supporters as a forerunner of what is going to happen at Houston and the Republicans likewise made the Republican returns the basis of a forecast that Secretary Hoover would receive 70 per cent. of the California vote next fall if he is nominated.

M'ADOO FORCES ROUTED

The vote in Los Angeles county, home of McAdoo and theoretical fortress of the dry Democrats, was the outstanding feature. Smith had a big plurality in the county.

Hoover, 161,570; Smith, 26,290; Reed, 17,640; Walsh, 12,710.

Walsh's failure to register more heavily was a surprise. Supported by McAdoo in the South and a group of prominent Democrats in Northern California, the Montana Senator came in a poor third.

Reed headquarters issued a statement blaming his defeat on "thirsty Republicans and misguided drys."

PROMISES SENATE AID

Watson, of Indiana, who has been away from Washington and is not expected to return until next week, may see fit to call other witnesses. Notwithstanding that scores of persons are clamoring to be heard or have been mentioned as worthy of being heard, it is doubtful if the committee will take any more testimony.

There is a possibility that Philip Penna, an Indiana operator, may be allowed to present the situation in that state. However, additional testimony as to facts will be received, if at all, in a perfunctory way. The committee feels that it has all the facts necessary for its guidance, and that the next step is to frame legislation.

"I regard the conditions disclosed as tragic," said Senator Gooding, "and will not rest content until something has been done by the government to relieve the distress."

He mentioned the establishment of a Federal coal commission as a possible means for stabilization.

The concluding part of yesterday's session was devoted to discussion of the ill effect that discriminatory freight rates in favor of West Virginia coal companies and unfavorable to Pittsburgh operators have had on the industry in the Pittsburgh district. J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, presented the matter in an illuminating way which aroused great interest. Attorneys for the Southern West Virginia Coal Operators' Association cross examined Morrow vigorously, but did not shake his argument, Senator Gooding said he was much impressed by what Morrow said.

"I am unable to understand," remarked Gooding, "how it is that southern railroads can carry coal at half of what the Pennsylvania Railroad charges, especially when the Pennsylvania does not bring back empty cars from the lake ports, but brings them back loaded with iron ore.

RAILROADS RAPPED

"I don't think the northern railroads are very much interested in the prosperity of the coal industry, either in Pennsylvania or Ohio. That is my guess as to the reason for thes strange inequalities in the rates."

Discussion of the lake cargo rate case consumed the greater part of the afternoon.

"BEAN BALL" USED

Bush. Bush's answer was another straight at Pie's head.

As Traynor went to his position a little later he demanded an explanation from Guy Bush. The big pitcher, however, was just as defiant as Traynor and he evidently told Pie that the Pirates started it and he was there to finish it.

It was a case of fighting fire with fire and in this instance the remedy was O. K., but the fans were all worked up, probably because it was unfair to threw at Traynor, who is known all over baseball as a clean player.

Traynor and Guy Bush did not fight after the game. Bush left the contest later and went to the clubhouse. Traynor was so mad after the ball had missed his head that he attempted to bunt the ball down the first base line, where he could tramp on the big pitcher. It was lucky for the two teams that Pie's bunt was foul or a riot might have started.

The effect was noticeable for the remainder of the game. Every man that went to the plate seemed to have a horror of getting hit on the head. This mood was on the athletes for two or three innings to such an extent that they were all pulling away from the plate. It is likely that both Donie Bush and Joe McCarthy ordered their pitchers to stop and there was no more "dusting off."

The umpires deserved to be penalized for not taking steps to stop the "dusting off" at once, but they apparently warned the pitchers later in the game.

The entire trouble grew out of the Adams-Cuyler trade. It started in a small way in Los Angeles, where the Pirates and Cubs began their five-game spring exhibition series; it was renewed during the Pirates' recent visit to Chicago and apparently was brought to a close here yesterday.

President Heydler, of the National League, has been dead set against the use of the "dust-off" pitch and has warned his pitchers repeatedly not to resort to these tactics. The senior loop executive promises to take drastic action unless steps are taken to eliminate the practice.

HEROES GET MEDALS

Capt. Koehl was the first name read by Col. Latrobe. He stepped forward slowly, looking straight ahead. Then Baron von Huenefeld took a position facing President Coolidge and Col. Latrobe, with his eyes sparkling, and his monocle in place as usual.

Finally Maj. Fitzmaurice, garbed in the trim uniform of the Irish Free State army, marched stiffly to position, holding his shoulders straight and firm. He snapped his heels in military fashion and looked straight ahead during the praise of his achievement preliminary to the pinning on of the military cross. This done, he aboutfaced abruptly and returned to his place at the end of the trio. Throughout the ceremony President Coolidge wore a broad smile.

During the presentation ceremony, an Army airplane circling high over the White House, attracted the attention of the aviators.

On conclusion of the ceremonies they said goodbye to the President and walked through the executive offices to the front door, to be met by the enthusiastic crowd which cheered them and to pay a visit to the National Press Club for a few minutes before the White House luncheon.

An informal reception was held for the fliers at the Press Club, where J. Fred Essary, of the Baltimore Sun, president of the club, introduced them.

Baron Von Huenefeld spoke a few words in reply.

"I don't speak very good English, but I wish to thank you for what you have given to my comrades and to me," he said.

All three men were highly pleased with the award of the distinguished flying cross, Capt. Koehl saying:

"It is almost worth the trip over."

Prominent among those who participated in the welcoming ceremonies was Charles A. Lindbergh, who sat in a box with Eddie Rickenbacker, the American World War ace, who during that troubled period perhaps was at some time opposed to Capt. Koehl in active combat. Lindbergh was hatless and wore a plain business suit, in contrast to the formal attire of the dignitaries in formal dress and the Army officers who surrounded him.

After the Bremen trio had been received officially, Assistant Secretary MacCracken, of the Commerce Department, led Lindbergh and Rickenbacker forward from the cabinet box to greet their colleagues of the air. The whole group posed for repeated shots of photographers as the Americans shook hands with the Germans and the Irishman. The crowd, estimated at 1,500, cheered vociferously.

Lindbergh spoke very briefly to the visiting airmen, conveying to them his congratulations for their feat. Huenefeld then said he considered Lindbergh "the greatest flier in the world."

City's Vice Uncurbed —Kane

Admitting vice conditions in Pittsburgh are as bad as painted at church mass meetings in East Liberty and the North Side, William J. Kane, director of the Citizens' League, who has been investigating quietly for several months, today declined to make public the results of his activities.

"The Citizens' League has been active for some time along the lines specified in its announcement to the citizens of Pittsburgh at the time of its formation," he declared. "The league is not ready at present to enter into any controversy with city officials. That has not accomplished anything in the past."

As to the charges made by speakers before the North Side and East End mass meetings during the past few weeks, Director Kane pointed out that so far no one has denied that "these charges present a truthful picture of conditions in the city so far as law enforcement is concerned."

He commented on the movement afoot for Federal and county grand jury investigations and asserted he deemed this course of action advisable before any further statement of conditions were made. If the movement fails, he said, then a definite review of conditions as the league finds them might be advisable.

"If the movement is successful and a grand jury investigation is instituted then, of course, the outcome of the probe would take precedence over any statements by individuals or organizations," he said.

LACK OF THREE VOTES DEFEATS BOND ISSUE

STATE IS DRAWN INTO SUNDAY CONCERT BLUE LAW BATTLE

NO VOICE IN SCALE SAYS HEAD OF TERMINAL

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Sabotage, violence and trespass are charged by Horace F. Baker, president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, in a lengthy statement filed today with the Senate sub-committee investigating the bituminous coal strike. The statement also says:

"The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation since 1903 has mined and shipped approximately 50,000,000 tons of coal. The company has seven mines, all of which are in operation. Prior to April 1, 1927, throughout its existence, the Pittsburgh Terminal Company operated continuously under agreements with the United Mine Workers of America.

"In order that those not familiar with wage agreements between bituminous coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America may have a proper conception of the scope of territory covered by such agreements and of the personnel of the agreement-making bodies, it is thought profitable to explain that not all operators in what were known as the "union districts" had a voice in making these agreements. A comparatively small area of the bituminous coal districts of Pennsylvania was under the union at the time of the signing of the Jacksonville agreement. The most important sections of such union area of Pennsylvania were what are known as the "Pittsburgh District" and the "Central Pennsylvania District." In that portion of the Pittsburgh district which was unionized, not more than 75 per cent of the tonnage produced was represented at these conferences, as a large number of operators were not members of the operators' associations which signed the agreements with the union.

QUIT ASSOCIATION

"Until just prior to the Jacksonville conference in 1924, the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation was a member of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers Association. At a meeting held to consider what action should be taken at Jacksonville, the Pittsburgh association went on record, by a majority vote of the tonnage represented, in favor of reaffirming the wage agreement then in effect for an additional period of from three to five years. Because of this action the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation withdrew from the association, inasmuch as its officers were firmly of the opinion that this company could not operate successfully for the entusing three years aund the wage scale then in effect.

"Prior to April 1, 1927, the president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation had an extended conference with Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America. At that meeting Mr. Baker offered to make an agreement with the union for the year beginning April 1, 1927, at a wage scale based on about $6.25 per day. The basic rate provided in the Jacksonville agreement of 1924 was $7.50 per day. Mr. Murray refused this offer and stated that it was impossible for the union officials to agree upon any reduction in wages.

ONLY SEVEN EVICTIONS

Much has been written and said about this company having evicted its tenants. How unjust, unfair and inaccurate an impression has been created can be seen readily from the fact that since April 1, 1927, actually only seven tenants have been evicted, that is, put out, by law officers. In all other cases where houses have been vacated by the tenants, it has been done voluntarily or pursuant to an agreement to vacate made by the union with the company. During the period from April 1, 1927, until December 2, 1927, some union tenants vacated company houses almost every week voluntarily.

POLICE FOR DEFENSE

"The bitterest complaint of the union has been that coal companies employ "coal and iron" policemen about their properties. It is childish to say that this force was recruited and maintained to make war against the union. Such policemen were engaged and are now maintained only for defense. This company, I can assure you, would be only too happy to discontinue at once all such police, if the union would cease war against the company or the government provide protection."

BALDRIDGE SEEKS FOR OFFICE OF MEDIATOR

State Attorney General Thomas J. Baldridge today formally entered the battle of the blue laws, involving the right of the Pittsburgh Orchestra Association to hold Sunday concerts, because of "the supreme importance of the case."

The attorney general filed a petition in Superior Court, through the local prothonotary, asking for permission to intervene and to file a brief in the Sunday concert case to the end that the act of 1794, commonly known as the "Blue Laws," might be "clearly understood and uniformly administered throughout the state."

A brief likely will be filed at once, if leave is granted. The Superior Court last week heard arguments on the appeal of the commonwealth from the decision of the County Court upholding the right of the orchestra association to hold concerts on Sunday, not designed for profit. No rehearing will be necessitated.

The attorney general's petition sets forth:

"That whereas the determination of the issue involves interpretation of construction of the act of 1794 (The Blue Law), that it is of supreme importance to the commonwealth that the act may be clearly understood and uniformly administered throughout the state, we pray that the attorney general of the commonwealth be permitted to intervene in behalf of the commonwealth and to file a brief.'

The original action, instigated by the Pittsburgh Sabbath Association, was instituted in the name of the commonwealth and resulted in members of the orchestra association and players being fined $25 each by a justice of the peace.

The orchestra sponsors, including prominent business and professional men, appealed to the County Court, which, after protracted hearing, held that the orchestra association had not violated any law of the state and ordered fines remitted. The commonwealth appealed from this decision.

Since the decision of the County Court several Sunday concerts have been held, capacity audiences attending.

MARATHON DANCERS

AUTHOR

Walter B. Edmundson, local attorney, has written the story around a small European circus. Thomas McMurray (above) is a "princess" and Charles Hyatt, basketball star, is "Socks," circus roustabout.

THREE NICE BOYS

"LOCAL BOY"

Ted Murphy (left) is cast in the role of a colonel in the army of Lippe-Saalve, mythical European country. Earl Maize makes a charming girl in the role of "Olivia" and Stewart Robert Kleeb, former Perry High School student, plays "Prince Alexis," hero of the romance.

ACROBATS-AS IT WERE

LEAD ROLE

JUST A BELLE

"LOVELY," IT IS SAID

And here is "Mary" herself—"one-eighth of a ton" of loveliness, as the boys at Pitt say. The part is taken by Herb Dent, a veteran of last year's Cap and Gown production, "Miss Mannequinn." You can look 'er over for yourself above.

LITTLE HELPERS

SAVED

The old Soho Community House, center of the social life in that district, has been saved. It has moved next door and Soho—lively, bustling Soho—did the moving. Above, the younger generation helps out. George Washington, thank you, was moved without damage.

"GIT OFF'N THAR, Y'AL-L-L"

THEY HELP, TOO!

Soho knows no color, no religion, and competition in getting the community house—that children's heaven!—into its new quarters was keen. These huskies did their bit and, barring one torn trouser's seat, a skinned shin and one complete upset, did it safely.

"THIS'S OUR SHARE"

"THAT'S THAT!"

There was, of course, plenty to move and everyone in Soho who wanted had a hand in the moving. Even little girls were recruited for the task. And they have assured the Soho Community House, invaluable asset, countless more years of work with Young Soho—Young America!

"Pittsburgh . . . a great 'show town'"
—ELSIE JANIS.

ELSIE JANIS

ELSIE JANIS, actress, born in Columbus, O., daughter of John E. and Janis E. Bierbower; descended from Revolutionary ancestors, she is an active worker in the D. A. R. Educated by private tutors. Made stage debut in "The Charity Ball" in 1897. Appeared in vaudeville and starred in "The Belle of New York" in 1904. Later she appeared in a number of successes, notably the "Slim Princess." She is unmarried and resides in North Tarrytown, N. Y.

Pittsburgh has always seemed to me what is commonly called a great "show town." I have been playing there since I was "Little Elsie" and have always found responsive audiences and good business. In my opinion a strictly industrial city is very apt to react favorably to art, music, etc., if only because it needs contrast.

The more artistic centers may talk more about art, but art, like most things, must be paid for, and there I should think is where the industrial city comes in. Mind you, I don't really know what I'm talking about, but you asked me, and here you are,

Elsie Janis

DRAG RIVER FOR SIX BODIES

MASONTOWN, Pa., May 2.—Several crews in skiffs were dragging the receding Monongahela River near Alicia No. 2 today for bodies of six persons drowned Monday night when a ferry-skiff upset. None of the bodies have been recovered and it is believed some may have been swept far downstream by the flood.

Miss Cenneth Gaddis, 22, school teacher, expert swimmer and possessor of a Carnegie hero medal for rescuing two persons from the river near where she lost her life, and five Negroes were the victims. Miss Gaddis formerly lived at the home of Mrs. R. T. Chambers, 2320 Perrysville avenue, Pittsburgh.

The Negroes were Mrs. Joseph Stone, her two children, Matilda, 10, and Virginia, 8; Helen Scott, 13, and her brother, George Scott, 7.

Agnes Gaddis, 16, sister of the school teacher, saved herself by clutching the limb of a tree. Charles Duhanick, 17, ferryman, and several white boys, occupants of the skiff, were rescued.

A.G. COCHRAN OF DEMOLAY DIES

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—(AP.)—Col. Alexander G. Cochran, 81, sovereign grand councillor of the order of De Molay, died here last night of kidney disease. He was born in Pittsburgh.

Cochran was also sovereign inspector general of the Scottish Rite for Missouri and held several other Masonic offices. He had been a railroad executive and attorney earlier.

Cochran was elected to Congress from Pennsylvania, and helped investigate the Hayes-Tilden election in South Carolina. He once was a vice president of Missouri Pacific railroad.

SUPERIOR COURT ENDS PITTSBURGH SESSION

The Superior Court yesterday finished hearing arguments on the appeal of cases before the tribunal and adjourned. The court will not sit in Pittsburgh again until next spring. The business before the court was finished several days sooner than anticipated. The court will hold its next session July 11 in Philadelphia.

Nominate Negro For Congress In Chicago

CHICAGO, May 2.—(AP.)—Four ward committeemen substituted for a primary election yesterday and named Oscar Depriest, 57-year-old Negro, as the Republican congressional nominee from the First Illinois District. His name will replace that of the late Congressman Madden.

Depriest, a former alderman and county commissioner, is one of many Chicago politicians who during their careers have been the victim of bombers. His home was bombed several years ago during racial disturbances.

Although Depriest is aligned with the Republican faction dominated by Mayor Thompson, the Mayor was understood to have taken no active part in urging Depriest's selection.

"SHOWERED"—IN "THE OFFICE," TOO

CONGRATULATIONS!

Esther A. Dailey, 33, Minooka street, Carrick, left the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company purchasing offices, where she is employed, and came back Mrs. James R. McMillen, Jr., of some other address. She was surprised by a "shower"—souvenirs of which surrounded her above.

THEY DID IT!

COOL WEATHER CHECKS FLOOD

After reaching a crest of about 25 feet, the local rivers were falling today as slightly cooler weather made its appearance. The high water mark was reached late yesterday after the rivers had continued to rise all day long. No rain or cold weather is in sight and the temperature today will not go below 46 degrees, W. S. Brotzman, weaher forecaster, said.

The Monongahela River overflowed its banks at Dravosburg yesterday and many cellars and first floors of homes in the borough were inundated. The high water extended 500 feet into the borough, covering the Clairton-Dravosburg road at a depth of three feet. Many automobiles were stalled.

NATIONAL GUARD BODY HONORS GEN. RICKARDS

FRANKLIN, Pa., May 2.—Maj. Gen. George C. Rickards, former chief of the Militia Bureau, was presented with a gold watch yesterday by the National Guard Association of the United States. He was also honored with a life membership in the organization.

RAILROAD WATCHMAN STRIPPED IN HOLDUP

PUNXUTAWNEY, Pa., May 2.—A lone highwayman held up Glenn Fisher, night watchman for the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railroad near Dayton, last night, stripped him of his suit, hat, shoes and socks. The robber is believed to have donned Fisher's colthing, as his own was found scattered along the tracks later.

DOCTOR DIES ON TRIP TO SISTER'S FUNERAL

MEADVILLE, Pa., May 2.—(AP.)—Dr. Edgar Huidekoper, 83, of Meadville, died yesterday at Boston, Mass., where he had gone to attend the funeral of a sister, Mrs. Frank Wells, who died Sunday. Dr. Huidekoper was a grandson of Harm Jan Huidekoper, who was head of the Holland Land Company in Pennsylvania.

ORANGES IN A DAY

FIRST

Fruit plucked yesterday in California can be eaten in Pittsburgh today—well, 28 hours later, if it's shipped by air express, inaugurated at Bettis Field with the receipt of a package for Mrs. E. V. Babcock. Here, it's transferred from plane to delivery truck.

FOR TH' MISSUS

Mayor Charles H. Kline had to hustle out to Bettis Field to receive a package "for th' missus." 'Twas a gown, he suspected. Looking on are Dewey Noyes, pilot; F. H. Hickey, American Railway express Company; Clifford Ball, air contractor, and council president, James F. Malone.

IT CHECKS

Among the packages in the first shipment of air express received here, opening the service, was a crate of fresh fruit from California (you can also get it in Florida), taken from the trees just 28 hours before. Soon, perhaps, we'll be getting fresh coffee from Java.

WARSAW RIOTS KILL SIX

WARSAW, Poland, May 2.—(AP.)—The death toll of May Day here was brought to six last night with the deaths in hospitals of three who were wounded in a conflict between Socialists and Communists.

Three persons had been killed outright and 12 wounded by the shooting which followed an attempt of Communists to join the Socialist parade.

COOLIDGE FIRES LAST 7-MILE TUNNEL BLAST

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP.)—By pressing a button in the White House yesterday President Coolidge released the final blast opening Cascade Tunnel, in Washington state, destined to be the longest railroad tunnel in the Western Hemisphere. The tunnel when completed will be more than seven miles long. It is on the Great Northern Railroad in Washington.

OCEAN HOP DENIED BY LINDY

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(INS.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh isn't planning any more trans-Atlantic flights to Europe.

The pioneer ocean flier made that plain today in denying the latest story emanating from the Washington rumor factory that he had completed plans for such a flight this summer with stops at Greenland and Iceland.

Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, of the Army air service, who was mentioned as his co-pilot in such an undertaking, issued a similar denial.

"Such a flight would add nothing to the advancement of aviation," said Lindbergh.

He said he still hoped to return to Europe "some day" and see the things he missed last summer when the government ordered his immediate return to the United States, but he has made no definite plans.

SIXTH ST. STORE LOOTED

While scores of pedestrians passed last night a lone, armed robber, police were told, entered the John Bright shoe store, 120 Sixth street, and escaped after stealing $35. Edward Hughes, a clerk, said he was backed to the rear of the store and compelled to open a small safe. City detectives and police arrived shortly afterward but found no trace of the robber.

Will Gets "Kick" In Landing on Home Ranch

CHELSEA, Okla., May 2.—I got the real "kick" of my life out of aviation yesterday. Left Western Kansas and flew down to Oklahoma and landed right on the old ranch I was born on. It was the first machine that was ever in there. When I was raised there I never thought there would be anything faster than a horse get in there. I ask you and plead with you again, you luncheon clubbers, will you please paint the name of your town on top of your building. I will pay for the paint if you will do it. We were lost and all the towns in Kansas had no names we could make out till we got to Bartlesville, Okla., who had their name out. Are you ashamed of your town?

4 GIVE UP TO U. S.

5 YOUTHS GIVEN LONG PEN TERMS IN SLAYING

CHICAGO, May 2.—(AP.)—Five white-faced boys learned from a jury yesterday that the robbery which netted them $1.43 last January would cost them each 25 years in the penitentiary.

The youths, whose ages range from 15 to 22 years, were found guilty of the murder of a West Side grocer whose till they looted.

The jury was out all night, unable to agree on the punishment, although the guilt was established on the first ballot. One juror held out for the electric chair for Michael Clos, 22, the eldest of the quintet, who was charged with firing the fatal shot.

OFFICERS AIDED BOOTLEGGERS; OFF TO JAIL

William A. Horne, former chief of police of Monessen; Walter Wyatt, John R. Mahusky and Andy Dudas, former constables in Westmoreland county, late yesterday surrendered to United States Marshal J. C. McGregor, to start serving sentences for conspiring to violate the national prohibition law.

Horne and Wyatt are to serve one year each in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., and Dudas and Mahusky to serve six months each in the Westmoreland county jail.

The United States Supreme Court on April 23 denied their petition for a review of their conviction in the Federal District Court on February 11, 1927. After being sentenced May 2, 1927, by Judge R. M. Gibson, they carried their case to the Supreme Court after the Circuit Court had affirmed the finding of the District Court.

With others, they were found guilty of "shaking-down" bootleggers and giving protection to prohibition violators. Pending their appeal to the higher courts they were at liberty under bonds.

M'CULLOCH STORES' HEAD VISITOR IN CITY

D. C. Keller, president of the Dow Drug Company, of Cincinnati, which owns and operates the McCulloch chain of drug stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity, was a visitor in Pittsburgh today, to complete arrangements for the early opening of new McCulloch stores in McKeesport and Homestead. This is Mr. Keller's first visit in Pittsburgh since the opening of the latest McCulloch store, in the Clark Building, a month ago.

"It is very gratifying to sense a healthy business condition in every city where our stores are located," said Mr. Keller. "I learn, too, that everywhere the business trend is upward. It is our plan to add a number of additional links to the McCulloch chain in Western Pennsylvania, leases for which stores have already been signed."

TECH "CAMPUS WEEK" PLAY OPENS THURSDAY

Nine students of the drama school of Carnegie Institute of Technology form the cast of "Wedding Bells," by Callsbury Field, the campus week play opening at the Gayety Theater Thursday for four engagements, with a matinee Saturday. Irene Tedrow and Carleton Young play the leads. William McDermott, Arthur Sprenkle, Thomas Lewis, Frank Sullivan, Florence Wakefield, Margaret Werts and Ruth Aston are other members of the cast. Marjorie Bartholomew and Ellen Michie, drama school students, are producers of the play under the direction of Chester M. Wallace.

The public sale of seats started yesterday at the box office of the Gayety Theater. The performance Friday night is chiefly for students, but the public may attend.

Pittsburgh's Progress Built RICHMAN'S Big Business

We have bought the lease of The Sterling Shoe Corporation at 225 Fifth Avenue, next door to our store. We need the additional space so badly that we cannot take time now to make extensive alterations in the building. But we have added the twenty feet of frontage to our display window---we have cut entrances through the walls on the first and second floors leading into the adjoining store rooms, and have built several hundred feet of cabinets for the display of more Richman's Clothes. Without the loss of a single business day, or inconvenience to our customers or sales force, we will be ready to sell goods in our enlarged store next Saturday---ready with greatly increased stocks of new style models and fabrics---ready to give our friends greatly improved service.

RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

A photograph of the Richman store showing the Sterling Shoe store, next door, which has been added to our space so that we may give Pittsburgh true Richman service.

¶ We thank our Pittsburgh friends, whose patronage has made this expansion necessary, for their helpful encouragement—we thank the newspapers of Pittsburgh, whose rapidly increasing circulation and splendid cooperation help to make Richman's Clothes more widely known.

¶ Our success is largely due to the growth and progress of Pittsburgh as one of the world's greatest industrial centers. We only need to keep pace with this city to insure the continued growth of our Pittsburgh store which now does one of the largest exclusive clothing businesses in this country. Sales have increased each year until lately our store has frequently been so crowded that we could not give proper service—so we were compelled to buy the lease of our good neighbors.

¶ Of course our business could not have been so tremendously successful except for the fact that the basic principles of the entire Richman business are sound.

¶ First of all, Richman's Clothes must be 100% right—each garment must meet our rigid quality standards in style, materials and workmanship or it never leaves our factory. And you can buy standard quality Richman's Clothes only in a Richman store, or from a Richman factory sales agent, or direct from the factory by mail. We make these clothes in our own factories—we sell them direct to you without a middleman's profit, and with the definite understanding that every garment must please you in style and fit, and give satisfying service or we will refund your money.

¶ For the past 49 years we have produced the best clothes we knew how to make—we have devoted all our time, energy and capital to this business—it has been our very lives. To perpetuate the business—to make the name Richman live for generations after the founders have gone, we evolved a plan for making stockholders of all the men and women connected with our company—operators, designers, managers and salesmen are all financially interested in making you a satisfied Richman customer.

¶ Practically unlimited capital is at our command to meet the needs of our business—to make favorable purchases of materials, or to scrap old machinery and replace it with new devices for improving our product. These are some of the exclusive advantages that make it possible for this institution to give you so much quality for $22.50.

RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

The sale of a suit of clothes is of paramount importance to us—it's our business. But the profit on the sale is in itself insignificant—it's your continued patronage and your recommendation that we prize. We must continue to add to the good will half a century has earned for us—for this is a priceless asset which is not for sale.

Our store now has the largest and finest assortment we have ever displayed—it will afford us much pleasure to show you the greatest clothes value this country has ever produced—the finest quality ever offered for the money.

COOLIDGES YIELD TO CIRCUS LURE

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP.)—Lured by descriptions of a four-ton sea elephant, President Coolidge accompanied Mrs. Coolidge yesterday to a performance here of Barnum and Bailey, Ringling Brothers' circus.

Met by rounds of applause, Mr. Coolidge sat through the greater part of the show with obvious amusement, appointments calling him back to the White House.

Mrs. Coolidge remained, however, with Frank W. Stearns of Boston and Dr. and Mrs. Joel T. Boone, next to whose little daughter, Suzanne, she sat and with whom she kept up an animated conversation.

Physicians Advise Hemo-Liver for Thin-Blooded People Who Need More Vigor

Full of the Newly Discovered Substances Extracted From Liver Which Create Rich Blood and Strengthen Vital Forces of Men and Women.

The name of the new product that is doing so much for weak, anemic people is Hemo-Liver and it can now be obtained from any druggist who keeps abreast of the times, with the distinct understanding that if one bottle doesn't improve your health wonderfully—the purchase price will be returned.

A big 12-ounce bottle of Hemo-Liver lasts eight days and one tablespoonful is a dose and as one Doctor remarked, "You'll have to eat a lot of liver before you get as much of the red blood making, vigor creating elements as you get in one tablespoonful of Hemo-Liver."

"Men and women who are suffering from lowered vitality, general weakness, overwork, nervous breakdown or anemia, can put their faith in Hemo-Liver. For feeble old people, girls 12 to 18 and in convalescence it won't fail. It strengthens the nerves, increases the red blood cells, promotes health and rebuilds weakened vital forces of both men and women so quickly that often physicians are astonished."

As a spring tonic it surpasses old-time remedies.

You can get Hemo-Liver at May's Drug Stores or any good druggist.

TRADE LEADERS HERE FROM GERMANY

Pittsburgh is host today to 10 German industrial leaders who are making their fifth annual tour of American cities. Headed by Christian Fopp, a cotton merchant, they arrived at the William Penn Hotel last night. They will visit the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at East Pittsburgh and the H. J. Heinz plant on the North Side, today. Tonight the delegation will leave for Chicago and Detroit.

All the visitors are prominent businessmen of Leipzig and Essen and represent all the leading industries of Germany.

Those in the party are Paul Kahle, cotton merchant; Antonius Kufferath, metal cloth weaver; Rudolf Mann, exporter of bulbs; Dr. J. S. Schacht, secretary of the Essen Chamber of Commerce; Adam E. Stuckrath, publisher; Walter Tengelmann, coal mine operator, and Carl Twardocus, manufacturer of phonographs.

H. R. Capehart, who was staff interperter on the United States Commission to Negotiate Peace, is conducting the party.

Raising her child on common sense

HERE'S a baby that is being brought up in the way he should go, on a plain, sensible kind of rule. His mother learned it from her own experience before he was born. "Just keep your system in good working order", her doctor told her, "and you'll never have anything to worry about."

So, of course, when the baby came she made up her mind to follow that same plan with him. The doctor gave his hearty approval. "Go ahead and use Nujol", he said. "It's just the thing for the baby. Harmless. Safe. Contains no drugs or medicine. It's the most natural way in the world to keep everything normal. For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal.

Let me give you another suggestion, too. Use Nujol on the outside of the baby. In place of powder. Just swab his skin, after the bath, with a bit of cotton moistened with Nujol. That's the new method they're using in the big hospitals. It has a wonderfully soothing, softening effect on the skin. There's no need for any baby to have rashes and chafing if you use Nujol. Get a big bottle and keep it specially for the baby. Get a separate bottle for yourself."

Why don't you try Nujol in your household? It was perfected by Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey.)

Nujol can't do anyone—baby or grown-up—the least bit of harm. And so many people have found it beneficial. Be sure you get the genuine.

"Just the thing," said Doctor

2 KILLED IN AIR CRASH

FALL LEAVING FLA. SHRINE CONVENTION

International News Service.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 2.—Thomas Clair Lochrie, 26, and a pilot were killed early today when their airplane crashed in Florida while en route to Fort Pierce from Miami, where they attended the Shriners' convention, according to a telegram received by Lochrie's father, John Lochrie, coal operator of Windber, near here.

The telegram declared the pilot, whose name was not given, was killed instantly, while young Lochrie died later in a hospital without regaining consciousness.

TOT FALLS INTO POOL AT WEST NEWTON; DROWNS

WEST NEWTON, Pa., May 2.—Joseph McMillen, 6, fell into a pool formed by flood waters of a creek, and was drowned near his home.

PENNINGTON FREE OF CONTEMPT

Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington today in Federal Court purged himself of contempt of court by telling Judge R. M. Gibson, through counsel, that the liquor permit of Peter G. Walter, druggist, 626 Chestnut street, would be restored, pending the government's appeal to the Circuit Court.

The administrator had been called into court to show cause why the permit had not been restored to Walter in compliance to an opinion and order of court on March 26. On April 11, the same day he was cited to show why he and Commissioner of Prohibition James M. Doran should not be in contempt, the federal district attorney filed an appeal with the Circuit Court.

Assistant District Attorney Ralph H. Smith told the court this morning that restoration of the permit was held up on the advice of the district attorney's office, which was of the opinion that the appeal acted as a supercedas. The court ruled otherwise.

FIGHT PATRON ASKS $10,000

W. S. Bogier today filed a statement of claim in his suit for $10,000 damage against Motor Square Amusement Company.

He alleges that while attending the Zivic-Doyle bout in Motor Square Garden in November, 1925, the seats collapsed and in the stampede which followed he suffered several broken ribs and injuries to his back.

SCHOOLS AID AT BRIDGE OPENING

School children from Carnegie and Glendale participated in the exercises attending the opening of the new Third Street Bridge, connecting Carnegie and Scott township today. The span cost $150,000. County Engineer V. R. Covell was the speaker. Rose Nuthrown, 13, severed the ribbon barrier and the Rev. Michael Muszyuski, of Glendale, drove the first auto across the bridge.

ASSURE MORE FUNDS FOR RIVER PROJECT

Plans for the improvement of Pittsburgh's water front and for a study of flood control will continue to go forward. Members of Council yesterday assured a flood commission committee consisted of George S. Davidson, William T. Mossman and Wilmer M. Jacoby that an additional $50,000 appropriation for the work would be made.

HORNE CHORUS SCORES IN CONCERT

An excellent concert was given last night by the Joseph Horne Company Chorus in Carnegie Music Hall, the nearly 100 members of this organization, composed of rare musical talent, making a profound impression.

The Joseph Horne Company Chorus is not an experiment, but a well rounded musical company of men and women, picked from among the employes of the establishment in which they are employed, with some of them among the city's outstanding singers.

W. A. Macdonald, the conductor, presented a program of most pleasing variety, the manner in which the concert was presented plainly showing that the participants are imbued with a thorough musical understanding.

It was inspiring to see Albert A. Horne, the oldest employe of the Horne store—a man who has seen 61 years of service—take his place on the stage. He received hearty applause every time he made his appearance and sang with all the earnestness of the youngest, although past 80, hale and hearty—the dean of the establishment.

The concert opened with a short organ recital by Harvey Gaul, beginning with the prelude to the Meistersinger by Wagner, and ending with one of his own compositions, "Easter Morning With the Pennsylvania Moravians," a new score.

The opening offering by the chorus with Ellen Wolfe at the piano was Donizetti's "Oh, Italia, Italia, Beloved," the chorus being accorded hearty applause by the large audience. It was followed by two selections by Miss Mary Zeigler Quinn, who sang Gaynor's "The Japanese Maiden" and Rogers' "The Star."

The chorus was particularly good in Negro spirituals.

One of the outstanding numbers was the singing of "Sylvia," by a quartet composed of Elizabeth Westgate, soprano; Miss Ziegler, contralto; Roy Hodgdon, tenor; and Max Kroen, baritone.

Miss Josephine Stewart, soprano, sang "Into the Dawn" and Miss Westgate's "By the Bend of the River." Russell Mitchell, Jr., was particularly effective in his singing of "Invictus," which was given a most dramatic rendition. Max Kroen contributed the prologue to Pagliacci, and "Tributes." The concluding offering was Gence's "Fine dell' Opera" with Miss Westgate singing the soprano obligato, bringing the concert to a very interesting climax.

Camp Horne will be the beneficiary from the proceeds of the concert.

STORM DELAYS NOBILE POLE FLIGHT

ITALIAN BLIMP HELD OVER IN GERMANY

STOLP, Germany, May 2—(INS.)—Reports of a raging storm of cyclonic proportions over Northern Norway and Spitzbergen caused a last moment postponement today of the scheduled departure of the dirigible Italia on the second leg of its polar flight.

Gen. Umberto Nobile announced the postponement after carefully scanning the weather reports today. All preparations had been made for the huge airship's flight when the postponement was announced.

It was thought probable here that the dirigible would be able to leave early tomorrow. The Italia is bound for King's Bay, Spitzbergen, with a short intermediate stop at Vadsoe, Norway, for refuelling.

REACH EIGHTH WARD IN PRIMARY RECOUNT

The Eighth Ward, city, was reached Tuesday by the return board canvassing the vote cast at last primary election. When the board quit for the day the Twenty-first District, Eighth Ward, had been tabulated. The board completed the Second District, Second Ward, Coraopolis, also.

In the city bond election, the special recount board tabulating this vote Tuesday completed the Seventeenth Ward. The official recount showed the vote in favor of the bond issue running a little less than 4 to 1.

CONGRESSMAN DIES IN PLANE CRASH

WHITNEY POINT, N. Y., May 2—(AP.)—Thaddeus C. Sweet, member of Congress from the Thirty-fourth New York district and one of the outstanding figures in the state's Republican party councils, was killed in an airplane crash here yesterday.

Representative Sweet was flying from Bolling Field, Washington, to Ft. Ontario, the army post near Oswego, in which city he was to participate in the ceremonies attending the opening of a new power plant. The plane, piloted by Lieut. Bushrod Hoppin, left Washington at 10:20 a. m. As it neared Whitney Point about 3 o'clock daylight time, bad weather was encountered and Lieut. Hoppin decided that it was advisable to land and await better flying conditions.

"I saw what I believed to be a good landing field," Lieut. Hoppin said, "and brought the plane to the ground. A few seconds after the wheels touched the ground, we hit a bump and turned over.

'Congressman Sweet, who was in the front of the car, was thrown forward when the crash came, the weight of the plane landing on him."

Mr. Sweet lived for a short time after the crash, but died before the arrival of medical assistance.

WED 50 YEARS, COUPLE AT GREENVILLE CELEBRATES

GREENVILLE, Pa., May 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Julius F. Turner celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary yesterday.

Forges Parole Officers' Name on Check

ERIE, Pa., May 2.—Paroled several days ago on charges of forgery, Robert Wyland, 19, of this city, was again in custody last night on the same charge. This time charges were preferred by Richard Dundon, parole officer, who charges Wyland forged his name to a $10 check.

FUEL GAS FIELD AGENT DIES AFTER OPERATION

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 2.—(AP.)—Lewis O. Smith, 47, general field agent for the United Fuel Gas Company, died in a Charleston Hospital last night following an operation. His family lives in Fairmont. He was formerly engaged in the lumber business in Clarksburg.

SHRINE ELECTS AT MIAMI

International News Service.

MIAMI, Fla., May 2.—Judge Clyde I. Webster, of Moslem Temple, Detroit, was elected imperial outer guard today in the only contested election at the annual convention of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Frank C. Jones, of Arabian Temple, Houston, Tex., automatically became imperial potentate, succeeding Clarence Dunbar, of Providence, who served during the ensuing year.

COLLEGE SELF GOVT. WOMEN MEET HERE

The Intercollegiate Conference of Woman's Self-Government Associations throughout the country will open tomorrow at 11:30 o'clock in the Heinz House of the University of Pittsburgh, with a luncheon for visiting delegates. Dr. Florence Teagarden, faculty adviser of Women's Self-Government Associations at Pitt, will greet the visitors, and Miss Thyrsa W. Amos, dean of women, will speak on "The Place of Student Government in College Life."

The afternoon session will begin at 1:30 with a discussion of "The Responsibility of Women's Student Government Association in Building Up Tradition." The University of Pittsburgh will lead the discussion with Dorothy Davis in charge.

Other round table discussions of the afternoon session will include: "Fundamental Principles in the Building of Adequate By-Laws for Women's Student Government Associations." Dickinson College will lead, with Mabel De Forest as group hostess; "What Should be the Scope of the Work of the Judicial Body of Student Government?" Pennsylvania College for Women will lead, with Dorothy Koch as group hostess; "What Should be the Relationship Between the W. S. G. A. and the Men's Student Government Association?" Pennsylvania State College will lead, with Mary Reeser as group hostess.

At 7 o'clock in the evening a formal banquet will be held and round table discussions will be resumed on Friday morning. A mass meeting of all university women under the auspices of the women "Council on Efficient Living" will mark the culmination of the two-day conference.

HEARING for the Deaf

The two eminent German scientists, Dr. Helmut Sell and Dr. K. W. Hausser have succeeded in producing a new form of pocket instrument for the purpose of stimulating Lost or Failing Hearing. The exhaustive study and experimentation has taken place in the great laboratories of Siemens & Halske, of Berlin, the world's foremost manufacturers of electro-medical and electro acoustic apparatus. The perfection of this new device has immeasurably broadened the possibilities of the deafened to hear.

Sufferers may acquaint themselves with the happiness these instruments called Duotones can bring by applying to

More Attractive After She Gained Needed Weight

Is your face drawn and pinched? Your skin flabby? Are your cheeks sunken with great hollows under the eyes? Does your figure show unbecoming angles instead of the softly rounded slimness of youth?

All these conditions rob you of attractiveness and make you look old. But worst of all, these may actually be the symptoms of simple anaemia—that dread ailment so often suffered by women.

There's nothing so good as McCoy's Tablets to put on firm flesh, round out face and figure and help build rich, red blood.

So if you need a few pounds of flesh to round out the hollows, if you want to get back old-time energy and health, get a box of McCoy's Tablets today. Just a short treatment will make you look and feel like a new person.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes, any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at May's Drug Stores or any drug store in America.

7 MORE GROUPS INDORSE U. S. PENSION BILL

Additional local organizations have adopted resolutions indorsing the Lehlbach bill, covering civil service retirements, now pending in Congress. The measure provides optional retirement for civil service employes after 30 years service when the age of 60 years is attained, on maximum annuities of $1,200. A disability and annuity fund would be financed under the plan by salary deductions of 3½ per cent. The recent indorsers:

Engineers' Union Local N. 905, Tile Layers' Helpers Local No. 20, United Workmen of America Local No. 86, Smoky City Lodge No. 154 of the International Brotherhood of Boiler Makers, Iron Ship Builders and Helpers of America, Loyal Orange Lodge No. 21 and Fort Pitt Lodge No. 1 Fraternal Order of Police.

COURT ANNULS HOME TRANSFER

Judge Elder W. Marshall, in an opinion yesterday, nullified the transfer of property in Carrick last fall by Frederick Law, 79, to Mrs. Augusta E. Smith, 38, mother of six children, on the ground that the aged man had been tricked into conveying the property.

Law, a widower, was induced by Mrs. Smith, a divorcee to deed the property to her, it was averred, in retrun for "adopting" him and caring for him. He lived at the home of Mrs. Smith for some time, it was disclosed, but later left following a quarrel.

"laziness" often the first sign of cachexia (run-down condition)

When work becomes a bore and you face each hour with despair, it's often due not so much to the work as to your own impaired physical condition.

Sufferers from cachexia, conscious of their vanishing strength and vigor, should eat yeast . . . for this simple food has restored millions of ailing men and women to robust health.

The best yeast for eating is Yeast Foam Tablets. This yeast is pure, it comes in convenient pellets; it keeps; it is palatable and it doesn't ferment nor cause gas. Only 5c for the handy packet or 50c for the large 10-day bottle.

Eat Yeast Foam Tablets for cachexia (run-down condition). Loss of appetite. Indigestion. Constipation. Boils—Pimples.

COURT DECIDES IN FAVOR OF CHAIN STORES

BALTIMORE, Md., May 2.—The chain store method of merchandising won an important decision when Judge Albert A. Daub in the Circuit Court of Allegany County, Md., granted a permanent injunction restraining the enforcement of Chapter 554 of the acts of the General Assembly of Maryland as being repugnant to the Constitution.

The act as passed prohibited the operation of more than five stores and imposed an annual tax of $500 on all chain stores up to five stores.

In declaring the act unconstitutional Judge Daub said in part:

"It is not shown why the interest of the public, as distinguished from a particular class, requires that chain stores be regulated. The jobber and wholesaler may be interested in some form of regulation or elimination of competition, but the evidence does not show that the public have been damaged by chain stores or their methods of operation. And even if the welfare of the public demanded some form of regulation this act wholly fails to provide any regulation at all. It is an act to check and destroy, to eliminate competition in foodstuffs rather than to promote competition in the interest of the general public, the consumers.

MAN SHOT BY SON: CONDITION SERIOUS

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 1.—John Molnar, 50, Poland Center farmer, shot in the abdomen by his son, James, 22, following an alleged attack Sunday on the youth's mother, was reported near death last night. The youth is being held in county jail here pending the outcome of the elder Molnar's injuries.

Intestinal Stasis

Thousands of tired, weak, ailing people are victims of this dread condition—and don't realize it

TIRE easily? Sleep poorly? Get nagging headaches and "blues"? Complexion bad? Often constipated?

Know what's wrong? Nothing organic, as a rule. These ailments are common warnings of a dangerous hidden condition—intestinal stasis. Your intestines are sluggish, clogged with waste material. Poisons are forming and spreading through the body—attacking your heart, kidneys, stomach, liver, brain—wrecking your health, cutting years off your life.

Nature's Own Treatment

Zilatone is Nature's own way of correcting intestinal stasis. Not a habit-forming drug or mere laxative. But a complete scientific treatment—gets at real cause of trouble. By stimulating a natural flow of bile and other digestive juices, it rouses lazy intestines—sweeps away poisons. Also purifies blood. Benefits whole system. You soon feel healthier all around, stronger, livelier than ever before.

Zilatone already used by thousands with remarkable benefits. Ask your druggist about it. Costs only 60¢ and guaranteed to satisfy or money back.

Zilatone is recommended and sold in this city by all the May Drug Stores and other live druggists.

DANGER

Your tongue is the best barometer of your physical condition. Look at it every morning before breakfast. If it is coated with white, yellow or brown coloring, and does not have a clean red appearance you are constipated and not well.

Heed Its Warning

Constipation causes more ailments than all other diseases, and is the result of not having a daily bowel movement. Sick-headache, indigestion, biliousness and sallow complexion follow. Ask your druggist for a 25c red paper package of CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS "Safe Laxative". Take a dose to-night and continue one pill after each meal. Don't stop—until your tongue is clean. You will be surprised at the tonic effect this doctor's formula will have on you.

A TONIC FOR Weak Lungs

Ex-Service Man Recommends M. G. Treatment for Deep-Seated Coughs

Hundreds of men and women testify that they have been greatly benefited by M. G. Treatment for run-down conditions due to racking, painful coughs. Physicians of high standing prescribe and recommend it as a strength-building tonic for patients who are suffering with deep-seated coughs. Here is one of many similar letters from a man who has taken this treatment.

M. G. Remedy Co. Feb. 5, 1928.
Denver, Colo.

Gentlemen: I am a tubercular ex-service man, having spent approximately six years in different Government Sanatoriums. Since my discharge from Government Hospital No. 50, Whipple Barracks, Arizona, I have been continually losing weight, have suffered loss of appetite and have been troubled with chronic constipation, and did not sleep well at night. After having taken only three bottles of your Tonic, I have gained three pounds in weight, have a wonderful improvement in appetite, and sleep much better at night.

I can cheerfully recommend your Tonic to anyone in my former condition and feel sure that anyone who will give your Tonic a trial will feel grateful to you for the good results he will experience. Hoping that your tonic may become more widely known, I am,

Yours truly,
Roy L. Edwards, Detective Division,
Police Department, Denver, Colo.

M. G. Remedy is sold and recommended as a system building and disease resisting tonic for the blood. It is guaranteed to satisfy and it costs only $3 per 16-oz. bottle; two bottles for $5.50; or a complete treatment of four 16-oz. bottles for $10 prepaid. Order direct or send for free book. M. G. Remedy Co., P. O. Box 421, Dept. P, Denver, Colo.

PLANE EXPRESS BRINGS FRUIT DAY OLD

California oranges may be eaten in Pittsburgh the day after they are picked on the west coast. The first shipment to arrive here at such speed was part of the inaugural cargo of air express landed at Bettis Field, McKeesport, yesterday. It was shipped at San Francisco yesterday 28 hours before its arrival here.

Likewise the products of a score of Pittsburgh merchants placed on the first westbound air express are being delivered today to west coast consumers.

The new air express line was officially started yesterday in the presence of a great crowd. Half an hour before he was expected, Pilot D. L. Noyes, who flew from Cleveland in one hour flat, dropped to a landing at the field with the first eastbound consignment, handled by the Clifford Ball Air Line for the American Railways Express Company.

Mrs. Charles H. Kline and Mrs. E. V. Babcock each of whom received new spring wraps via air express, were honored by being the first persons to have goods delivered through the modern speedy system. The merchandise was bought through McCreery & Company and was brought from Cleveland. Arthur Kaufmann, vice-president of McCreery & Company, received the goods and Mayor Kline was on hand to receive Mrs. Kline's package.

In the initial trip were also consignments to the Joseph Horne Company, Boggs & Buhl's, Kaufmann's, Rosenbaum's, the Iron City Products Company, Truby's, New Kensington, and J. W Johnson, city manager of the American Railway Express.

On its return trip the plane carried a full cargo, 50 Pittsburgh firms and individuals contributing to the first day's shipment. At Cleveland connection is made with the trans-continental route.

Preceding the arrival of the plane a luncheon was held at the William Penn Hotel in honor of Clifford Ball, pioneer of commercial aviation in Pittsburgh. Addresses were made by Mayor Kline, James F. Malone, council president, T. A. Dunn, vice president of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, and F. J. Chesterman, vice president of the Bell Telephone Company. Others at the luncheon were prominent officials of the American Railway Express Company and the local railroad lines.

SPEAR HONORED ON FIRM'S 35TH ANNIVERSARY

Celebrating the thirty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Spear & Co., yesterday, about 50 customers of 20 years or more standing tendered a surprise party in honor of Nathaniel Spear, president of the company. These old customers, some of them with their wives and families, came from all parts of the country to felicitate the founder and present an artistic testimonial in honor of the event. Included among the visitors were four generations of one family whose dealings with Spear & Co., cover a period of more than 25 years.

The guests assembled on the balcony adjoining the executive offices in the Penn avenue store and were entertained by an orchestra until Mr. Spear's arrival. The store executive was met by the enthusiastic group as he made his way to his private office and in an impromptu address, he expressed heartfelt gratitude at the tribute. At the conclusion of his address, Martha Wilson Shaw, 8, daughter of one of the old customers, presented a huge boquet of flowers, following which Mr. Spear escorted his guests through the various departments of the big Penn avenue furniture house.

Luncheon was served at the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and speakers outlined the growth of Spear & Co., from a little one-room store in Wood street in 1893 to the present organization, one of the 100 largest corporations in the United States. In addition to the mail order division Spear & Co., operates retail stores in Pittsburgh, New York and Brooklyn.

A huge birthday cake was provided for the luncheon and Mr. Spear officiated at cutting and distributing it among his guests. The first piece was presented to John Galvin of Homestead, who attended the celebration as the head of a family of four generations.

Among the customers who attended the celebration were:

Mrs. S. E. Baker and Miss Mabel Baker, Four Springs, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Rupert, Vandergrift Edward Jonathan, Miss Louise Jonathan, Sanborn, N. Y.; Mrs. James Teller, Canastota, N. Y.; Mrs. L. J. Brown, Peterboro, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Patterson of Lakewood, N. J., and sons, Urban and Norris, 6 and 3; Mr. and Mrs. John Perego, Marion, O.; Mrs. R. H. Taylor and sons, Brentwood, L. I., and sons, Robert, 11, and Everett, 8; Mr. and Mrs. George J. Sires and daughters, Elizabeth Esther, 16, and Melvina Gertrude, 12, Frostburg, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Ad Lendon and Ruth, St. Clairsville, O.; Mrs. George Tyson, Miss Emma Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tyson, Johnstown, Pa.; W. I. Shaffer and Norma and Martha, Johnstown, Pa.; John Galvin, Homestead; Mrs. Anna Carns, Mrs. Minerva Lapsley, Mrs. Mary E. Wolfe, Miss Ethel Wolfe, and Mrs. Jennie Steiner.

A tour of the city occupied the visitors' time in the afternoon, following which a dinner was held in the Fort Pitt Hotel at which Nathaniel Spear, Jr., delivered the principal address.

Mayor in 3 Roles, Defendant, Judge, Prosecutor

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., May 2.—Mayor W. F. Hurst of this city was defendant, prosecutor and judge yesterday at a hearing in his court chambers. The chief executive parked too long Sunday in a restricted zone and a tag resulted. He fined himself $2 and costs.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Lull in Activities Following Easter Welcomed as Pittsburgh "400" Turns to Varied Program

VARIETY is the spice of life, generation after generation has found. And if there is no other way of introducing variety, folks have a tendency to play hard or work hard for a period at one thing, then drop it for a while, and later return to the same activity, which then has again all the allurements of the unusual.

Society folks, just like every one else, seem to feel the need for varying their lives. Perhaps this need accounts for the year-round succession of a period of much social gaiety by a period of little entertainment. And just now we seem to be having a bit of a lull. After all the events that have been crammed into the weeks ever since Easter arrived, it's really no wonder, is it?

With the exception of a few benefits, which are, by the way, going to be very large events, the members of the "four hundred" are entertaining themselves at concerts and theaters.

There is never a time, though, when someone isn't planning for some event. Many of the younger set who have announced late May or June wedding dates are completing arrangements for their weddings.

Among these weddings will be that of Virginia Clifford, daughter of John McElroy Clifford, who has, you will recall, named May 19 for her marriage to John Dalzell II, son of the William Sage Dalzells.

The ceremony will be performed in the Edgewood Presbyterian Church that afternoon at 5:30 o'clock with the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Lloyd, as officiant.

Virginia has decided that she will have no attendants. And her brother, Allan G. Clifford, will be best man.

Another prospective bride who has begun to plan for her wedding ceremony is Katherine Modisette Marsh, daughter of the Joseph W. Marshes, of Woodland road. Katherine, you know, has named June 16 as the day for her marriage to William Clarke Fuellhart, son of the William O. Fuellharts, of Endeavor.

She and her sister, Mrs. E. F. W. Salisbury, the former Sarah Elizabeth Marsh, have gone East for about 10 days. They will spend quite a bit of that time in New York, of course. They went East, however, primarily to attend a reunion of the alumnae of the Masters School at Dobbs Ferry, New York.

After going to the Masters School Katherine went to Wellesley, of which she is a graduate just recently, you know.

Pittsburgh and Sewickley society folks have a co-operative spirit you've probably realized. They usually help out at each other's benefit affairs. At the much talked of country fair the Sewickley Child Health Association will hold on Friday night at the Edgeworth Club, several Pittsburgh women and girls will serve as aides.

Eleanor McCargo, one of the younger set always seen at society benefits, will entertain with a tap dance during the evening's entertainment, I hear.

Eleanor will also be one of the country dancing chorus. Mrs. Frederick Gwinner III, Marjorie Kimball, Mrs. Ira Fitch Brainard, and Mrs. William Harry Brown, Jr., are other Pittsburgh young women who will sing in the chorus. Lillian Rose will be the leader. Martha Brooks and Katherine Porter will represent Sewickley in this group.

Most of the members of the chorus danced at the Charity Ball, don't you remember?

Chester Shepard, of Pittsburgh, will lead the amateurs' orchestra, to be made up of Sewickley men, and Alexander Hayes, of Sewickley, will sing some "black face" songs.

Quite often we hear from former Pittsburgh folks who have married and gone to live in another city. Among these are the Richard G. Crofts, who have been living in Greenwich, Conn., since their marriage. They entertained a party Saturday at the Round Hill Club at a Yale night celebration.

Richard Croft is the son of the Harry W. Crofts of the Schenley apartments.

The engagement of a former Pittsburgh man has just been announced in California, I hear. It is that of Henrietta Z. Heddeus, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Heddeus, of Pasadena, and Kennedy Hamill, formerly of Pittsburgh, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel McClintock Hamill, of Spence street, Philadelphia.

Miss Heddeus is a Dobbs Ferry girl and a member of the Junior League. Mr. Hamill was graduated from Yale in 1920 and then came here to Pittsburgh to live for several years. He is now in Los Angeles. An early wedding is planned.

Mrs. L. Steiner, of Woodlawn avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Sylvia Steiner, to Lewis Abrams, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Abrams, of Hazelwood avenue.

Mrs. Martha P. Moreland, of North Craig street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lillian Irene Moreland, and Charles B. Beitler, which was solemnized Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Moreland home by the Rev. Dr. William J. Reid, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Beitler are sailing today for Florida, where they will make their home.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Margaret Kathryn Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stuart, of Ocean avenue, Dormont, to James R. Raymond, of Pittsburgh. No wedding date has been set.

Mrs. Myrtle Hollar is chairman for the union meeting to be held Friday at noon in Kaufmann's auditorium under the auspices of Protectors' Assembly No. 1, Dames of Malta. The afternoon meeting will be followed by a dinner, with dancing and cards in the evening. Mrs. Jennie Reed, of New Bedford, Mass., sovereign protector of the order, will be a guest. Mrs. A. Huber is in charge of prizes; Mrs. C. Sheldon, favors; Mrs. L. M. Conn, tickets; Mrs. H. Reichert, pages; Mrs. L. Foxhall, banquet; Mrs. N. Phillips, entertainment; Mrs. E. Simmons, special committee; Mrs. C. Hall, reception, and Mrs. D. Shupe, publicity. Mrs. Cleona Hall is president of the assembly.

Mrs. Sylvia Martin Brigges is chairman of bridge for the card party to be held Saturday afternoon in Oppenheim-Collins' auditorium by Court Allegheny, Catholic Daughters of America. Euchre and "500" will also be played.

Kappa Chapter, Theta Phi Alpha fraternity, University of Pittsburgh, will hold its annual founders' day dinner and dance tonight in the Pittsburgh Country Club, with Miss Catherine Ross as toastmistress. The speakers will be Miss Ellen Geyer, faculty member; Miss Gladys Donahue, president of the alumnae chapter; Miss Kathryn Till, president of the active chapter, and Miss Alice Kelley, past pledge president. The scholarship award will be presented to the member having the highest scholastic average. Miss Kathleen Kelly, alumnae chapter, and Miss Virginia Strain, active chairman, are in charge. The dance following the dinner will be given in honor of the newly initiated members.

The Curtis Home Auxiliary of the Outlook Alliance will give a benefit entertainment for the home at Utility Hall, Philadelphia Company building, on Friday evening. The Duquesne Light Company players will give the play, "Quarantined," Miss H. Kloman Schmidt and Miss Margaret Porch will read, and Mr. H. A. Beiswenger will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Stewart Blackmore. There also will be a sale of home-made candy by Mrs. Helen Hall and her committee. Mrs. J. C. T. Michael is chairman of tickets. The proceeds of the affair will be used for redecorating the sleeping porch of the Curtis Home for Girls, located on Western avenue.

Mrs. H. D. Stark is president of the Outlook Alliance, and the auxiliary includes Mrs. W. A. Thompson, chairman; Mrs. J. R. Mayhugh, Mrs. Edward Hageman, Mrs. E. B. Heyser, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. Clara Kemler, Mrs. E. A. Kind, Mrs. J. T. C. Michael, Mrs. W. J. Orth, Mrs. John C. Park, Mrs. Harry Reese, Mrs. Leroy Richards, Mrs. D. C. Swander, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Marion F. Smith, and Mrs. Anna Smith.

Mrs. Thomas Fleming, Jr., who has been elected to the presidency of the Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church, will preside at the meeting to be held tomorrow in Trinity House. Mrs. Fleming was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Karl Emmerling. The women will present their fifth ingathering of the united thank offering at the service which will precede the meeting and at which there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion.

Mrs. Robert K. Cochrane was chosen president of the Health Colony at its annual meeting in the Congress clubhouse yesterday. Mrs. T. S. Loring, Mrs. A. I. Bowers and Mrs. M. L. Aumiller are the new vice presidents; Mrs. John Konle is recording secretary; Mrs. E. D. Harshberger, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. David Stuhlfire, treasurer. The new directors are Mrs. A. G. H. Frazier, Mrs. J. W. Briggs, Mrs. J. J. Callahan and Mrs. A. J. Kelly, the retiring president.

Recent gifts made by the club include a set of flat silver and an electric percolator to the Cresson Sanatorium and $100 to Torrance House, the home of the Progressive Blind Women's Club. The program at yesterday's meeting, which was under the direction of Mrs. Harshbarger, consisted of soprano solos by Mrs. Elsie Johns Wright, duets by Mrs. J. H. Johns and Mrs. Wright, and readings by the Mrs. Harshbarger.

Miss Grace Stoakes, of Juvenile Court, will address the Women's Community Association of the Twenty-seventh Ward at the meeting next Monday afternoon and the children's chorus from the John Morrow school will complete the program. The association is sponsoring a benefit bridge luncheon in the Food Craft Shop on May 9, the proceeds to be used towards the purchase of a motion picture machine for the Woods Run Settlement House.

The Kaednege Society will meet tomorrow at 10 o'clock in the East Liberty Presbyterian Church. Lunch will be served at 12:30 by the following committee: Mrs. George Nixon, Mrs. O. J. Haller, Mrs. W. E. C. Orr, Mrs. George F. Osler, Mrs. W. P. Shipman, Mrs. T. A. Kimes, Mrs. A. B. Robinson, Mrs. W. A. Clark and Mrs. E. A. Hall. During the afternoon Mrs. Charles B. AN EXPERIENCE OF OVER HALF-A-CENTURY IN THE CARE OF FURS
THERE is ever so much more to the care of Furs during the summer months than mere Vaults! True it is, that in the modern vault, such as Grabowsky's, your furs are safe from fire, moisture and theft. There is, moreover, no danger of moths, as none could live in the cold temperature maintained.
Yet, there is more . . . . far more . . . . to the fur-storage question. Furs require a certain care . . . . a definite, precise care . . . . in summer! A care such as only the experienced furrier can give.
Grabowsky fur-experience dates back to the founding of this business, in 1875. When furs are entrusted to this store for safe-keeping, you can depend on over a half-century of experience in their care.
This experienced-protection costs no more than the ordinary vault-storage . . . . charges being three (3%) per cent of the valuation. Minimum charges are $3.00 for Fur Coats, and $1.50 for Fur Scarfs

GEN. COXEY WINS POINT AT LAST

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP.)—On the thirty-fourth anniversary of his ejection from the steps of the Capitol after leading an army of unemployed to Washington, "General" Jacob S. Coxey, of Massillon, O., scored a victory yesterday in Congress.

A measure sponsored by him to provide that states and their political subdivisions issue 25-year non-interest bonds for public improvements up to one-half the value of their assessed real estate was approved by a House Banking Subcommittee and referred to the full committee.

The bill was introduced at Coxey's request by Representative Guy Campbell (Rep.), of Pennsylvania.

UNHAPPY PAIRS SEEK RELIEF IN DIVORCE

Claiming that she discovered her husband had another wife living, from whom he had not been divorced, Mrs. Anna M. McAtee, 135 South Bryan street, Bellevue, brought suit for divorce against William F. McAtee, 5650 Avondale street.

Claiming to have been deserted after 27 years of married life, Theresa D. Heck, 208 Brownsville road, brought suit for divorce from Ross E. Heck, 508 Sixth street. They were married in 1896 and the desertion is alleged to have occurred in April, 1923.

Fred Joseph Westerbeck, 1843 Caldwell street, sued Susie Pearl Westerbeck, 231 West Diamond street, Butler, Pa. They were married in 1908, and he says she deserted him in 1925.

Lavina F. Henderson McIntyre, 1402 Federal street, charged cruelty in asking divorce from James K. McIntyre, 13 Sampson street. They married in 1920.

Thomas Cahill, 4918 Liberty avenue, sued Anna Cahill, 147 Greenfield avenue, for divorce. They were married in 1924, and he alleges she deserted him in 1926.

Mayme Muehler, 8 Ann Arbor avenue, West View, charges cruelty in divorce action against Wallace T. Muehler, 124 Kathleen street.

Helen Liberi, 4784 Libert yavenue, sued Oreste Liberi, 252 South Mathilda street, charging cruelty.

Madelena O'Keef, 241 Dithridge street, filed a libel against James G. O'Keefe, 82 South Twelfth street, charging cruelty.

MOTHER SAVES BABY IN FIRE

Mrs. Alva Hick of 225 Southern avenue, Mt. Washington, saved her 9-month-old daughter, Catherine, from burning to death yesterday, when she snatched the child from a divan which had caught fire.

The mother had heard the baby's cries and rushed into the room. Mrs. Hick dragged the burning piece of furniture outdoors.

It is not known how the fire started. Damage was estimated at $200.

CITY PATROLMAN HELD IN DOG CRUELTY CASE

Charles Faulkner, North Side police inspector, and Harry Diamond, assistant city solicitor, appeared in behalf of William Roberts, Negro policeman, arraigned before Justice of the Peace I. H. Edmondson of Mt. Lebanon last night on a charge of cruelty to animals. The patrolman was held for court. W. R. Linderman, agent of the Western Pennsylvania Humane Society, prosecuting, testified that Roberts had shot a stray dog three times and then had left the dog dying on the pavement. The case, originally scheduled before Justice of the Peace A. J. Davis of Emsworth, had been postponed twice.

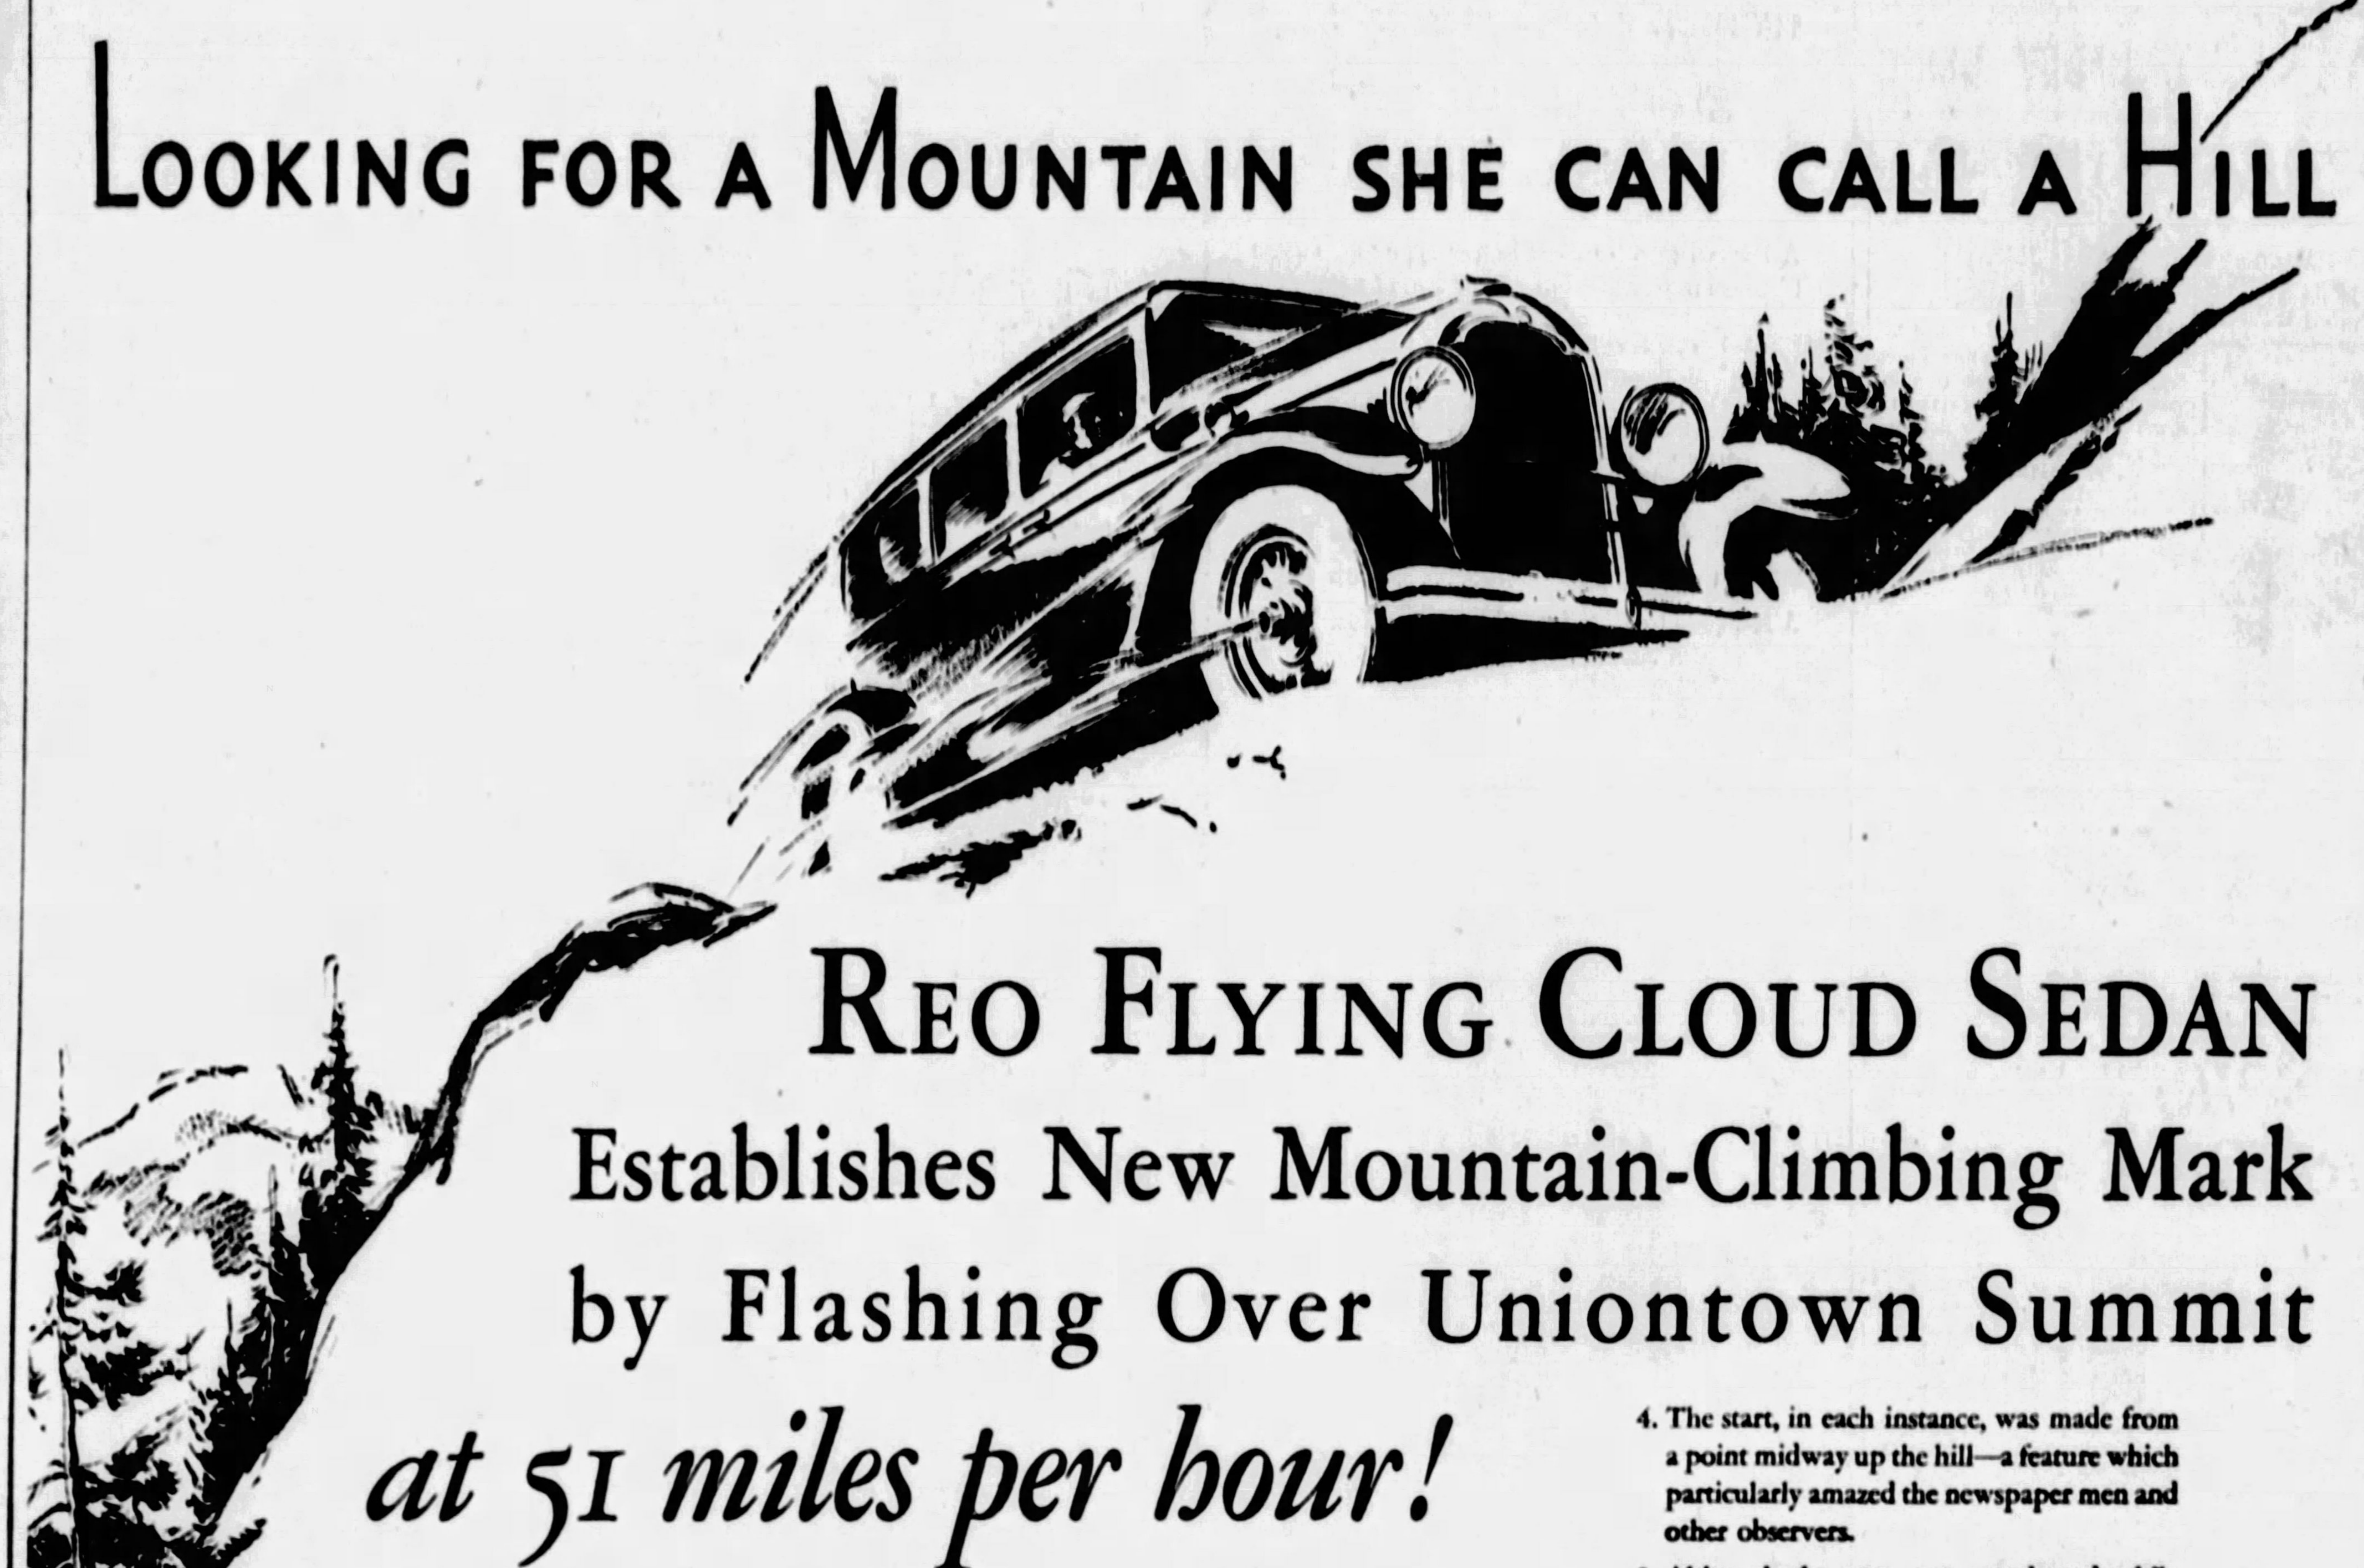
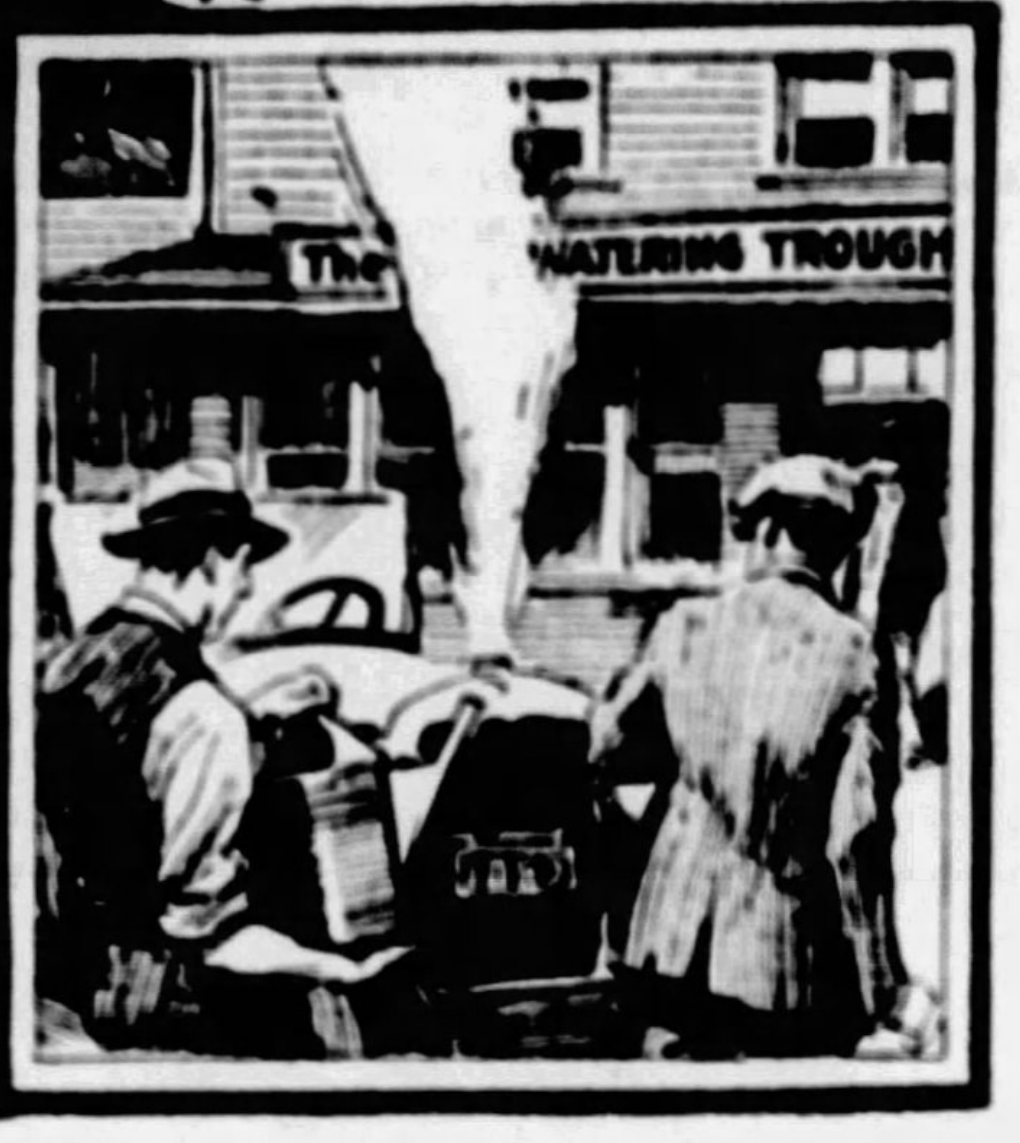
LOOKING FOR A MOUNTAIN SHE CAN CALL A HILL



REO FLYING CLOUD SEDAN

Establishes New Mountain-Climbing Mark by Flashing Over Uniontown Summit

at 51 miles per hour!



"The Watering Trough" about half way up the main ascent at Uniontown. Here most cars are forced to stop for water. But the Flying Cloud made the entire climb, not only without stopping for water, but without the motor temperature ever going above 180 degrees—this despite the fact that the air temperature was between 70 and 80 degrees.

Six months ago, a Reo Flying Cloud Sedan swept over the Uniontown Hill at the breath-taking rate of 37 miles per hour.

That accomplishment may or may not have established a new record. We neither know nor care. Measured by 1927 standards, it was a convincing demonstration. For Uniontown, as the motoring world knows, is the ultimate in hill-climbing tests. It is long, it is tortuous, it is fairly steep, with its average rise of 10% and a maximum of 13%.

But this performance, dazzling as it was, seems to have been only a forerunner of an even greater record.

For on Thursday, April 5, in the presence of a host of eye-witnesses—including a number of trained, technical, neutral observers—a strictly stock, five-passenger four-door Reo Flying Cloud Sedan, carrying three adult male persons flashed past the Summit House (the highest point) at a speed of 51 miles per hour!

No words can add to the superlative character of this record-breaking achievement. To the best of our knowledge, it is by far the fastest authenticated performance ever recorded on this greatest of all testing-grounds; and certainly it has never even been claimed, so far as we know, that any five-passenger Sedan regardless of size, weight or price had ever even approached this new mark.

Here are some interesting and illuminating sidelights of this record-breaking performance:

1. The mark of 51 miles an hour over the top was accomplished not once but at least ten times in succession without intermission.
2. The car was driven not by a professional stunt-driver, but by one of our own engineers, P. A. Collins.
3. A vicious right-angle left-hand turn, four-tenths of a mile from the summit, made it absolutely necessary to "cut out" the gas in approaching the turn, because a speed greater than 45 miles an hour around the turn would be fatal. And yet in that remaining 4-10 of a mile, climbing a grade between 10 and 13%, the Flying Cloud regularly accelerated to 51 miles per hour at the top.
4. The start, in each instance, was made from a point midway up the hill—a feature which particularly amazed the newspaper men and other observers.
5. Although the tests were conducted while the thermometer was registering between 70 and 80 degrees, the Flying Cloud motor —even at the top of the climb—never went above 180 degrees, indicating a remarkable cooling-capacity.

Well indeed has the Flying Cloud earned the right to the slogan—

"Looking for a Mountain She Can Call a Hill."

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

YEAR'S NEW ROAD BUILDING TO BREAK RECORDS

MOTORISTS CROWD -:- PARKING SPACES -:- AS SUN WARMS

CROWDING STREET-FLOOD COMING

DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER

Every motorist who took his car to the municipal parking lots on the Water street wharf yesterday wanted space near the street, because the weather man said there was a flood coming and the water was gradually rising. Some of the motorists had to accept space near the water line, but all left plenty of margin for safety. This was not a bad idea, as a few hours proved.

SUMMER HERE! SPACE AT PREMIUM

WHEN THE SUN SHINES

Here is just a small part of the transportation facilities used by Pittsburgh's army of workers. With the warming sun of May, more and more of these workers will travel to their daily tasks by motor car and within a very few weeks parking space will once again be at a premium. This photograph of one of the city's parking lots shows what just a few hours of sunshine will do.

"WE" SPIRIT WINS MARMON RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 2.—It was a combination of the same "We" factors that Charles Lindbergh, the flying colonel, made famous, that was responsible for the sensational one-man car victory, similar in automobile racing to Lindbergh's transoceanic flight, in the first international 500-mile race in 1911, according to Ray Harroun, the driver of the Marmon Wasp that won the big race.

Harroun, long since retired and a successful business man, is here to observe preparations for Marmon's re-enterance in racing, after 17 years absence, in the 500-mile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

The car with which he drove to victory was, like the cars of today, a single seater forerunner of the body type adopted in 1923. Instead of a mechanic Harroun used a small mirror in the cowl so that he could see drivers approaching from the rear. It also had disc wheels, a type that were not used to any extent on the race course until many years later. It also is interesting to note that Harroun made only three pit stops and finished the race with three of the original four tires.

"I am sure I could not have won the race had it not been for the whole hearted enthusiasm of the Marmon organization," recollects Harroun, who hastens to detail an illustrating incident which occured at the starting line the day of the race.

"While the cars were up ready for the start," said Harroun, "I saw a pair of legs sticking out from in under my car. It didn't seem right, for in those days we were concerned about enthusitic mechanics from foe camps tampering with the gas line or some gadget on a competing car. Well, we dragged the fellow from under the car in a hurry, only to discover it was one of the factory mechanics who had done little actual work on the race car. He explained that he had a dream the night before the race in which he saw a nut without a retaining cotter pin. We all started looking for the nut but had not found it before the start of the race. Since then I haven't believed in dreams.

"Next to having the car properly prepared for the five hundred mile grind," declared Harroun, "I think the outstanding contributing factor toward the Marmon success was the proper gauging of speed, avoiding spurts which uses up the reserve factor of safety. To avoid this I worked out a schedule for the race, based on my knowledge of my own car and a handicapping time check on the other cars in the race."

CARE NECESSARY IN LEAVING PARK SPACE

Inattention and carelessness on the part of motorists in leaving angle parking space is responsible for a great many more accidents these days than ever before. A certain type of driver is inclined to back out of such a place with the idea that through traffic must look out for itself. The traffic regulations of most cities are very definite on this point. They place the responsibility for such mishaps where most motorists believe it belongs, upon the man who is leaving the parking space.

REALIZING LIFE'S AMBITION

Bringing to a realization his life's ambition to become one of the vast fraternity of automobile merchandisers, Herbert H. Rosenthal has joined the staff of the R. E. Loughney Motor Company, distributor of Reo Flying Cloud and Wolverine motor cars. Mr. Rosenthal's hobby for a great many years has been automobiles. He will be in charge of retail sales for the Loughney company, bringing to that position his experiences as a department store executive in this city for a large number of years.

SPEEDING TO RECORD

Traveling more than 200 miles an hour on the same type gasoline used by Pittsburghers, Ray Keech succeeded in bringing the world automobile speed record honors to the United States. The Gulf Refining Company is authority for the statement that No-Nox gasoline was used in the Special Triplex in its recent record run at Daytona Beach. The same grade and quality of No-Nox can be had at any of its service stations, the company's statement contends.

ABOUT BETTER BODIES

The interest in automobile bodies is illustrated by the attendance of 680 at a Society of Automotive Engineers meeting in Detroit a few days ago, when Herman A. Brunn, whose contributions to body designing are internationally known, was the speaker. In his talk Mr. Brunn said: "To my notion there can be no substitute for comfort. First of all, bodies must be roomy, and greater comfort is unquestionably a matter to be given more thought by modern designers."

"The smallest size possible for pillars, consistent with safety and strength, are highly to be recommended. With proper structural material it is possible to make pillars as small as three-quarters of an inch.

"The convertible body is one type that is growing in favor, not only in Europe, but in America. An ideal form, in general, is one that possesses flexibility in the number of passengers that can be carried inside. It must have a wide door, about 39 inches, not only for convenience in entering and leaving, but as affording better scope of vision for the driver. It should have a small collapsible quarter and a collapsible rear top, of course. It should have as few parts as possible, for ease in operation and for tightness and economy."

In reply to a question, Mr. Brunn stated that in his opinion the fabric body is not likely to supersede the metal type, since the introduction of modern finishes gives every opportunity for repair, something that he said was impractical in fabric bodies because of the difficulty in making a satisfactory match between old and new material.

BOOTLEGGERS LOSE

Bootleg spark plug distributors lost 40,000 spark plugs a few days ago when, as a result of a decision in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, that number were dumped into the Atlantic Ocean. Suits in equity had been entered by two manufacturers against three organizations which had been reconditioning discarded plugs.

A GOOD STORY

L. G. Peed, sales manager for Wills-Overland, Inc., who is traveling about the country introducing the new Whippet Six to dealers, tells this story about the days of the one and two "lunger" cars.

"I was sent out to look at a 'two-lunger' the owner said was lacking in power. In those days hickory blocks were used for brakes, and naturally they gave a lot of trouble. To see if these brakes were dragging I jacked up the rear of the car, and the owner, an Indiana farmer, watched me, very much interested.

"I turned the left wheel forward, and naturally the right wheel ran backwards. Then I went to the other side and turned the right wheel, and the left one turned in the opposite direction.

"'That'll be jest far enough to go with yer tinkerin',' the owner declared, 'fer one of them durn wheels turns the wrong direction, an' that's where the power's agoin'.'"

MOVE TO NEW HOME

O'Donnell and Rejthard, two who recently embarked in the automotive activities in this city as service representatives for Rickenbacker and Gardner cars, have now located on Ivy street, near South Negley avenue. Larger quarters was given as the reason for the change in location.

School Teaches Back-Seat Driving

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 2.

WHEN to scream "Look out!" at their husbands and when to remain silent, are taught women of Kansas City in a new motor car driving school.

The women alo are being trained to handle the wheel and, in addition, to make minor repairs and supervise those being made by mechanics.

The school is operated by the Kansas City Safety Council and a group of club women interested in proving that women are more skilled as motor drivers than are men.

NEW PLUGS ADD HORSEPOWER

A recent engineering test in a Chicago laboratory showed that an automobile engine running 20 miles an hour and equipped with spark plugs that had been in use slightly more than 10,000 miles, developed 20.6-horsepower. The same engine with a new set of plugs gave a horsepower reading of 23.4.

One "horsepower" is sufficient to lift 33,000 pounds one foot in one minute.

The method used in determining this unit is very interesting. Back in the Eighteenth Century, James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, and Matthew Boulton started to manufacture hoisting engines to replace the horses then used in the coal mines of England. In order to compare the power of one of their engines with that of the number of horses required to perform the same work, they undertook to test the pulling power of a heavy draft horse. They found that a horse could lift 330 pounds of coal 100 feet in one minute, which is equivalent to lifting 33,000 pounds one foot in one minute.

6,000 AUTOS THROWN AWAY DAILY IN U. S.

DETROIT, Mich., May 2.—Floyd Allen, assistant to the president of General Motors, says that 6,000 automobiles are thrown away every day. "You can't sell at 1920 automobile in 1928," he said today.

DETOUR and HIGHWAY CONDITION REPORT

A large amount of highway construction and reconstruction work has been scheduled for this season, much of which will necessitate detours on main traveled highways. The Pennsylvania State Highway Department recommends that through travel east use the William Penn Highway to Delmont, there turning south to the Lincoln Highway at Greensburg. The department also is routing travel west over the Lincoln Highway detour through Coraopolis Heights and Monaca.

These detours are in effect on the following routes:

Allegheny county—Route No. 70, Sharpsburg and New Kensington, road open to Aspinwall and road also open from New Kensington to Cheswick, 15 miles improved in good condition; Route No. 115 spur, Clinton and county line, two miles earth in fair condition.

Washington county—Route No. 545, Avella and Independence, one mile earth in fair condition; Route No. 108, Canonsburg borough, half mile over borough streets in fair condition; Route No. 253, Elco and California, two miles of earth in poor condition; Route No. 108, Canonsburg and Washington, eight miles of brick.

Signs of Rubber Show Way to Traffic

Rubber traffic signs have been installed in Battle Creek and proven successful. The signs are placed in the street under the direct line of traffic where they are easily discernible. Made of a rubber composition, they are said to be indestructible. It is probable, according to city officials, that the signs will be used throughout the city this year.

FEDERAL, STATE FUNDS LARGER

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Road construction in 1928 will at least equal and probably slightly exceed the highest mark recorded in any preceding year, according to reports received by the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture and made public by the bureau.

Improvement of the state and federal-aid highway systems under the supervision of the highway departments of the several states will go forward during the season now opening with a construction of more than 20,000 miles of surfaced roads and about 8,000 miles graded and drained.

The state reports also indicate that at least 240,000 miles of the total of 288,000 in the state highway systems will be maintained this year under the supervision of the state highway departments, a fact which should insure the traveling public a high degree of road service.

Funds estimated as available for expenditure during the year by the state highway departments are about 25 per cent greater in total amount than similar estimates indicated at the beginning of last season. Although it is not possible, so early in the season, to anticipate closely the yield of gasoline and motor vehicle taxes and other sources of revenue, it is practically certain that the funds available to all state highway departments for construction and maintenance of roads and bridges will exceed $750,000,000, and local revenues, expendable by county and local authorities, will swell the highway total to upwards of $1,300,000,000.

With X-Ray the Doctor Need Guess Less

IN all injuries, such as sprains and after any accident where there is damage to a joint, or in any case where it is possible a bone has been fractured, an X-Ray picture should be taken.

In olden times the surgeon had to determine by guesswork and good judgment the nature and extent of such injuries. Today, thanks to the wonderful discovery of the X-Ray, it is possible to find out exactly and to see by the aid of the X-Ray what has happened. This addition to medical equipment has materially simplified the work of the surgeon in many fields. In accidents, particularly, it is necessary, nowadays, to make use of the X-Ray machine.

There is no doubt that before the discovery of the X-Ray many a sprain was treated as a broken bone. Lots of persons wore splints for weeks and had all the discomforts of the classical treatment for fractured bones, when it was a simple strain or sprain that did not demand such radical and long-continued treatment.

It is very probable, too, that many a slight fracture, perhaps where a corner or splinter of bone was broken off, was overlooked, and treated as a sprain. Perhaps no great harm resulted but, nevertheless, it is disturbing to think something important was made light of, or treated for the wrong thing.

All these old-time mistakes, quite excusable under old-time conditions, are uncalled for now. Every community, no matter how remote, has its X-ray equipment. Unless there is prompt reponse to treatment, what was thought to be a strain or a sprain is probably a condition more important than was suspected at first. It must be given further study.

This is the point where the X-ray operator enters. The magic of his skill will soon determine the real condition. All the hidden things are revealed and it will be determined exactly what is wrong.

Too frequently in human experience what is thought to be a trifling thing may be far reaching in its effects. I do not believe in being fussy about things or over anxious, but sprains and joint injuries are always worth careful consideration.

Every dispensary worthy of the name is equipped with the X-ray and, if you are poor, will gladly examine your case without charge. Your doctor, if he has not the equipment in his own office, will send you to some specialist in this line.

Early treatment is the important consideration in sprains and strains, as it is in every sort of injury to the human body. Do not neglect a thing of this kind. The immediate aid of your doctor may spare you months and even years of trouble.

Answers to Health Queries

T. Y. Q.—I have small holes in my tonsils and hard yellow substances forming in them. They were removed when I was 12 and I am now 20; they seem to have grown in again. What would you advise?

2.—Is there any exercise which will strengthen the back without resorting to a brace?

A.—The holes are called pockets. The secretions are retained in them. Have the throat examined and be guided by your doctor's judgment as to whether or not the tonsils should be removed. If they are diseased, they should be taken out.

2.—You should not require either if your back is normal. Have an examination to determine the cause of any weakness which may exist.

M. H. Q.—What do you advise for high blood pressure?

A.—Careful diet and proper rest.

M. F. Q.—What causes varicose veins?

A.—Varicose veins are caused by increased tension in the veins, due to either constant external pressure, some obstruction of the deep veins, or, as in many cases, to habitual over-exertion, such as long standing.

* * *

L. T. J. Q.—What is the normal blood pressure for a woman of 50 years?

2.—How can I reduce?

A.—About 150.

2.—Weight reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. Exercise is very essential.

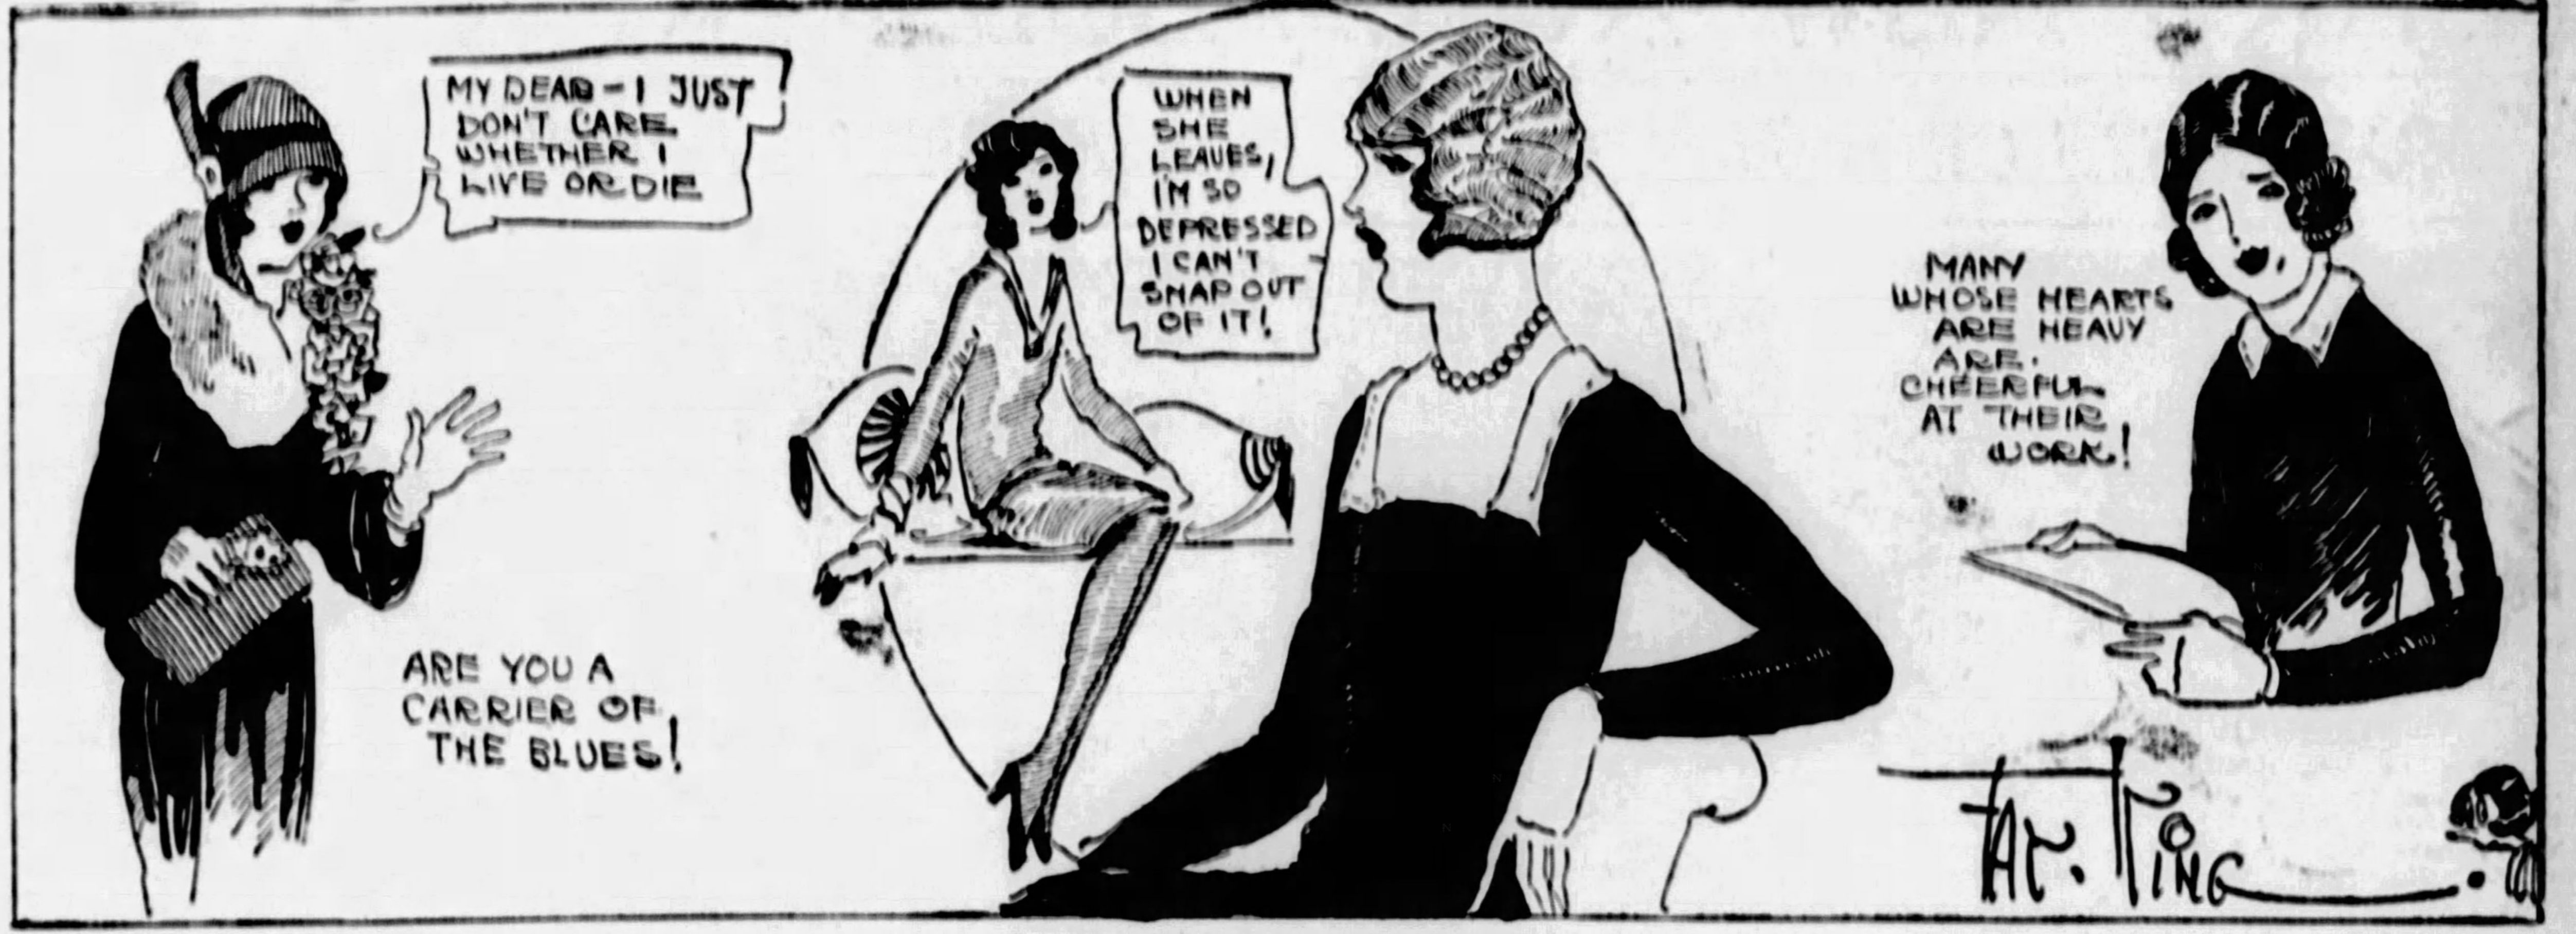
Fay King Warns of Chronic Trouble Bearers



MY DEAR—I JUST DON'T CARE WHETHER I LIVE OR DIE
WHEN SHE LEAVES, I'M SO DEPRESSED I CAN'T SNAP OUT OF IT!
MANY WHOSE HEARTS ARE HEAVY ARE CHEERFUL AT THEIR WORK!
ARE YOU A CARRIER OF THE BLUES!
FAY KING

By FAY KING

YOU have read of people who are germ carriers.

They are not sick themselves, but they carry a contageous germ around. When they are discovered, they have to be quarantined until they are rid of the germs.

Well there are people who, while not carrying germs, have a way of popping in and unloading themselves of a lot of bad news and then, when they go on their way again, everyone is depressed.

They never seem to have anything cheerful or good to say about anything or anyone.

If it isn't their troubles they are talking about, it's someone else's troubles, and in no time the listener feels that the woes of the world have been unloaded and left at her feet.

Now everyone is glad to sympathize with a friend when real trouble comes her way, but these people I am speaking of do not seem to suffer in any way from all these trials and tribulations they have in hand. They seem to thrive upon them.

They are always low, and want to be cheered up. They drain their friends of all their sympathy, and then move on to the next victim with the load not one whit lighter than when they came in.

It is a waste of time to try to help them.

I have little or no sympathy for them when I see how brave so many are, who, in spite of heavy hearts and much care, do all they can to be cheerful in their work and make the best of things.

It is not fair to inflict others with one's moods, especially when they seem to delight in being miserable.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

MIXED GRILL

IN LOVE, a man's winning card is audacity—a woman's tenacity.

A man's greatest inspiration in life is always the thing he wants and HASN'T got! The girl he didn't marry, the kiss he didn't get, the woman he has not yet won. It is hope, not gratitude, that fires his ambition and puts him on his mettle.

* * *

One of the greatest feats of the modern woman is her ability to look very much over-dressed, when she is only half-clothed.

HELEN ROWLAND

Sex attraction is not enough to marry on. Infatuation scarcely lasts beyond the honeymoon. It takes a lot of "Grade A." certified LOVE, to spread out over all the year and run over into Eternity!

* * *

All this talk about "companionate marriage" did not start until after the bride stopped putting a gold thimble and a cook book into her hope chest and substituted a can opener and a cocktail-shaker.

* * *

Men wouldn't be so strong for self-expression, if they realized how often even a loving wife has to suppress a momentary impulse to throw things at her husband.

* * *

Woman loves to captivate, man to subjugate; but the real art consists in never letting a man know that he is a captive or a woman suspect that she is a subject.

The only lasting marriages are those in which the bride goes right on to the last breath telling the world that she has drawn the one prize-winning husband on earth, and the husband goes right on believing that she means it.

* * *

Every city has a home for the feeble-minded—but most of them seem to prefer the night clubs.

* * *

Marriage is what changes a woman's "I love you so!" into "I told you so!"

For the Lovelorn

Babe

DEAR MISS GALE:

Will you be good enough to help me with my problem? I love a certain young man dearly. We are sweethearts, and he has told me he idolizes me. We have been companions for more than three years. Does it indicate that a man cannot possibly care for a girl very much if he does not remember her at least at Christmas? Do not misunderstand me. I do not seek gifts from him, for I still love him just as much after these three years. It is just the fact that all my girl friends show me their Christmas, Valentine and Easter gifts, and I must say, when asked, that I was forgotten. They tell me that if a man loves you he cannot forget you, and I tell them that I am going through the test and will come out a winner. Am I right?
BABE.

I will admit, Babe, that I think it very strange that this young man doesn't express his affection in some form at Christmas or Easter. It need not be much, but a handkerchief would be better than nothing. But it surely is not an indication that he doesn't care for you. It is just extremely thoughtless, or perhaps a bit too stingy. Think it over a bit before marrying him.

Red Lips

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am 18 years old and I agree on the kissing, drinking, petting and smoking questions. Well, Miss Gale, I have read the lovelorn for a long time and think your answers are wonderful. This is my problem. There is a fellow I meet at a skating rink whom I think I love. One thing I dislike is that when a strange girl comes up he seems to adore her and when I am there at that time he does not look at me, not even smile at me. When there are no nice girls there he comes to me and I cannot refuse to skate with him. What do you think of this fellow? Will you please advise me what to do when I see him? Should I just speak to him and let him have his fun with other girls? When he sees me on the street he speaks and we have a long talk together.
RED LIPS.

If this boy talks to you and skates with you only when no other girls are there, then he is not much interested in you, my dear. Refuse to skate with him under such circumstances.

To do a common thing uncommonly well will always bring success.—H. J. Heinz.

ACCORDING to the peculiar influence of some of the planets active on this day, the fortunes may be fluctuating and carry with them singular experiences or contacts. This latter in its application to social, artistic or feminine affiliations. In making new agreements care is enjoined, and there is some hazard in attempting matters speculative or not on established basis.

Those whose birthday it is may expect an interesting year, but one of variable fortunes and singular experiences. It would be well to fortify against extravagance and peculiar alliances, especially in relation to social, artistic, romantic and domestic affairs. New ventures may be taken under consideration, but with precaution.

A child born on this day should be adventurous, talented, popular and inclined to social pleasures on which it may squander its substance, which may prove to its detriment, unless frugality and prudence be instilled in youth.

BRITISH RECALL ORDERS TO WARSHIPS FOR EGYPT

CAIRO ANSWER BRINGS RELIEF IN CRISIS

LONDON, May 2.—(AP.)—The Egyptian crisis took a favorable turn today when Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign minister, announced in the House of Commons that the instructions which it had previously been thought necessary to give to certain British warships had been countermanded.

WARSHIPS SENT EAST

Immediately on the delivery of the British ultimatum to the Egyptian premier, allowing a three-day limit for compliance with the British demands for withdrawal of the assemblies bill, British warships put out from Malta. It was presumed they were on their way to Egypt, but it was announced officially from Cairo that they were proceeding to Corinth. Nevertheless it was understood that they were to be in readiness for whatever emergency arose in connection with the Egyptian trouble.

DISCUSS CAIRO REPLY

The British cabinet discussed the Egyptian reply to the British demands this morning. The reply had been handed to the British high commissioner at Cairo last night. It explained that the public assemblies bill to which the British government took exception had been put aside until next November. This did not meet the desires of Great Britain, which demanded its withdrawal.

The Egyptian note, however, explained the difficulties of withdrawal of the bill in view of the previous action of the Egyptian Legislature, and this was taken into consideration by the British government. It is probable that there will be further exchanges before definite action is taken on either side.

TRADER HORN
THE GREATEST ADVENTURE STORY OF MODERN TIMES

Horn Becomes a Blood Brother of Savage Fans

Grewsome Ceremony Is Followed by Festivity; Weird Dances, Weirder Music

What Has Gone Before.

Trader Horn, at 73, is writing about his experiences half a century ago as trader on the Ivory Coast of Africa. Among the cannibals he discovered a white goddess, whom he identified as the daughter of an Englishman of aristocratic family. He plans to take her from the josh house. Witchcraft he describes and the thrills of hunting elephants.

Lions Dainty; Hyenas Coarse

By ALFRED ALOYSIUS HORN
Edited by ETHELREDA LEWIS
CHAPTER XVIII.

ALFRED A. HORN

AS THE shades of evening were casting long shadows from the trees I decided to return home and I left this motely crowd of savages. On our return we met many native women, walking Indian file through the glades and jungle carrying away elephant meat. These animals are much larger than the Indian or in fact the elephants of Rhodesia and are more ferocious.

I have visited many of these elephant traps and could never understand why the animals did not break through the inclosure as in many places it would have given them no trouble to do so. All the information on this point was the animals are so fond of the red iloto wild bananas that after eating them they become probably tame.

In the same way they say that gorillas will only make their home near nyondo patches. The nyondo is the wild shallot or onion.

The cannibal tribes are meat eaters and always have a supply of smoked meat on hand. This they often sold to the canoe boys at so much a basket. These baskets contain about half a bushel, and the contents consist of elephant meat, dried rats (Enongos), rats about the size of small rabbits, with round ears. Also a variety of monkeys dried and smoked. I have often seen gorillas' hands, the hands, feet and other portions of chimpanzees, etc. The Mpangues seldom or never eat fish, and I never saw a case of leprosy amongst them or elephantiasis (swelled leg or foot), so common and fatal amongst the fish eaters.

Blood Brotherhood

I arrived at Adinango next morning as I had attended the Blood brother ceremony of the Fans. This is a simple ceremony, which consists of a man handing you a piece of sugar cane smeared with blood taken from the arm of your blood brother. My blood brother was Matam who stood next me in line.

This simple ceremony over, I watched a cannibal dance that beggars description, loud shouting and cries of Anjuna I timba rent the air, guns were fired in volleys in great time and roll like well-drilled musketry fire, whilst spear dancers, painted all colors and shades, kept time to a band of savages whose only music was a reed placed in the nostril. This sounded weird in the extreme.

After this I parted with a guard of spearmen drawn in two lines as far as my canoe, whilst my departure was heralded by cries of Rest contented Brother of the Fans!

On arriving at Adinango I received news that Count Debrazza would be with us when the waters of the Ogowe had risen as he intended to visit the interior, which he did later and formed what is now known as the French Congo with its interior capital of Brazzaville situated opposite Stanley-pool. So that between Stanley and Debrazza they had taken in a country bigger than Germany and Austria with little or no trouble from the outside European powers.

Here the "old visitor" pauses to make a few pithy observations to his editress:

"Unsullied" Facts

"How do you like it Ma'am? I'm too old for boasting and it's no fancy of mine that people like to read about facts that have lain undisturbed by the pen of man. Unsullied is my word. 'Tis a good word. Aye. Unsullied.

"That witch doctor's death provides a comical episode. 'Twas that feller poisoned George T——. Excuse me, but I'd rather not have the name mentioned.

"Aye, that poor feller was only ill for a day, his boy told me. 'Master very well in the morning, in the evening very sick and cried out too often.' That's what he told me. And dead before midnight. Then the witch doctor took his master's wife away with him, he said. I told you George T—— had married an octoroon from Princess Island. A lovely woman, old John D—— told me. He'd been on the Ivory a donkey's years. Seen her once on one of his journeys. The little girl was eight or nine then, the boy said. Might have been younger—you know how a native can't be accurate about age, especially if it's a white person. She was given up to the priests of the Josh House to be trained as the goddess. He could never get near her after that.

Goddess Training

"Not Victoria herself had a stricter bringing-up than a goddess'd have to go through. No choosing a Prince Albert for Nina. Strictly virgin is the law, 'n if you break it you die. Aye, he couldn't get near her after that. He'd been fond of his master, that feller. He showed me the little picture book that her father'd been teaching her from.

"From Calabar, that witch doctor. A wicked feller. 'Twas he put out the chief's eyes. At the chief's own request, mind you. The feller'd told him that if he was blind he'd be abel to see where his enemies were in the night and kill them. But any fool could see it would give the witch doctor a free hand if the chief was blind. With boiling water he did it.

"Pretended to raise the dead, that feller. All I can say is the speci-

New Officers -:- CONGRESS OF CLUBS ELECTS -:- For Year

ELECTED

At the annual meeting of the Congress of Women's Clubs, Mrs. S. J. Corbett, Mrs. J. C. Schreiner and Mrs. D. Edwin Miller were elected, the two as directors and Mrs. Miller as first vice president, an uncontested office.

AMONG BUSIEST

Two of the busiest people in the clubhouse were Mrs. C. A. Brooks and Mrs. Sylvester J. Snee, who, as chairmen of the social and hospitality committees, found much to be looked after during the day.

PLEASED

The smiles of the Congress president, Mrs. Carl E. Coslowsky, and Mrs. F. H. Burdick and Mrs. C. S. Miller would indicate that they were pleased with the election of the nominating committee's ticket. Mrs. Burdick was chosen third vice president.

Injuries Prove Fatal to Two Children

SECOND NEWS SECTION THE SUN TELEGRAPH SPORTS FEATURES
WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1928

TOTS, 4, DIE OF BURNS

Two children died in city hospitals last night of burns suffered while at play.

Joseph Shields, Jr., 4, son of a staff physician of the Tuberculosis Hospital, Leech farm, expired in Pittsburgh Hospital. He was scalded Saturday by steam from an exhaust pipe at the power house at the farm.

Betty Perry, 4, of 1067 Evergreen avenue, Millvale, died in St. Francis Hospital. She was scalded Monday when she pulled a pan of water from a stove in her home.

STUDENTS HONORED FOR MISSION WORK

Membership in the Order of Crusade Paladins of the Round Table, has been conferred upon Jerome Jackson, of 621 Kirtland street, and Aloysius Miller, of 149 North Dithridge street, local Catholic high school students, for their exceptional leadership in mission work. Jackson is a student of Holy Rosary High School and Miller of St. Mary of the Mount. Anna Murray and Vincent Ryan, of Holy Rosary High School received honorable mention for leadership in junior mission work.

ANNEXATION APPEAL HEARING CONCLUDED

The hearing on the second appeal of Penn township residents from annexation of 64 acres of the township to Pittsburgh ended in Quarter Sessions Court yesterday. Judge George V. Moore's decision is expected within 10 days.

The opponents of the annexation, which has already been executed, contend that the required 60 per cent of taxpaying citizens in the township had not signed the annexation petitions.

TO MARRY DODGE

MURIEL SISMAN

Miss Muriel Sisman, millionaire's daughter, will marry Horace E. Dodge, heir to the $37,000,000 estate of his father, co-founder of the motor car company. Dodge, 27, divorced by his wife, and Miss Sisman announced their marriage intention at the London registry office.

SNOWSTORM DAMAGES PHONE SYSTEM $225,000

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 2.—The recent snowstorm in West Virginia will cost the Bell Telephone system $225,000, a survey revealed. The storm felled 1,250 poles and damaged 400 long distance lines.

BRITTLE-BONED BOY HAS 24TH FRACTURE

SHADYSIDE, O., May 2.—Billy Neuhart, 11, is confined to his home today, the result of his twenty-fourth fracture. He broke his knee in getting off a chair. In spite of his brittle bones he is cheerful.

FOUR OHIO MINES OPEN, DEFYING UNION

COLUMBUS, O., May 2.—(AP.)—Four coal companies started cleanup work in one mine each today, despite reports that Robert Bell, newly elected head of Sub District No. 1, Athens county, was directing picketing activities at Ohio Collieries Mine No. 255, at Modoc, near Glouster.

The Akron Coal Company's Rigby mine and the Morris Coal Company's Black Top mine in Guernsey county, the Cambridge Collieries Company's Caldwell mine and the Forsythe Coal Company's Imperial mine, Noble county, were the four resuming operations today. Non-union miners will be employed if union men refuse to accept terms offered, operators announced, after advertising for former employes to return.

Eviction of 296 families from company-owned houses in Belmont county was nearly complete today with only about a score affected by order of the Federal District Court remaining to move. Those failing to make the change by May 15 will be liable to arrest, under orders of the court. Barracks built by the United Mine Workers are sheltering the majority of the evicted families.

BACK DEPOSED LEADER

"Financial backing" will be given Oral Daugherty, deposed president of sub-district No. 1, embracing the Sunday Creek and Hocking Valley fields, an assemblage of business and professional men meeting at Athens last night voted.

Action by the gathering followed a report from a committee appointed by the Athens Civic Association, in which it was said peace efforts had failed, with operators determined to "refrain from dealing with the United Mine Workers."

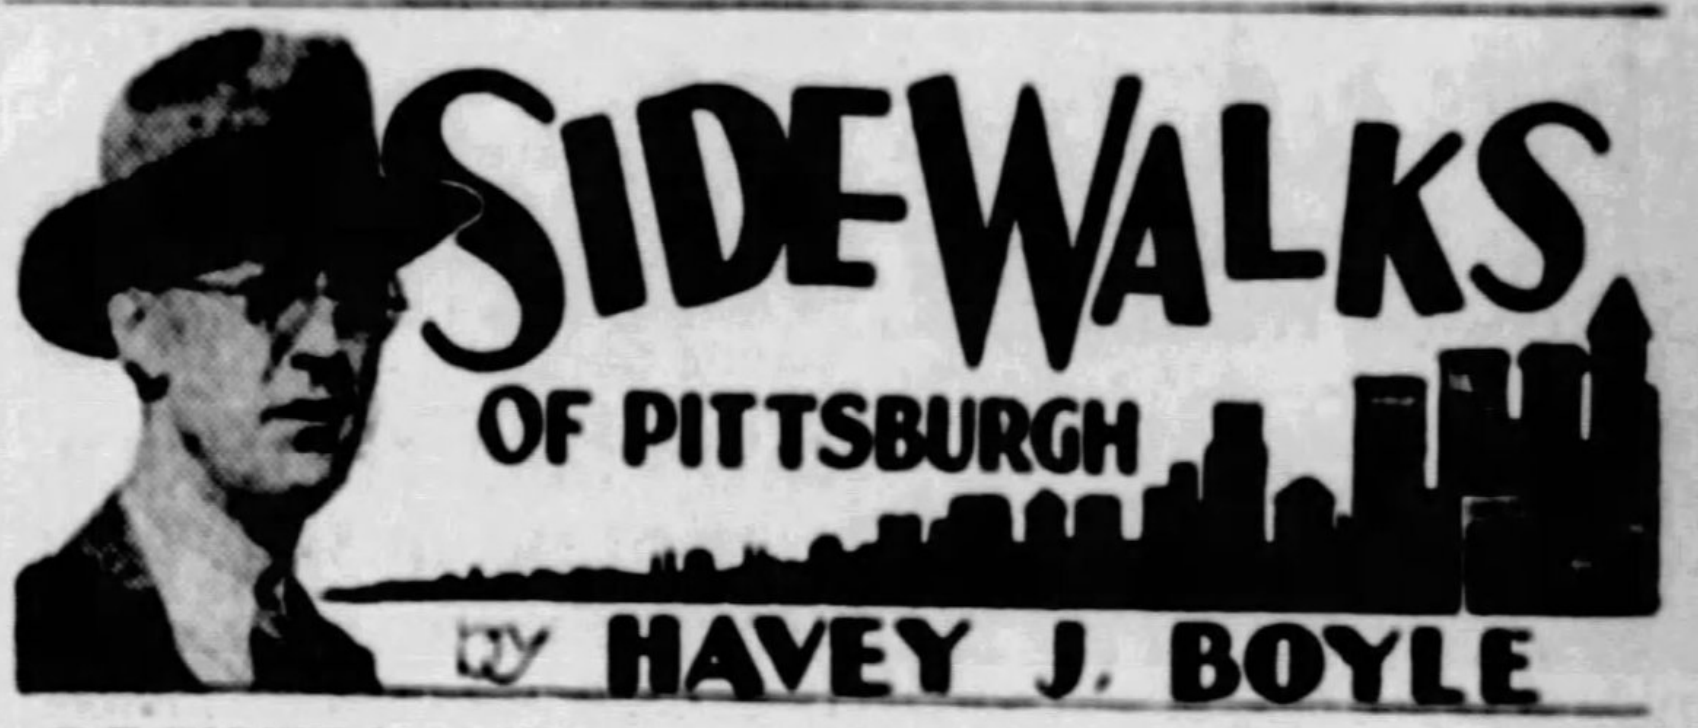
MOVIE BOOTH AFIRE, OPERATOR HURT, JUMPS

A drop from a second story window enabled Edward Fuchs, 38, motion picture operator, of Mt. Oliver, to escape last night after fire had broken out in the projecting room of the Rex Theater, 6017 Penn avenue. More than 300 patrons calmly left during the fire. Fuchs was burned on the face and the hands before he succeeded in escaping. The blaze caused damage of about $1,500.

GIVES YEARLY PRESENT, WILL TEND COURT DOOR

WHEELING, W. Va., May 2.—(AP.)—Antone Carciona, termed the "model citien" by Judge W. E. Baker, made his usual contribution of two dozen American Beauty roses at the opening of court yesterday and was assigned as deputy marshal at the main court room door for the term. Carciona has not failed to present roses to the judge on each court opening day for five years, or since Carciona received his naturaliation papers.

Five nuns and a priest were among the 60 persons in the first naturaliation class.



IT WON'T be so long now until the papers will be carrying pictures of local notables with spades in hands breaking ground for the much-needed Town Hall. The city bond issue needed to raise funds for the improvement of the village in many ways went over at the polls in fine fashion and now the natives will sit back and smile patiently while awaiting the Town Hall, fine roads, well-paved streets and those other goodies.

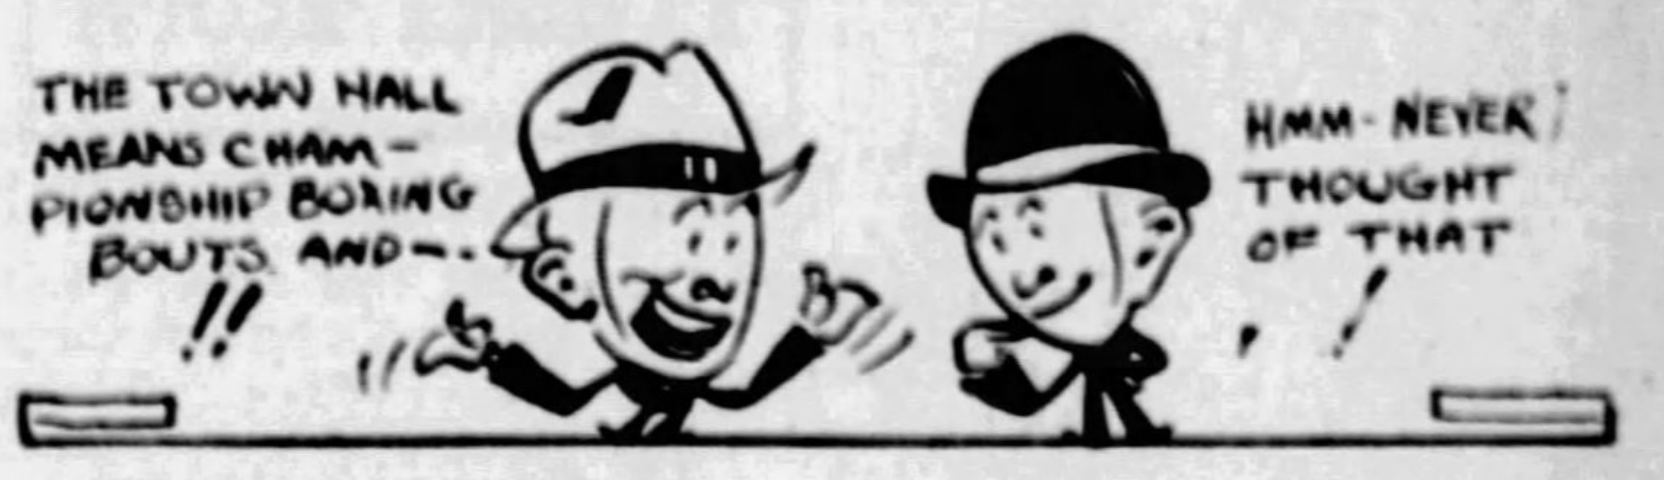
SOMETIMES we grumble at the tax millage, but when improvements spring up our grumble is reduced to a whisper. Of the improvements contemplated, the Town Hall, perhaps, can be better visualized than all others.

* * *

IN THE Town Hall as contemplated by the public-spirited men who helped crystallise sentiment for it there will be something for every class of citizen. If you belong to lodges you can instruct your delegates to bring their conventions to Pittsburgh to be housed in one of the finest buildings in the country. If you like music you will be accorded the chance of hearing the best.



THE TOWN HALL MEANS CHAMPIONSHIP BOXING BOUTS AND— !!
HMM- NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT , !

If you wonder why Pittsburgh never gets a big championship boxing bout you may learn when the Town Hall is built that an enterprising promoter certain of being able to handle a big money house can acquire the Town Hall for a championship evening.

* * *

BECAUSE of the diversified appeal such a place will have for men, women and children there is not a citizen who will not have a big stake in the Town Hall. Generally, improvements until they reach our eyes are nebulous to all save those who planned and dreamed them, but this approaching improvement of giving the city one of the finest meeting places in the country is something we can all picture and look forward to with eagerness.

IN VOTING for the bond issue, with the Town Hall in view, one experienced that glow that used to come in the old days when one said: "Oscar, this one's on me." What the actual cost in dollars and cents would prove to be was dimmed in the glow of knowing that here one was helping to buy something that will make the town more appealing.

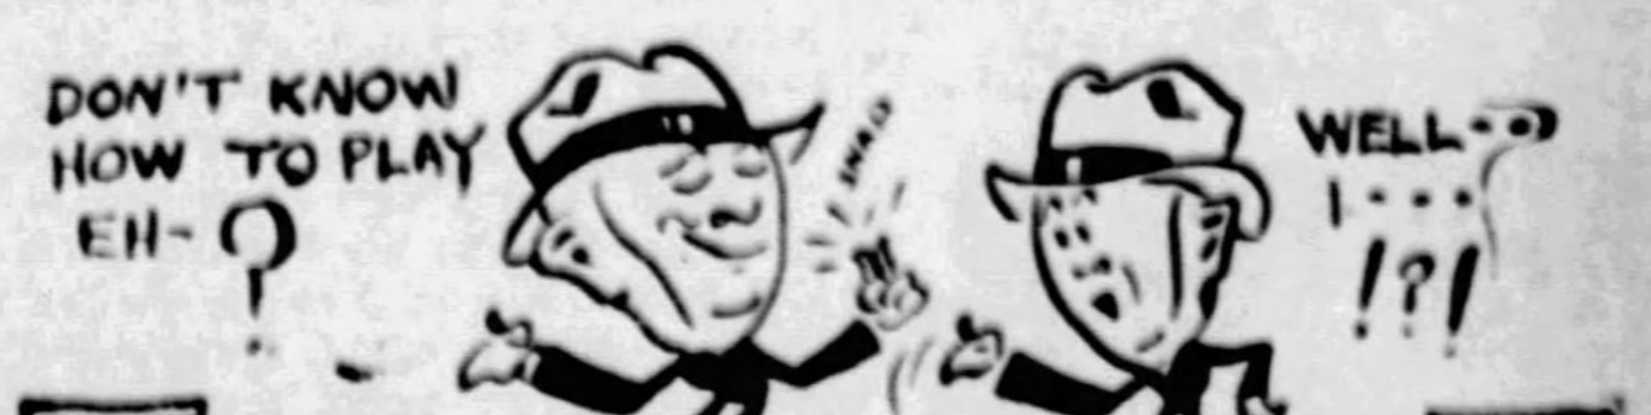
OFTEN, it has seemed to this local boy, Pittsburgh has dwelt too much on the making of money and too little in the proper spending of it for purposes of entertainment. Gradually, with the purchase of two fine parks by the County Commissioners; with the bid for greater attention from the theatrical interests, national and local; and now with the Town Hall, Pittsburgh is going to be able to snap her fingers at the boys from other cities who complain we have never learned how to play.



DON'T KNOW HOW TO PLAY EH- ?
WELL- ? !?!

YOU may say: "Why if it isn't George Babbitt himself speaking," but if George boosted the Town Hall in Gopher Prairie to Carol Kennicott why we're here to say George was a big he-man with the idea of service foremost in his mind. We always say it takes a brave man to be a Babbitt these days. Yes, sir.

HEROINE DROWNS

CYNTHIA GADDIS

Winner of Carnegie Hero Medal for saving the lives of two drowning persons, Miss Cynthia Gaddis lost her life in the Monongahela River at Masontown (Pa.) at almost the same spot where she risked death to keep life for others. She went down in the flood waters with five other persons when a ferry skiff captized. She formerly lived at 3830 Perrysville avenue, North Side.

EIGHT INDIANS SETTLE HERE

Back to the old hunting grounds of the Western Pennsylvania Indian tribesmen today came two chiefs of the Blackfeet nation from the reservation in Western Montana. With their squaws and papooses they henceforth will make their homes in the new Allegheny county parks, where they will live in tepees, practice the arts and crafts of their forefathers and live in peaceful outdoor communion with the Great Spirit.

Happy the red men and their families are to be here, as they told Chief Iron Breast when they went to his office in the City-County building for their formal reception here. (For the information of palefaces it may be added that Iron Breast is no other than Mayor Charles H. Kline, an adopted member of the Blackfoot tribe). After the formalities they were taken direct to their new abodes. Chief Eagle Rib, his squaw, White Rider, and their son, Jesse Joseph Eagle Rib, will camp in South Park, while Chief Big Beaver, his wife, Medicine Otter, and their children, Eddie, George and Mary Josephine Big Beaver, will pitch their tepees in North Park.

CLAIMS BENEFITS WERE WONDERFUL

Pittsburgh Man Feels He Ought to Tell Others How Ten Herbs Helped Him

"Somehow I feel as if I ought to tell of the wonderful results I am getting from Ten Herbs," was the statement of Mr. Stanley Maryniak, 3514 Fleetwood street, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this popular new herbal medicine. "I have lived in Pittsburgh all my life, and always enjoyed fairly good health, until my stomach went back on me," continued Mr. Maryniak, who is an employe of the National Tube Co.

"Everything I ate seemed to form a very heavy lump. I would fill with gas and bloat terribly. Besides this misery, my bowels were irregular and my liver and kidneys inactive. There were pains across my back. Black spots would float before my eyes, and at times I became very dizzy and felt as though I were on the verge of having a real sick spell.

"As I have always had great faith in herbs and roots as a medicine, I decided to try Ten Herbs. It gave me prompt results; in fact, the benefits were remarkable. I feel like a new person, although I have taken only three bottles. I enjoy my meals now without that heavy lump forming. I am not bothered any more with gas or bloating. My liver and kidneys are working fine. Pains have left my back, and the black spots and dizzy spells are gone.

"My bowels are very regular, and my nerves stronger. I sleep better and arise in the morning feeling refreshed and with new ambition and pep. It is no longer an effort for me to do my work. Apparently, your medicine has given my whole system a thorough cleansing and revitalized it. I am very happy to have the opportunity to praise Ten Herbs, and trust that my endorsement will be the means of restoring other sufferers to health."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it to get the best results. Free sample given.

WASHINGTON ORDERS GYPSIES FROM CITY

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 2.—When several members of their band were caught begging and "fortune telling" on the streets here yesterday, the band was ordered to leave the district immediately or face fines on the charges. The group numbering about 25, camped north of the city pulled up stakes and entrained East.

men I saw that he'd raised'd had his nose plugged up with something to keep him alive before he'd been buried. Some sort of trance. Just cheap conjuring tricks is what he excelled in. You can picture that with a blind chief and all, that place was a proper hot-bed of necromancy.

"That elephant hunt makes a pretty splash of activity. What's so peculiar about that way of catching 'em is that they'll walk round and round in a circle for a day or a couple of days, following the leader and never thinking of breaking through the brushwood.

Lions Dainty

"Aye, 'tis easy enough to catch an elephant, once you make up your mind to be no gentleman about it. You've got to give an elephant his conge in no shameful manner. The lion, too—he's such a sensible soul. Dainty, too, like a lady over his food. It's only certain portions he'll tolerate. The hyena now'll not leave two bootsful of his kill, or anybody else's kill. He's a coarse feller, no death's bad enough for.

"Why, yes, Ma'am, write to my brother, if you've a mind to. He's priest at ——. For myself I don't hold with letters. It's always been my habit to go home every six or seven years when my bank balance was good. If ever I've been short on the coast I could always fall back on a few ivories. Same when I balanced my account for Sinclair. If it fell short I'd always have 20 or 30 ivories to depend on. Here there's nothing but philanthropy. I've no wish to go home with nothing but that in me pocket instead of what I'd been able to seize for myself from the circumstances of Fortune."

JERRY The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait · by Elenore MEHERIN

Claims Are Proven and Stephanie Is Declared Stephen Marsh's Heir

THURSDAY—1 o'clock. He was there now—going up the steps—seeing Marza—seeing Stephanie. Oh, how were they acting? What were they saying!

She couldn't concentrate on her work. She could scarcely breathe. All day her cheeks burned with a scarlet unrest.

At 4 o'clock she phoned. Stephanie answered and became so choky, so bewildered and incoherent that finally Marza came.

Even Marza was unnerved. Even Marza repeated huskily: "Yes, my pet. Yes, darling girl. No, we're not coming down. We don't need to. I won't talk over the phone. The lawyer will tell you."

"But is it settled? Is it proved right?"

"Yes—it seems so."

"And how much?"

"What, pet?"

"How much for Stephanie?"

"I don't know. I didn't ask."

* * *

Lloyd O'Connor was much more satisfactory. Friday noon he summoned Jerry to his office. He came swinging to meet her and grasped her hand.

"Are they O. K.?" she asked gaily.

"They are O. K. We'll settle it up as quickly as possible."

"My mother and Stephanie won't have to come down at all?"

"No. I'll name an attorney for your sister. They have complete proofs . . . depositions, a birth certificate, pictures, letters from Stephen Marsh—a convincing array."

"When will it be settled?" asked Jerry, wondering dreamily if she might cash a huge check tomorrow morning and bring it back to Stephanie.

"Quickly, I hope. Depends on the court. I'm driving you out to Stephen Marsh's house. You can show me the things you wish to keep. The rest will be sold and the money sent to your sister when the case is settled. He has treasures there that he valued highly."

They drove through the congested streets to the wide Wilshire boulevard. Sunny, exhilarating November noon they stopped before a quiet, almost a small bungalow.

"You are an artist, Miss King, and will appreciate the Whistler, the Rubens and the Valesquez that Stephen so loved. He invested much of his money in pictures and books. And he especially stipulated that these may not be sold.

"If you do not care for them they are to be given to the university here."

"We'll care for them!" answered Jerry promptly, but wondering with sinking heart if this small place that surely was not worth more than $15,000 was all the real million Stephanie's grandfather bequeathed.

Pictures and books—they loved these. But you can't eat pictures and books!

Then she was in the living room and startled to find it so spacious—a marvelous room with an old-world charm about it. On a little table was a miniature of Stephen—a copy of the one Marza owned. And on the wall an oil of Stephanie—a surprising thing. Anyone would recognize Stephanie from it.

The old grandfather had had her picture copied . . . had given it to some young artist. And he had brought Stephanie to life. . . .

"I wish I knew that Stephen Marsh!" said Jerry suddenly, pausing before an oil of Piazzoni—there were four of these. "He must have been a rare soul."

"He was."

"Does he leave my sister anything besides this house?"

"Enough to keep her comfortably as long as she lives. The money is all invested and is to remain so. She will have $300 a month or better. The money from the sale of this she can use as she pleases."

"Three hundred dollars all clear each month?"

"All clear!"

"Well, that's nice!" said Jerry, beaming. "We haven't liked living on $75."

"But you have liked having your sister with you?"

"Heavenly!"

"I wish old Stephen Marsh could have known this!"

CHAPTER LXVII.

"THAT," said Lloyd O'Connor, pausing before a beautiful old secretary in a shadowed alcove, "was Stephen Marsh's treasure chest. It belonged to his son. After the boy was killed, they opened it.

"There they found the medallions of your mother, of the child. And there they found the letters. Those letters came so near to being destroyed unopened.

"But the resemblance of the little girl to their son was so startling that one day they pried the frame of the medallion loose. They came upon that revealing inscription: 'Stephanie Marsh, daughter of Marza and Stephen Marsh, born July 21, 1906.'

"The child of whom they had never heard and whose whereabouts were unknown. And they two who were so newly bereaved learning of this precious existence at the moment when their grief was freshest and when even an old hat worn by their boy was treasured.

"Well for your mother that they did not find Stephanie then. They would have fought for her."

"She knew it!"

"But the letters contained no hint of your mother's last name. And in none was there any more definite address than California . . . somewhere in California the child was secluded.

"They were very beautiful letters your mother wrote. This, more than any other factor, kept Stephen Marsh's interest alive. He once said to me: 'With my lad for her father and the girl with that face and that pen for her mother, she's worth searching. I want her!'"

"But they knew my mother was married? And to another?"

"It was known, of course. Your mother refers to her husband as 'G.' The references are few.

"But in many of the letters she speaks of the child Jerry. You're curious of this. There were vivid descriptions of a black-haired, blue-eyed child who should one day learn of her sister and love her.

"Your mother was in torment lest the child be denied. She urges Stephen to make an acknowledgement in writing of his paternity."

"Did he do this?"

"He did. But even here, he withheld the married name of your mother."

"I suppose that statement was found in this secretary?" asked Jerry dreamily and visualizing the tender eagerness of Stephanie when she went through all these little secret drawers.

"Yes, it was. Do you want to see the letter that made me suspicious of you? Made me almost certain the 15-year search was over?"

He handed Jerry an old browned envelope—one of Marza's love letters. How terrible a thing like this falls into alien hands! Jerry hesitated.

"Read it. Your sister did. And your mother."

"Do you not think my mother beautiful?" said Jerry mistily and opening the faded sheet.

"Very. And not changed a great deal."

"Oh, she is still quite young—younger than I sometimes!"

Jerry read: "Stephen, do not fail me in this—do not wait until tomorrow. Today only is ours—this moment only is ours. I ask you in love to sit down now and write the statement. Both you and I may pass. We must make what provision we can for our child. At best we can do so terribly little for her now.

"I have told it all in a long message to my Jerry. In the event of my death this document carefully sealed will be handed to her. So she will share with our little one. I know.

"She is mine now and very dear: very wild and very pretty. Her hair is blacker than black and her eyes a misty purple-blue. Like flag-lilies you used to say in that happy time.

"This property will one day come to Jerry. Even though we make no other provisions, two girls can maintain themselves on this. And I have made my plea most urgent, Stephen dear. I have told my little one about my other one. The child adores me and will go to the ends of the earth, I know, to carry out this sacred trust."

The words of that long-distance message went thrilling to Jerry's heart.

And in the shadowed room, dream-sweet with memories, there seemed now watchful happy presences—that lordly laughing fellow who had caught the radiant, young Marza, in his arms, pressing warm lips to hers. So that she came into the room where the crabbed George King was waiting—came in with dewy smile and eyes like lights shining.

Old Stephen Marsh sitting over there in the high arm chair reading his precious books and waiting for a ring at the door—waiting for the child of his son to call. Fine, stalwart fellow with his florid face and full white hair.

She would take this picture home to Stephanie. And the one of Stephen's mother—a little, elfin person with rich mahogany tinted hair like both of theirs. And a merriness like theirs—a short, gay upper lip like Stephanie's.

They were warm and living personalities breathing in the charm of this room, speaking in the books, in the subdued colors and the beautiful pictures. She would remember each note, each detail—report them all most faithfully to Stephanie.

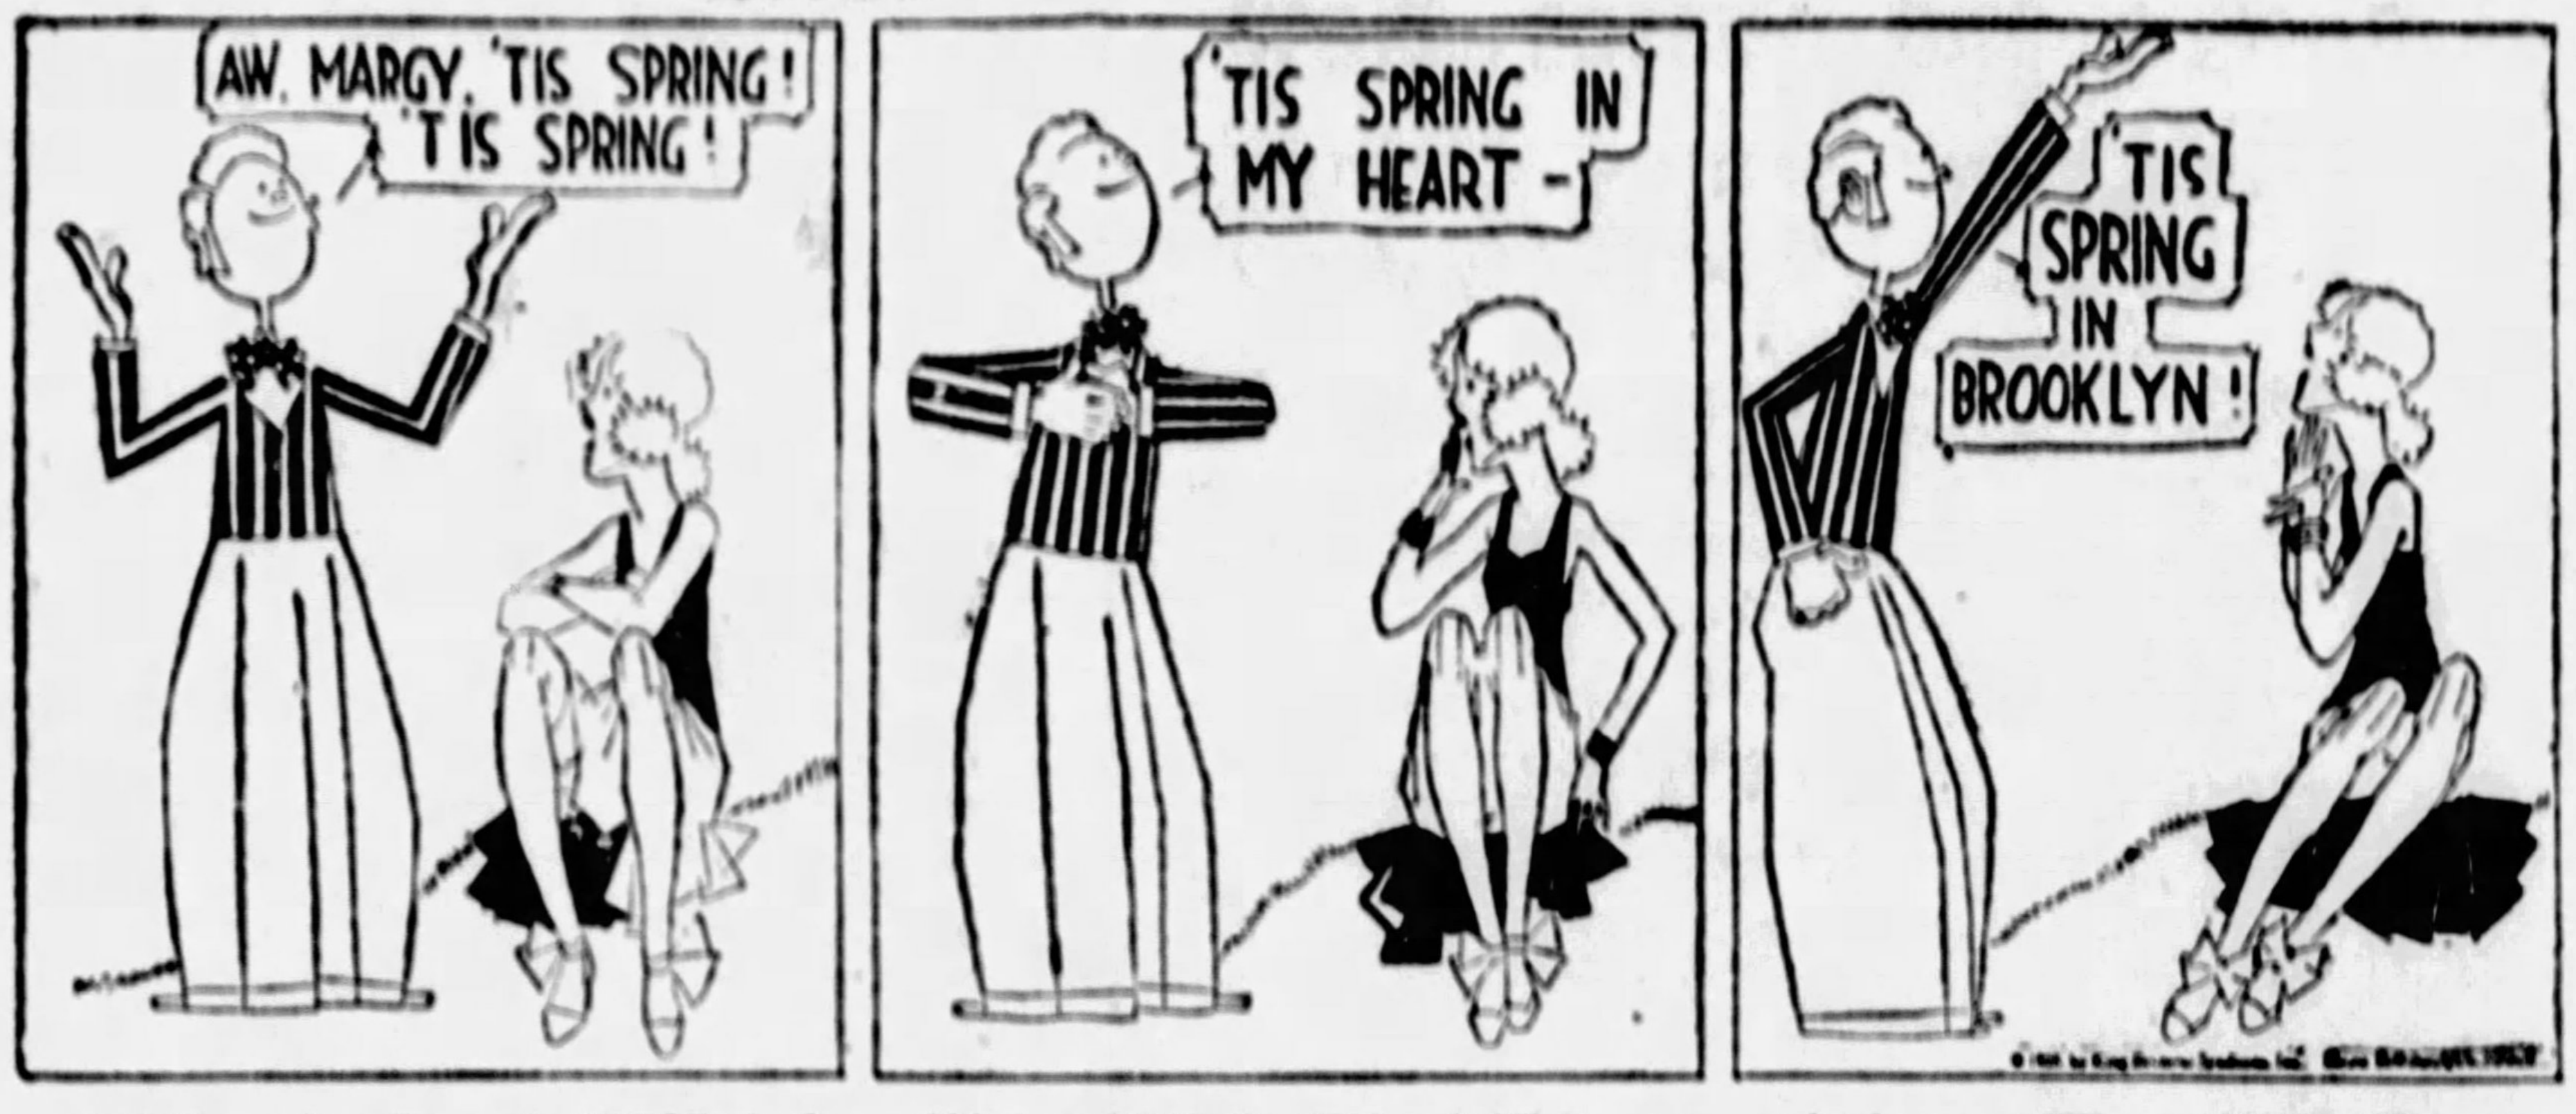
Story by Lloyd Mayer

By John Held, Jr.



AW, MARGY, 'TIS SPRING! 'TIS SPRING!
'TIS SPRING IN MY HEART—
'TIS SPRING IN BROOKLYN!
IT'S THE PROPER SEASON FOR IT! AM I RIGHT?
John Held Jr

"GOSH, my dear, I'm on the VERGE of colLAPSE at this point—I mean I'm HONestly WHIPPED down to my WARP and WOOF because I'm getting RAPidly OSsified over the SPRING situation because practicably EV'ry youth I know keeps SPOUTing a lot of LYRical TRIPE at me on account of its being SPRING, which is so PERfectly riDIC and ASinine, my dear, because how can it HELP it? And ANYways it HAPpens every YEAR, my dear, with monOTonous reguLARity so you'd think anybody with any SENSE would be USED to it and not get so terribly exCIted and all but I mean EV'ry Spring it's the same THING, my dear—these odd souls who are purSUing you MADly with protestations of afFECtion and all, inSIST on REGistering the SEAson's BLEATings—can you BEAR it, my dear? Well, ANYways, I was TOO imPRESSED, my dear, because I mean the LAtest victim of the VERnal madness is that odd oaf PHWHEN who's so ideallStic or something he can see ROmance in BROOKlyn! GOSH, my dear, I NEARly had hysTERics when he began DIScoursing to me on the subject because I mean his exPRESSion SIMply asSASinated me, no less, and I give you my WORD I was PRACticably ready to ROLL over and BUTter myself with disMAY, my dear—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Mary Harrison Faces Her Ordeal With Veritzen

I WAITED only until I was sure Mary was safely in the library before going down to Lillian. But I carefully went down the back stairs and out doors, coming to the veranda from the lawn that neither Mr. Veritzen nor Mary might see me passing the library door.

"Well! has the guillotine dropped yet?" Lillian queried softly as I sat down beside her, but her eyes belied the flippancy of her words, and I knew that she was nearly as anxious over Mary's fate as I was.

"I don't know," I answered. "I just sent Mary into the library.

"Well! probably her head won't reach the basket for a few minutes yet," she commented. "I can see by your face that you don't think she has much chance."

"I don't know what to think," I said heavily, and Lillian shot a shrewd glance at me.

"You look all done up, old dear," she said sympathetically. "Would it help any to tell me about it?"

"There isn't much to tell about Mary," I returned, very sure that I could not relate to Lillian the tale of Mr. Veritzen's theatrical emotionalism, when I had made my foolish little appeal for Mary. "He said that he had an appointment in an hour, and I gathered the impression that it was some distance from here. I do not think he will prolong the interview."

"I know Phil can use a lot of words to express a lone thought when he wants to, but he sure made a record this time," she commented dryly.

"But he didn't say anything about Mary until the very end of the interview," I explained. "The rest of the time he was talking about Eleanor Lincoln."

"Aha! the plot thickens!" Lillian laughed.

Her falsetto was irresistible, and I laughed until I was afraid the two in the library might hear me. When I recovered my breath, I told her everything that Mr. Veritzen had said concerning Eleanor Lincoln.

She listened with marked attention until I had finished.

"The poor cracked filbert!" she drawled. "He must be getting old. But it's a lucky thing for—for Dicky that the Lincoln persists in her refusal to pose with the dog, Fedor. He would have wasted a lot of time getting the drawings done. The Dicky bird ought to stick to professional models. Curiously, he never chirps to them. They might be part of the furniture for all he knows."

I made a sorry attempt at a smile.

"You mean, I suppose that it's a lucky thing for me," I said. "But, really, it doesn't matter. If he weren't here, he'd be somewhere else."

It was a banal wording of my cynical conclusion that every so often my husband's search for exactly the right material for his illustrations led him into an artistically romantic or romantically artistic flirtation with some beautiful girl. Lillian leaned over and put her hand over mine.

"Don't get too bitter, girl!" she said. "There's a long life before you, and you don't want to poison it. But 'by the pricking of my thumbs,' I believe the interview is over. Here they come now!"

Home Skin Peeler Keeps Face Young

Since the discovery that mercolized wax would absorb and remove a discolored complexion, its use has grown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be enjoyed at any age if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficent cleansing and rejuvenating action is quickly apparent, as it gently and gradually peels off the old, faded outer skin and reveals the fresh, young underneath skin in a few days. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and age lines, use as face lotion 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel. At all drug stores.

Eric Von Stroheim May Direct Gloria Swanson in Film Story, "The Swamp," Which He Wrote

By REGINA CREWE

(Copyright 1928, King Features Syndicate.)

LOS ANGELES, May 2.

NOW that Marquis Hank is safe home in Hollywood from that Gay Paree he may be able to assist Gloria in deciding upon the next Swanson production for United Artists, The final choice lies between two stories, One of these centers about the life of a woman evangelist of the Aimee Semple McPherson type, And it is said the yarn is similar to Alice Brady's stage play, "Bless You, Sister," which made quite a hit on Broadway, But I think that when the votes are counted the other story will win out, It is an original by Erich Von Stroheim and is tiled "The Swamp." It is now an open secret that the talented "Von" has been secured to direct Gloria's next. And what more natural than that they should give him the story which he himself has written?

Gloria is making her headquarters in a seven-room bungalow on the film booking offices lot. Bertram Millhouser will assist with the production in which Joseph P. Kennedy, the Boston banker, who has all 10 fingers in the motion picture pie, appears vitally interested. With a hard-hearted banker to keep Von Stroheim from shooting all the film that Mr. Eastman makes, it would seem that the combine of Gloria and this director-genius must assure a picture bigger and better even than "Sadie Thompson." So let's all give the little Marquise a big hand and hope that "The Swamp" keeps her on top of the movie heap where "Sadie" has boosted her.

There's no denying that a nice fat contract gives one a fine comfortable feeling these days of close-downs and cuts. But there's one girl who is in such constant demand that it's impossible for any one company to tie her down for more than one picture at a time. She is Hollywood's handsomest red-head—Margaret Livingston, and her latest engagement is to play another bold, bad baby role in the Columbia picture "The Gangster." Mitchell Lewis, whose face frightened Bull Montana, Louis Wolheim and Vic McLaglen, has been signed for the name part, while Alice Day will play the nice girl. Columbia is contemplating putting Roy D'Arcy and his smile into the picture. But as yet no one has signed "the papers."

It won't be long now before Dolores Del Rio resumes the state of single blessedness. The law's delays are almost over and her divorce will be granted during this merry month of May. Dolores insists that she will play a lone hand and that reports of her remarriage are simply the Mexican word for boloney. We Americans are not the only ones who are patriotic. This star from below the border is intensely so and it is one of her ambitions to star in a picture showing her countrymen as something more than peons and "greasers." Her other great ambition is to appear on the allegedly "legitimate" stage. Dolores plans to work and study during her film career to fit herself for the spoken drama. She is also quite positive on one other point. That is that she will be through with movies before movies get through with her. She says she'll make her exit smilingly the moment there ceases to be a genuine public demand for her picture. Dolores has a lot of good ideas—providing she sticks to them.

Estelle Taylor wires that she is between the devil and the deep blue sea. Which is how she refers to the movies and the stage. She doesn't know whether to quit films for a season to accept her offer from Belasco, or to stick to the celluloid. If she goes on the stage she'll be back to where she started. For it was from a role in "Come On Charlie" that she stepped into pictures. The play under consideration gives Estelle a part as a slangy stenog and also has a role for Hubby Jack Dempsey, which gives him a chance to pull on the mitts again. Jack and Estelle are visiting Niagara Falls before coming home. They've tried to do so several times but something always prevented. Estelle insists that no girl is properly married without a Niagara honeymoon.

Once upon a time Director James Cruze was married to Marguerite Snow. But they parted and Jim tried again with Betty Compson while Marguerite picked Neal Edwards for her second matrimonial venture. However, the four are great friends and Jim has just given his first wife's second husband a good part in the Cruze picture, "Excess baggage." Nothing like keeping good jobs in the family.

D. W. Griffith Puts Dante Legend on Screen

Dante's legend of the lovers of Rimini has presented itself to the imagination of a most varied order of creative artists throughout the centuries, and has found expression in every conceivable form of art. Stories of particular episodes taken together form the pages of history. Especially so when the story dealt with has grown to be an integral part of human culture and romances as in the Rimini tragedy, inexhaustibly suggestive because of its universal passion and appeal. Historically inspired by the Paolo and Francesca tragedy, poets, philosophers, painters, sculptors, musicians, dramatists of almost every nation have eagerly expressed the Dante allegory in their native labyrinths of fate.

In "Drums of Love," which reaches the Penn screen Monday, D. W. Griffith has introduced the lyrical legend to the motion picture, with Mary Philbin as a tender Emanuella, Lionel Barrymore portraying the savage insolence of unnatural power, and Don Alvarado as the gallant.

"Ouch, That Hurts!"

MARIE DRESSLER finds a way to pull the ear and hair of Marion Davies at the same time in "The Patsy." This is the latest Marion Davies comedy and it comes to the Penn shortly.

Parade Saturday Opens Stanley Jubilee

A parade Saturday morning will inaugurate the Stanley Theater's Jubilee Week celebration. Beginning Monday, special features will be on the bills of the various Stanley playhouses. Among these will be the appearance of four local champion marathon dancers—Eddie Leonard, Marianne Jacques, Tony Phillips and Teeny Neiman. They will appear in the Davis.

The parade Saturday, which will be held at 11:30 a. m., will be made up of actors, actresses and musicians appearing in the various Stanley theaters. There will be six musical organizations in the march, including Phil Spitalny and the Stanley Theater orchestra. The marathon dancers, booked for the Davis, also will be in the parade.

Mrs. John H. Ashby

Mrs. S. Bertha Ashby, wife of the Rev. John H. Ashby, of 87 Sampson avenue, Ingram, died yesterday in the West Penn Hospital. She was born in Devoran, Cornwall, Eng. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Miss Lillian Ashby, of Ypsilanti, Mich.; a son, A. L. Ashby, and two grandchildren, of Pittsburgh.

NEXT IN PITT IS "NOOSE"

"The Noose," by Willard Mack, will be next week's offering of the George Sharp Players in the Pitt Theater. The company will be augmented by several additions for this play.

The experiences of a healthy girl, who believes herself very delicate are the basis of Bebe Daniels' comedy, "Feel My Pulse," the photoplay attraction in the Davis for Stanley Jubilee Week, beginning Monday.

"Wings" still is being shown twice daily in the Nixon Theater, and to every woman attending the matinees this week, except Saturday, will be given a photograph of Charles Rogers, who plays the hero of this aviation film.

FRENCH RENEW FILM STUDY

PARIS, May 2.—(AP.)—The French cinema control commission will again take up the question of American films in France. M. Herriot, minister of Public Instructions, yesterday held a long conference with Will Hays, representing the American moving picture interests. Later he called a special meeting of the commission for Thursday to discuss the situation created in moving picture circles by recent developments, and devise ways and means to remedy it.

M. Herriot has been greatly impressed with the representations made by the French workers in American cinema houses in Paris, and he expressed confidence that a satisfactory solution would be reached.

Instead of sailing for the United States on the Majestic today, Mr. Hays will remain in Paris until a definite settlement is reached.

Coincident with the withdrawal by the American producers of the showing of films to the trade, came the announcement that the British had begun showing theirs.

M. Herriot intends to confer personally with the largest French moving picture interests today.

Pawned 100 Stolen Coats, $1 Each, Police Say

Alleged to have stolen more than 100 overcoats from automobiles, many of which were pawned for only a dollar or slightly more, Robert Street, 50, of 2222 Penn avenue will be arraigned in Central Police Court today.

He was arrested last night by city detectives, who said he was taking a coat from an automobile parked at Penn avenue and Thirty-third street.

HALF MILE OF HOSE LAID TO SQUIRREL HILL FIRE

An unoccupied frame dwelling at the rear of the Pittsburgh Country Club, near Waldron street, Squirrel Hill, was destroyed by fire last night as hundreds of residents of the district watched. Firemen had to lay half a mile of hose to the building, which was on club property and owned by the club. Damage was estimated at $500. The cause is unknown.

BELIEVED DEAD, W. VA. HEIR CLAIMS LEGACY

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., May 2.—Just as lawyers were preparing to act under the presumption that she was dead, Mrs. Emma Willard, of Chicago, appeared in court and identified herself as the heir to $1,500 from the estate of her father, Theodore P. Bowers. Mrs. Willard, who left Martinsburg 15 years ago, said a fortune-teller had advised her of the situation.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERS LOOT WALNUT STREET HOME

Thieves stole $1,000 worth of jewelry and $6 cash from the home of John F. Mueller, 6343 Walnut street, during the absence of the family yesterday.

VETERAN RACER DEAD

MONONGAHELA, Pa., May 2.—George W. (Dude) McFeeley, veteran and widely-known harness horse figure, who raced several famous horses, is dead at his home here. He was 56 years of age.

3 and 2

by JULIUS LEVIN

HERB PENNOCK, veteran Yankee southpaw, and George Uhle, righthander of the Indians, are leading the major league pitchers with four victories and no defeats.

Pennock, however, holds a slight edge over the Cleveland star, as he has started four games and has gone the distance in all of them.

The tall New York southpaw defeated the Macks, 8 to 3, the Red Sox, 7 to 2, and the Senators twice by scores of 4 to 0 and 7 to 5.

Uhle completed three out of the four games he has started this year, defeating Chicago, 8 to 2, Detroit, 5 to 4, St. Louis, 2 to 1, and Detroit for the second time, 10 to 4. In the last game he was lifted after pitching eight and two-third innings.

Sparky Adams has hit safely in every game the Pirates have played with his former teammates, the Chicago Cubs. The two clubs have played five games to date and Adams has connected for seven hits, including a double, and has registered four sacrifices in 16 trips to the plate.

PAUL WANER, batting champion of the National League last season, has hit safely in his last nine games and in 14 out of 15 games played by the Pirates so far this season.

Lloyd Waner is running his brother a close second, having connected safely in each of his last five contests and in 13 out of 15 games the Bucs have played to date.

Burleigh Grimes has appeared in five games for the Pirates this season and has connected for at least one hit in all of them. The veteran spit-ball star has made eight hits in 17 trips to the plate, which is batting .471 in any man's league.

THE Athletics, who have won their last seven games, have taken four in a row from the Red Sox without losing a decision. The A's defeated the Red Sox twice in Philadelphia, 11 to 6 and 3 to 2, and the same number of times in Boston, 4 to 1 and 5 to 3.

Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, veteran stars of the White Elephants, are playing important roles in the present winning streak of the Mackmen.

The New York Yankees are having no difficulty winning consistently from the Senators, having won five in a row from Bucky Harris and his supporting cast. The Yanks defeated them twice in New York and three times in Washington without the loss of a game.

CHARLES (RED) LUCAS apparently suffered no ill effects from pitching a 17-inning victory over the Cardinals recently, going the distance against the same team yesterday to register his fourth victory of the year, 6 to 3.

N. Y. RING OFFICIALS BEGIN PROBE

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—Jack Delaney's 73-second knockout defeat by the Boston sailor, Jack Sharkey, is to undergo a thorough scrutiny by the New York State Athletic Commission.

Rumors that the fight was not "on the level" and that Delaney had not properly trained have led the boxing fathers to start an investigation that will bring drastic action should any evidence of wrongdoing be uncovered.

Managers of the two boxers scoffed at the persistent reports that the bout was not "on the up and up."

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, revealed that before the fighters were called into the ring at Madison Square Garden Monday night he had instructed Lou Magnolia, the referee, to inform Sharkey and Delaney they would be thrown out of the ring if there was anything wrong with their actions.

"All I heard before the fight," said Farley, "were the same rumors that a lot of other people heard. I instructed Magnolia when he called the fighters to the center of the ring to tell them what I had heard.

"I told him to say that if there was anything wrong with their actions, both would be thrown out of the ring. I haven't seen Magnolia since the fight. I assume he obeyed orders."

Joe Jacobs, manager of Delaney, said:

"Delaney was at 178 pounds, his best fighting weight, and in as good condition as he has ever been. He was simply hit on the chin as any other fighter might be."

Said Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's pilot:

"It seems to me that the only thing wrong with the bout was that Sharkey fought as he is capable of fighting and Delaney was knocked out. I think it is silly to say the fight was not waged on its merits. I know so far as Sharkey and myself are concerned everything was strictly on the level."

Promoter Tex Rickard said:

"I failed to see anything wrong. Rather I saw Sharkey in one of his greatest exhibitions of fighting ability and ring fury."

DELANEY IS SILENT

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 2.—(INS.)—So far as Jack Delaney is concerned, all comment on the proposed New York State Athletic Commission investigation into the Sharkey-Delaney fight must come from his manager, Joe Jacobs. Delaney had heard nothing of the so-called investigation until late last night. His only comment was, beside referring all queries to his manager in New York, "I never threw a fight in my life."

SHARKEY UNWORRIED

BOSTON, May 2.—(INS.)—Jack Sharkey was not worried today over the New York Athletic Commission's investigation of his one-round knockout of Jack Delaney in New York. At his home in Brighton, Sharkey said he was getting together the fishing tackle preparatory to a trout fishing bout in the backwoods of New Hampshire.

Sharkey's view over the New York fight probe was that every time he has done anything in the ring that amounts to anything he is in line for an investigation. He goes out to do his best to give the public full return for its money and when he triumphs that triumph is spoiled by an investigation.

Now, however, Sharkey said he was "getting used to it."

WISE PITCHES NO-HIT GAME

Judy Wise, Shady Side Academy's best hurler, turned in a no-hit no-run victory over Arnold Prep on the Aspinwall diamond yesterday, the final score being 9 to 0, after seven hectic innings.

In other school games, Schenley whipped Ralston, 14 to 1; Latimer trimmed Allegheny Vocational, 14 to 1; Westinghouse defeated Peabody, 7 to 3; Arsenal lost to Fifth Avenue, 11 to 5. Allegheny made it two in a row by setting down Carrick, 7 to 4, and Turtle Creek Union walloped Edgewood, 11 to 5.

Stowe Township High beat Latimer Junior High, 7 to 6, in a close game.

The Duke Preps surprised the champion St. John's nine with a 4-to-2 win.

Panther, Butler Fives Feature At Dedication

Pitt and Butler College, two of the three schools to register basketball victories over Notre Dame last season, have arranged a game to be played at Indianapolis December 13, it was announced by Panther sports officials today.

The game, the first on Pitt's 1928-29 schedule, will mark the opening of the Panthers' Western trip. Wisconsin is to be met December 14, Northwestern December 15 and Ohio State December 17.

A feature of the Pitt-Butler game is to be the dedication of Butler's new field house, an indoor sports plant with a seating capacity of 16,000.

GIANTS DROP MANGUM

NEW YORK, May 2.—Leo Mangum, right-hand pitcher, was released by the Giants today to the Buffalo club of the International League. Leo was obtained from the Buffalo club last winter on an optional agreement. He formerly was with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Card Hospital List Mounts; Bill Sherdel Ill

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—Seven St. Louis Cardinals were on the disabled list today.

The newest addition to the list was Bill Sherdel, star southpaw, who went to a hospital suffering from fever after injury to an ankle recently.

Chick Hafey, outfielder, who suffered a slight concussion of the brain when he ran into a wall in Monday's game, probably will be out of the lineup for a week or more. Others on the sick list were Waittie Holm, third baseman, who is recovering from an operation; Catcher Bob O'Farrell, suffering from a dislocated thumb; Catcher Gus Mancuso, split finger; Jim Bottomley, influenza, and Howard Williamson, utility outfielder, with broken ankle.

BOWLING and BILLIARDS

PREVIOUS leaders fell thick and fast yesterday as a wave of high scoring swept the annual Merry Widow duckpin tournament, now in progress at the Capital alleys, Homestead.

Thompson and Junstrom supplied the fireworks in the men's doubles, rolling into first place with an impressive 1085 total, and in the singles Thompson kept up his fine work by rolling into the runner-up berth with 602. Renquist placed third in the men's singles with 592.

No new leaders appeared in the women's singles division, but in the women's doubles Lucas and Bingham advanced into third place with 757. The former rolled exceptionally well, turning in games of 135, 143 and 138. The tourney is to continue throughout the week. Yesterday's scores:

Men's singles—Morrison, 393; Arbuckle, 496; R. Miller, 418; Senick, 412; Sullivan, 397. Graham, 481. Arbuckle, 365; Thompson, 602; Quinn, 456; Junstrom, 498; A. Early, 468; R. Lininger, 410; C. HEINZ LEAGUE BANQUETS

L. M. Melius served as toastmaster and H. C. Anderson awarded prizes to team and individual winners at the annual banquet of the Men's 57 Club bowling league at the University Club last night. Kleespies and Fulton captured most of the individual honors.

HIGH SCORES AT BELLEVUE

Rolling in the annual Bellevue Knights of Columbus tournament, Joe Ellinger and Frank Saunders turned in one of the highest doubles scores in local tournament history when they piled up a total of 1,174. Ellinger rolled games of 180, 202 and 242 and Saunders contributed games of 168, 180 and 202. John Adams won the singles prize with 577.

NORTH BOROUGHS BANQUET

Team and individual winners in the North Boroughs Trinity Lutheran duckpin league were honored at the league's fourth annual banquet, held last night at the Fort Pitt Hotel. John O. Quaill presided as toastmaster, and Rev. G. B. Tegan, pastor of the Trinity Church of Avalon, and a great bowling enthusiast, was the principal speaker. A series of numbers by the National Quartet featured the musical program. The "Ravens" were rewarded for winning the league championship, and individual prizes were received by H. O. Meister, owner of high season average; C. Hagy, second high average; John Speer, high single game; Charles Roth, second high single game; C. Hagy, high three-game total, and A. C. Lucas, second high three-game total.

Officers for next season were elected as follows: C. M. Schuster, president; C. Hagy, vice president; Clarence Schneider secretary, and E. C. Kornman, treasurer.

GRAYS TOP SCOTTDALE

The Homestead Grays defeated the Scottdale club of the Mid-Atlantic League at Scottdale last evening, 10-2. The losers committed six errors.

MAMAUX SETS NEW MARK

NEWARK, N. J., May 1.—Al Mamaux, formerly of Pittsburgh, hurling ace of the Newark Bears, has created a pitching record which never has been approached in minor or major leagues. In 1926, the song-bird singer turned in 19 victories. Last year he won 25 and this season he has two triumphs to his credit for a total of 46.

The record lies in the fact that Mamaux scored every victory "on his own." In other words, he did not relieve pitchers to get credit for a win.

WHITE SOX LOSE STARS AS EASTERN TRIP NEARS

CHICAGO, May 2.—(AP.)—Ted Lyons, White Sox pitching ace and Moe Berg, first-string catcher, will not accompany the team when it leaves on its tour of the Eastern League cities tonight.

Lyons is in the hospital recovering from an attack of the flu. Berg has a bad finger.

HELEN WILLS, FEVER GONE, OUT FOR AIRING

PARIS, May 2.—(AP.)—Helen Wills was feeling so much better this morning that she was able to go out for a half an hour's airing. Her cold, however, persists and the doctor told her she must be extremely careful during the next few days. Fever, which was again present last night, disappeared this morning and the other symptoms were alleviated.

The California tennis star now counts on leaving on the ninth for Amsterdam.

Sore, burning feet soothed instantly by new healing vanishing cream
—OR NO COST

NO need now to suffer the tortures of sore, tired, aching, burning feet — or corns, bunions, blisters and callouses. For specialists have perfected a marvelous new cream that banishes foot pains and aches almost instantly.

How It Works

This wonderful cream is an improvement on a formula used by the ancients for centuries, to heal away foot aches, pains and burning caused by the hot sands of the desert. It contains the same basic, world-old unguents—frankincense and myrrh—and other rare, penetrating, healing oils.

Ordinary plasters, powders and baths do not reach the real source of sore, aching, burning feet.

But COOLENE, as this new cream is called, quickly penetrates to the inflamed nerves — soothes and cools them — relieves congestion in the tiny veins—and almost immediately your tired, tortured, burning feet are cooled, healed and refreshed.

Get a Jar Today!

COOLENE is absolutely greaseless, vanishes instantly and cannot stain. Why suffer longer? Get COOLENE today—apply night and morning—and once more enjoy happy, glorious, all-day foot comfort. Your money will be gladly refunded if you are not more than pleased.

PITT TO DROP MANAGER OFFICE

SPORT COMMENT
by JAMES J. LONG

Return to Lineup of Earl Smith Helpful Development in Pirate Situation — Bucs One Victory Shy of .500 Mark—Aldridge May Be Traded by Giants — Grantham One of Majors' Bright Lights.

ANOTHER helpful development for the Pirates is that Catcher Earl Smith's leg has mended sufficiently to enable him to resume his place behind the bat occasionally and thus lift part of the burden off the shoulders of Johnny Gooch. Yesterday's game was the first in which Smith has caught on the home grounds, and the first in which he has appeared in any role except that of pinch-hitter since he was injured in Cincinnati in the game of April 14.

Earl Smith.

It aids the Bucs greatly to have "Smithy" fit for duty again. His bat adds a big punch to the offense and he helps in many other ways.

WITH Smith and Gooch available for duty and Hemsley in reserve, Manager Bush is more strongly fortified in the catching department than at any time in more than two weeks.

Gooch has been holding the club up well since Smith was hurt, and on account of the Bucs' good showing in winning five of their last seven games, the little skipper probably will keep Johnny on the job in the majority of games, until Smith's leg is thoroughly sound.

BUT as "Oil" will be able to take an occasional turn in the meantime, Johnny will be relieved of some of the strain and will be able to do better work himself in consequence. After catching seven innings of yesterday's game, being lifted at that stage for a pinch-hitter, Smith said he felt no ill effects in the damaged prop.

YESTERDAY'S win over the ambitious Cubs, whom they have beaten four times in six meetings this year, left the Pirates only one victory shy of the .500 mark and elevated them to fifth place, only half a box score behind the Cardinals. If they keep up their present batting gait behind their pitchers, it won't be long until they are in the neighborhood of the top.

As a matter of fact they are only two and one-half games below first place today.

Connie Mack.

THE results of yesterday's games caused a wholesale shifting on the National League standing. The Giants grabbed the leadership, the Dodgers dropped to second, the Pirates rose to fifth, the Braves jumped to sixth and Cubs sank to seventh. Such changes don't mean a thing in these early days. They are apt to be followed by another series of shifts the following day. In one respect, however, the National League may be said to have already taken on an appearance of normalcy. The Phils are in last place.

IT IS being pointed out that the Athletics have a great chance to beat out the Yankees for the American League pennant this year, not only because of the classy, if aged, playing timber that Mack has gathered, but because of the abundance of managerial help that Connie will have during the season.

There are no fewer than four ex-major league managers and two former minor league managers on Mack's board of strategy in Ty Cobb, who managed the Tigers; Tris Speaker, who piloted the Indians; Eddie Collins and Kid Gleason, both of whom bossed the White Sox, and Ira Thomas and Earl Mack, who were successful minor league pilots.

BEYOND question it is the largest number of strategists ever assembled on one club, but many a fan has his doubts as to how much good all the former generals will do. Some one

THEY GUARD THE HICKORY FOR THE PIRATES

The afternoons drag until school is out for these youths, now that the Pirates are home for a long stretch of games at Forbes Field. They are the boys who guard the bats for the Corsairs. There are other batboys for the visiting club, of course. Wonder if these lads behold baseballs, bats and gloves, not to mention their heroes of the diamond, creeping into the pages of their geographies, histories and English lessons? No one has timed the youngsters, but it is reported that they make better time than Charley Paddock rushing from their schoolrooms to Forbes Field when the afternoon session is dismissed.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR IN FULL CHARGE

By HARRY KECK.
Sun-Telegraph Sports Editor.

THE University of Pittsburgh likely will abolish the office of graduate athletic manager, a position which Karl E. Davis recently resigned after filling it for 15 years.

This was learned today, after inquiry at headquarters as to the likely successor to Davis failed to elicit any definite information. It was said that the name of Davis' successor would have to be submitted to the athletic council first and then to the university board of trustees. From an inside source, however, it was divulged that the office would be scrapped and all the duties formerly connected with it would be absorbed by the new athletic director, Don Harrison, who recently succeeded Elmer Blakeslee, who resigned after holding the position for a short time.

It also develops that the Alumni Association already has renominated Davis for the position of secretary, a portfolio he resigned simultaneously with stepping out as graduate athletic manager, and that he will be re-elected. The ballots are in the mail and the election is to be decided before commencement day, June 13. Whether or not Davis consents to accept the position again, the fact remains that the action of the alumni organization represents a fine vote of confidence in him.

Peltzer May Be Lost

WICKERSDORF, Germany, May 2.—(AP.)—Dr. Otto Peltzer, German runner, has injured an ankle. He has been one of Germany's greatest hopes for success in the Olympic games.

Dr. Peltzer injured his right ankle when he was taking part in a field day at Poessneck on Sunday. He was playing handball and fell in a general scuffle near the goal.

At first it was believed that the injury was not serious, but the attending physician now fears that weeks may elapse before the runner will be able to resume training and it may then be too late for him to get in condition for the games in Amsterdam.

HOW BASEBALL'S STARS TWINKLED YESTERDAY

Babe Ruth, Yankees, hit home run No. 5, a triple and two singles in five times up and scored three runs and drove in two.

Lou Gehrig, Yankees, got double, triple and walked once in four times up and scored two runs and drove in two.

Harry Heilmann, Tigers, made a double in five times up and scored one run.

Ty Cobb, Athletics, singled once in five times at bat, driving in two runs.

Tris Speaker, Athletics, failed to hit safely in four trips.

Rogers Hornsby, Braves, doubled once in three times up and scored one run.

Kiki Cuyler, Cubs, singled once in four times up.

Paul Waner, Pirates, singled once in four times up and scored one run.

A. A. U. SCORED ON PADDOCK

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—It seems to not a few of those on the sidelines that if any question of Charley Paddock's amateur status is involved in his motion picture-personal appearance tour it should be settled before and not after the Olympic games.

It would appear a trifle inconsistent to have the Amateur Athletic Union, as Paddock says it will, decide after the big games whether the California sprinter could or could not properly accept any of the proceeds of his enterprise.

What if the A. A. U. decided that acceptance of such profit professionalized Paddock? Presumably, in that case, the precedent of old Jim Thorpe's case would be followed and America would return, with apologies, any medals or laurels that the famous sprinter happened to collect at Amsterdam.

The timing of Paddock's film enterprise to coincide with the Olympic preparatory period when the sprinter would be most conspicuous already has precipitated some criticism.

CHILLY SAUCE
By CHILLY DOYLE

MANAGERS and players throughout the western end of the National League circuit predict a remarkable race in the National League in the present season, with at least five clubs as serious contenders.

A swing around the four cities of the West indicates that each city has a formidable contender for the honor now in possession of the Pirates. There was some doubt regarding Cincinnati, but opposing players now seem to think that the Reds will be factors

HONOR CUYLER WITH BANQUET

Hazen (Ki) Cuyler, star outfielder of the Cubs, was given a tremendous reception by the baseball fans of New Kensington at a big banquet and entertainment held in the interest of the diamond sport at the Allegheny river town last night.

The affair was held in the rooms of New Kensington K. of C., and was very well attended. The youngsters sat spellbound as the former Pirate delivered an interesting discourse on the game.

Frank Moran, one of the leading citizens of the borough, was master of ceremonies. Burgess Dan Dunn made the welcome address and Charles J. Doyle, baseball writer of The Sun-Tele, gave a sports talk.

Cuyler's speech was the big feature of the evening. In the audience were many members of the ball clubs of the New Kensington district, and these young men felt they had experienced a rare treat in hearing the inside stuff and sidelights from the famous player.

Before leaving the honored guest was pleasantly surprised when presented with a huge chest of the latest designs of aluminum ware. In presenting the gift the toastmaster said it was the wish of the folks of New Kensington that the food cooked on the kitchen articles would keep him hitting .350 or better for many years to come.

CHAMPIONS GAIN IN PENNANT CHASE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

SHOWING a swift attack to blend with high-grade pitching the Pirates are once again a threat as they move notch by notch toward the top. By winning two straight from the Cubs in the present series at Forbes Field, the Bucocs have leap-frogged their Chicago rivals and are now in fifth place.

The last clash of the series is on for this afternoon. Manager Bush has John Miljus in shape for action on the slab. Either Charlie Root or Freddie Blake is expected to twirl for the Bruins.

The game in the Oakland orchard yesterday brought out some lamentable features. The old "dust-off" ball seemed to be on display, the pitch almost causing a fist fight between Capt. Traynor of the Pirates and Pitcher Guy Bush of the Cubs.

ACCUSE HILL

The controversy arose after the visitors became convinced that Riggs Stephenson and Lefty Grimm were "dusted off" by Carmen Hill. The two Chicago hitters had to

CISSELL REAL STAR

CHICAGO, May 2.—(AP.)—Bill Cissell, White Sox $150,000 recruit shortstop, has hit safely in 14 games for the Pale Hose so far this season and has been the bright light in the team's play.

Sandlot Baseball

by Tom Birks

MARTIN DEHIGO, classed as one of the greatest baseball stars ever to leave Havana has reported to Manager Posey of the Homestead Grays and Pittsburgh will get a look at the new star next Saturday evening when the Grays meet the Eastern League all-stars at Forbes Field.

Dehigo is coming with a big reputation and with Beckwith on deck the fans should see a galaxy of stars this season in the Grays' games.

On Sunday the Grays will travel to Sharon to meet the newly formed Cerceo Oils, who defeated Charleroi last week.

The matter of pitchers being out of condition was noticeable last evening at Stowe when St. Johns met their league rivals in an exhibition game. Ziggy Anderson started for the Strippers and did not allow a hit for three frames, then the Rox batters found the range and Anderson retired. Clark went to the mound and was as wild as a March hare. He could not find the plate and when he did, basehits were aplenty.

Turk went in for Manager McGrady and he was hit with a batted ball and carried off the field. Turk is a good pitcher and his injury at this time is going to hurt the Strip aggregation. But Gardner has lined up a real slugging outfit. Conn was the hero in the latter part of the game, the second baseman hitting a home run with the sacks loaded.

It is very evident that pitchers will have to take things easy, else there is going to be plenty of sore arms.

Over on the North Side the Young Men's Civic Club had a real practice session, enough candidates for two squads being on the job. A new manager, Al Duffy, has been named to lead the North Siders this season. Duffy has been a loyal booster of the Civic outfit and should pilot a winner.

But it is very evident that few positions on the team are cinched. Jimmy Mitchell covering the hot corner looks as the only sure bet at the first session last night.

Pemberton and Johnny Mitchell, the regular twirlers, are going to get quite a little help from the new men Duffy has lined up. Rosenthal, who was with Summit last season, will be with the club together with O'Connell, a right-hander with lots of stuff. Gruber and Herron handling the receiving have a new help in Clover from Coraopolis, who flashed plenty of snappy receiving last evening.

Bobby Allebaugh looks good around the shortfield. Bobby was always one of the best sandlotters in the district, but seemed weak hitting. This season Allebaugh is standing up there taking a healthy cut. Somebody unearthed a couple of brothers named Gibson for the outfield, and they sure looked to have plenty of competition.

Manager Duffy announced following the workout that the second session will be held at Phipps Playgrounds tomorrow evening, when the Kaufmann outfit of the Industrial League will be met.

Manager Gardner did not pitch for Stowe last night. He started Saltic and then Wojanis. Wojanis was with Yost last season, and getting into faster company should make a real pitcher.

Tartans Win First Meet

By JESS CARVER.

NOTRE DAME'S four-man tennis team, undefeated in half a dozen matches so far this season, and able to down the Dukes' veteran net squad yesterday by a 6-0 score, will play its second Pittsburgh match today, meeting the Pitt varsity on the Stadium courts. The Irish-Panther match is scheduled for 3 p. m.

Dave O'Loughlin

The match will be the first of the season for the Panthers, who have had engagements with Wash-Jeff and Ohio State either rained or snowed out so far this season. Notre Dame has won from Michigan, Purdue, Iowa and Duquesne among others.

The Dukes put up a valiant battle yesterday, and despite lack of condition, due to the inclement weather which has held both college track and tennis teams back this spring, gave the Irish a long afternoon.

In the singles, Markey, Notre Dame, defeated Jim Creighton of the Dukes in straight sets, 6-0, 6-3. Griffin, N. D., downed Joe Olko, Duquesne, 6-3, 6-4. Burns, N. D., won from Pete Collodi, 8-10, 6-3, 6-2, and Ruckleshouse, N. D., won from Sam Keller, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

In the doubles, Markey and Griffin downed Olko and Creighton, 6-1, 5-7, 8-6, and Ruckleshouse and Burns topped Boland and Smeaton, 6-1, 6-2.

ROSENBERG HONORED

Jacob (Jock) Rosenberg, Duquesne University Basketball star, president of the Duquesne U. Monogram Club, and a senior in the School of Pharmacy, will lead the 1928-29 Duke cage varsity. Jock was the unanimous choice of the basketball letter men for the honor, having been elected at the annual basketball banquet at the Fort Pitt Hotel last night.

Only six varsity letters were awarded by the athletic council, the smallest number ever to be awarded at Duquesne. Those winning their "D," besides Rosenberg, were Capt. Jerry Reich, Ganzy Benedict, Joe Vernon, Brud Stephens and Eddie Losman.

Rosenberg's selection met with the hearty approval of all those connected with the university.

Father Henry McDermott, chairman of the athletic council, Manager of Athletics John Holohan; Assistant Football Coach John (Scout) Weibel; Father Dodwell and Coach Chick Davies responded to toasts.

Manager Holohan announced that the Dukes would meet Manhattan College of New York City, Catholic University, Villa Nova, American U., DePaul and loyola of Chicago in basketball next year.

TARTAN TRACKERS WIN

Piling up an advantage in second and third places, the Carnegie Tech varsity track and field team defeated the P. A. A. in a dual meet in the Tartan Bowl yesterday afternoon, 70 to 64.

The P. A. A. athletes, handicapped by the absence of Bill Robusch, pole vault and high jump star, whose presence would have assured a P. A. A. triumph, won 10 first places. Tech took 10 seconds and 12 thirds. There was no third place in the hammer throw.

The P. A. A. won the 100, 440, mile and 2-mile races, and the 120-yard hurdles, and then carried off firsts in the shot put, discus throw, broad jump and hammer.

Pete Bowen, ineligible Pitt flyer, competing for the P. A. A., took three firsts, winning the 100, 440 and the 120-yard high hurdle events. Archibald won the shot put and the discus.

The best marks were turned in by Bowen in the 440, when he traveled the distance in 51 seconds, and by A. E. Rose, in the broad jump, with a leap of 21 feet 6 inches.

The Pitt net varsity will meet Wash-Jeff in a dual meet at Washington, Pa., Friday afternoon. The match will be the third to be scheduled by the Panthers and Presidents tthis spring. Wash-Jeff defeated Bethany yesterday by a score of 6 to 1.

FIGHT RESULTS

At St. Louis—Pierre Charles defeated Jack McAuliffe, 10 rounds; Jimmy Mahoney defeated Tom Pivac, 10 rounds; Dave Knost knocked out Sandy Moore, one round.

At Portland, Me.—George Chabot defeated Pete Petrolle, 12 rounws.

RING BOUTS FEATURE BALL CLUB BENEFIT

Eight boxing bouts will feature a smoker under the auspices of the Carnegie Steel Baseball Club in Turner Hall, Duquesne, tonight. Vaudeville entertainment also is listed. Phil Scello, Jack Bany and Dick and Ed Gibbons, heavyweights, are the professional boxers who will appear.

The O'Hara Midgets also are booked, along with the following: Tony Ryan vs. Midget Young, both of Duquesne; Sammy Gross of McKeesport vs. Johnny Wilson of Duquesne and Bunny Dynusky vs. Zach Wheat, both of Duquesne. Jules Beck is in charge of arranging the bouts.

BAMBINO ONE BEHIND 1927 HOMER SCHEDULE

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Babe Ruth is one behind his 1927 home run schedule, having made Nos. 5 and 6 last year on May 1. He, however, did not get No. 7 until May 10, 1927, which gives him eight days to hit another circuit drive and tie his 1927 record in which he finished with 60 homers.

Babe hit No. 5 yesterday off Fred Marberry, making his fourth homer this season against Washington.

Gavuzzi Adds to Lead

LINCOLN, Ill., May 1.—(AP.)—Great Britain's hope in C. C. Pyle's coast-to-coast foot race, Peter Gavuzzi, increased his lead over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., when with Seth Gonzales of Denver, ,he led the 70 surviving runners in the 59th control. Gavuzzi and Gonzales time for the 31.6 miles from Springfield, was 3:52:24.

The bristle bearded Britisher has traversed the 2,220.7 miles from Los Angeles in 366:15:11, five hours, 26 minutes and 45 seconds faster than Payne. The Oklahoman ran a dead heat with Roy McMurtry of Newhall Cal., and Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., Negro, yesterday, to finish eighth in 4:38:55.

Harry Rea of Long Beach, Cal., outpaced John Salo of Passaic, N. J., but the Easterner held on to third place with an elapsed time of 402:41:39. Rea finished third in 3:54:28, and Salo fourth in 4:12:02.

The other leaders in the transcontinental race and their elapsed time are:

Fourth—Phillips Granville, Hamilton, Ont., 407:11:57.

Fifth—Mike Joyce, Cleveland, 417:39:49.

Sixth—William Kerr, Minneapolis, 418:38:09.

GEORGE PEERY RELEASED

George Peery, left-hand pitcher of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club, this afternoon was released under option to the Wichita (Kan.) club of the Western League.

In announcing Peery's release, the Pirate management said that the southpaw would leave tonight to report to the Wichita club in Denver.

It was from the Wichita club that Peery was purchased last fall. He reported to the Buccaneers before the end of the 1927 season, but appeared in only one game and pitched only one inning. This spring he has not been used in a championship contest.

The release of Peery reduces the Pirate roster to 27 players—four catchers, 11 pitchers, six infielders and six outfielders. There are two other left-handers remaining on the slab corps, Fred Fussell and Lester Bartholomew.

JUDGE COHEN TO MAKE COHEN PRESENTATION

Eager to make "Andy Cohen Day," scheduled at Forbes Field next Tuesday afternoon when the Giants make their first appearance of the season in Pittsburgh, one of the greatest ever staged in this city for a Jewish athlete, the Young Men's Hebrew Association committee, sponsoring the affair, has chosen Judge Josiah Cohen, eminent local jurist, to make the presentation to the Giants' second baseman before the start of the first Pirate-Giant game.

The Young Men's Hebrew Association has purchased a large block of reserved seats behind the Giants' dugout and will be out in large numbers to see their favorite make his debut at Forbes Field.

Besides attending the game the officials of the Young Men's Hebrew Association have arranged an all-star amateur boxing show for next Tuesday night at which time the members of the Pirates and Giants will be guests of honor.

SHARKEY'S KAYO OF DELANEY

BOUT ENDS IN FIRST ROUND

Jack Sharkey of Boston upset the dope by knocking out Jack Delaney in the first round of their scheduled 15-round battle in Madison Square Garden, New York, Monday night, the end coming in 1 minute 13 seconds. Delaney was hammered down three times. Picture shows the final knockdown, with Sharkey moving along the ropes toward his corner.

SPORT COMMENT

said something once about too many cooks spoiling the broth. "Once a manager, always a manager," Fred Clarke used to say, and Mack may find himself getting too much advice for the good of the team.

IT IS now persistently rumored that Vic Aldridge will never pitch a ball for the Giants, and that before many more days have passed he may be traded to another club.

Vic Aldridge.

A three-cornered deal is said to be brewing, ,with the Giants, Braves and Reds as the prospective participants.

Thus far, no progress has been made, as New York wants Donohue from Cincinnati, in the triangular swap, and the Red management will not part with that pitcher, something that the Pittsburgh club itself learned when it tried to make a deal for Donohue last October. Boston also balks at taking Wally Pipp.

BABE RUTH is one home run behind his 1927 schedule in spite of his success in poling out his fifth of the present campaign yesterday. Last year, after the game of May 1, Bambino had six circuit slams to his credit, having made two that day against the Athletics. From another angle, however, it may be argued that Ruth still has two chances to keep pace with his 1927 record, as the Yanks have played only 13 games to date this year whereas last season they had played 15.

GEORGE GRANTHAM continues to be one of the shining lights of the big leagues this spring on attack. The Arizona boy is swatting the old pill to all parts of Allegheny county, and is a tremendous factor in practically every Pirate victory.

IN only three games out of 15 played so far, has Grantham been held hitless, and in the others he has been making life miserable for the opposing pitchers. Three more hits in three times up yesterday gave him a total of 23 for the season, and 10 of them have been extra-base wallops. It was Grantham's double that knocked in two runs and put the Pirates ahead in the sixth yesterday.

THE ancient wheeze that Washington was first in war, first in peace and last in the American League may soon be resurrected for use, if the slide of the Senators continues. Yesterday's defeat was their ninth in succession. They haven't won a game since April 18, ,when they took the Athletics over for the third straight time.

The drop of the Harrismen was the strangest form reversal of the season, as prior to hitting the skids they won five games in a row.

PIRATES

dodge in a hurry to get out of the way of the pitches.

Nothing was said at the time, but when Pie Traynor came up in the home half of the same frame, Bush threw one very close to Pie's head. Traynor opened up on Bush with a verbal attack and apparently dared him to field a bunt near the first base line, the implication being that Pie would get close enough to the pitcher to square the match. Traynor fouled off the ball in trying to bunt and eventually was thrown out.

As Traynor started out to his position he overtook Bush and the two players faced each other in a belligerent manner. Other athletes rushed to the scene, but there was no further trouble. And for the remainder of the game nobody was accused of throwing the "duster." The outburst started suddenly and was over almost as quickly.

The Pirates won the second [illegible] by the score of 4 to 1. Loose play on the part of Shortstop Woodie English upset the Bruins, who were enjoying a one-run margin up to the sixth. Sparky Adams scratched a hit off English to start the home half. The recruit played the grounder poorly and later in the inning he made a bad throw to the plate when he should have played for a double play by way of second and first.

English's play on Wright's bounder with Adams on third and P. Waner on first with none out and the Cubs one run in front was a bush-league effort. An experienced shortfielder would have gone after a double shuffle, giving the en[illegible] the tieing run in an effort to keep other runners off the sacks. The play was deep in the victory of the Freebooters. Grantham doubled in the same inning to score two runs. Ki Cuyler tried for a diving catch of Root's liner.

Hill held the Bears to five blows. Bush was moving along like a champion until the loose sixth. Recruit Welch, who relieved him, was hit freely in the eighth frame.

Manager McCarthy used a flock of emergency men in the eighth in an effort to get his club back in the game. Hack Wilson and Earl Webb were both inserted as pinch-hitters for English and Maguire, but Hill mastered both of these sluggers. Wilson has been out of the game with a lame ankle.

Earl Smith caught his first game of the season at Forbes Field. The big receiver was injured two weeks ago in Cincinnati. Earl came through with a single and a double in two trips to the plate. Brickell ran for him in the seventh and Gooch finished.

ITALIAN HEAVY OUTDOES GENE

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP.)—A genuine rival for Gene Tunney, intellectually at least, arrived today to seek fistic fame in America in the person of Umbarto Torrino, of Trieste, Italy. Umbarto, besides claiming familiarity with Shakespeare and the heavyweight championship of Italy, sings baritone and plays several musical instruments.

A six-foot-two husky, scaling 235 pounds, Torrino did not scoff at Tunney's fondness for Shakespearian literature, as Jack Dempsey did, nor was he as indifferent as Tom Heeney, the New Zealander, who sailed into port yesterday to fight the champion in July.

"I personally find Shakespeare, Plutarch, Heroditus and Homer pleasant and stimulating to read," the big Italian declared.

Not only does Torrino boast a wide knowledge of the classics, but he is a student of science and a musician with decided leanings toward the guitar, mandolin, ukulele and cello. Before entering the ring, Torrino was a student of engineering. A sister, Amelia, is one of the best known harpists in Italy.

The Italian giant claims a baritone voice of parts that acts as a stimulous during training.

"The heart must be light and the mind at ease when one fights," he said, "and nothing will accomplish this better than singing an aria or two as an adjunct to the training."

when their pitching staff rounds into form.

THE Reds came to Pittsburgh for their first series with a badly "shot" slab staff. Of their crack staff, composed of Luque, Rixey, Donohue, May, Mays and Lucas, only Rixey was available.

Donohue has only recently signed his contract, Jake May has not been able to start as yet, Carl Mays pitched his first ball here and Lucas was out of the reckoning for the series by reason of the fact that the clever redhead had twirled 17 innings the day preceeding their arrival.

JACK HENDRICKS was pleased with the showing made by Carl Mays. The submarine star apparently is about ready to "go" the route. Other stars of the Red staff also are getting close to form.

The Giants are the only Eastern club favored as flag winners. There is a feeling in some quarters, however, that the Dodgers will be troublesome.

McGRAW naturally is disappointed over the turn taken by Vic Aldridge. Doubtless, John J. regarded Vic as a prospective ace of the mound and so far he has not even signed. With Aldridge out and suspended, the chances of the Polo Grounders are proportionately impaired.

Many things can happen in a month of baseball and the fans are in a mood of keen anticipation regarding the race in the senior league.

VETS TO HEAR LEVIN

Julius Levin, of the Sun-Tele sports department, will address the members of the Veterans' Association of the 107th Field Artillery at their regular meeting Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the Hunt Armory, Emerson and Alder streets. The veterans have just dedicated a new recreation room at the Hunt Armory and are mapping out an extensive program of spring and summer events.

TO START GREEN HORSE

BEAVER, Pa., May 2.—A. F. Grine, veteran light harness horse fancier of this city, will send a green trotting gelding by Northern King, 2:16¼, to the races in the Beaver Valley this season. The youngster showed miles in 2:16 last year.

Can't ShakeShiner on Fellow, Fan Says

MILWAUKEE, May 2.—(AP.)—Ben Segal, ardent baseball fan, did not like decisions made by Larry Goetz and George Johnson during a Columbus-Milwaukee game here. He insists a "black eye cannot be shaken onto a fellow."

After the game, Segal waited for the umpires and said what he thought of their work. Then something happened. Segal claims he was struck, and exhibits a black eye to prove it.

Umpire Johnson and his working partner deny this. "Goetz just shook him a little," he said, "after Segal had abused us."

"He popped me on the jaw and on the eye," Segal declared. "You can't shake a black eye on a fellow."

Improved Dividends Show Increase Over Last Year

By B. C. FORBES

AMERICAN corporations show a satisfactory dividend record for the first four months this year. Improved announcements of one kind or another have totaled 378. This compares with 233 one year ago, 261 two years ago and 248 three years ago. The April total was 70, which compares with 60 for both one year and two years ago.

Unfavorable action was taken by only 10 companies, compared with 11 a month ago, 26 in February and 7 in January.

THE two outstanding features last month were the large number of companies announcing extra disbursements and the large number entering the dividend lists for the first time. The April record is summarized in this table, covering industrial, public utility and railroad companies:

	Ind.	P.U.	R.R.
Extra	28	0	1
Initial	20	2	0
Increased	6	1	1
Stock	5	2	0
Resumed	0	0	1
Total	62	5	3

WHILE the railway list is small, the developments last month were quite significant and encouraging. The Long Island Railroad announced a payment, 4 per cent, for the first time since 1896. Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe raised its rate from 7 to 10 per cent per annum. Atlantic Coast Line declared an extra of 1½ per cent.

Wall Street is hopeful that cheerful dividend news from railroads will become somewhat more plentiful later in the year. Conditions in the Northwest have improved notably and this has already been reflected by a substantial advance in the Northwest rail shares. Certain Southwestern roads are also doing unusually well. In the East the main interest is centered in prospective realignments in grouping and in ownership. So far, however, the Interstate Commerce Commission has not exhibited a particularly friendly attitude.

AMONG well-known industrial companies whose directors felt justified in announcing an extra disbursement at this time were Sherwin-Williams, Nash Motors, Curtis Publishing, American Machine and Foundry, New York and Honduras Rosario Mining, McKesson & Robbins, Ingersoll Rand.

Increased rates were named by Dow Chemical, Simmons Company, Brockway Motors, Coca Cola, McCall Corporation and American Home Products.

THE following table, compiled exclusively for this column, gives the improved dividend payments made by American companies since the end of 1923:

	1928	1927	1926	1925	1924
January	111	89	87	69	78
February	98	81	72	64	49
March	99	93	102	81	67
April	70	60	60	34	45
Totals—4 months	378	323	261	248	233
May		68	64	42	39
June		137	98	67	47
July		60	54	36	21
August		63	57	39	23
September		104	85	62	48
October		83	69	54	37
November		136	103	96	63
December		205	184	147	104
Totals		1179	1025	811	621

NOTWITHSTANDING the frequent complaint that competition has brought extremely narrow profit margins, relatively few companies apparently are finding it necessary to reduce their disbursements to stockholders. Nor is any pessimism concerning the general dividend outlook exhibited by the stock market. The disposition at the moment is to look for better corporation reports covering the current quarter than are now appearing covering the first quarter. Commercial failures are not unusually heavy.

Incidentally, to justify the present quotations for many popular stocks, profits would have to expand much more than is now within sight, as it is not uncommon for such stocks to show yields below the interest rates now ruling.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, May 2.—(AP.)—Wheat prices turned sharply downward today after an opening advance. Showers in the southwest led to heavy selling here that more than counterbalanced an unexpected advance at Liverpool. Opening ¼ to 1½ higher, Chicago wheat soon underwent a setback of 4½ in some cases, as compared with initial top figures. Corn sympathized with wheat weakness, starting at ⅛ off to ¼ up and afterward showing a decided setback. Oats were relatively firm. Provisions tended to sag.

With some moisture southwest reported and with more in prospect suggesting relief from drought, the wheat market today became greatly unsettled, declining prices automatically forced into operation many standing orders to sell out at various fixed limits and thus to put a stop to losses. Good buying that developed on the breaks in price brought about sudden rallies which however failed to hold well.

Favorable wheat crop conditions authoritatively reported from some sections of Kansas and Oklahoma today did much to stimulate selling. A leading expert telegraphing from Enid, Okla., said that from Wichita to Enid the general status of wheat is above average, with a good growth stand and color, and that with auspicious weather the territory from Dodge, Kan., to Enid will produce a crop above average.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of 4 to 25 points, active months showing net losses of 10 to 25 points under liquidation or realizing also some selling for a reaction.

The market evidently was influenced by improving weather reports and relatively easy Liverpool cables, but after selling off to 21.55c for May and 21.50c for October, prices steadied on covering and trade buying. Business was moderately active, prices ruling about 8 to 10 points net lower at the end of the first hour.

Private cables reported heavy general realizing in the Liverpool market, but that the demand for cotton cloths from India was broadening.

The market stiffened up after publication of the weekly report of the weather bureau, new crop months selling 2 or 3 points above yesterday's last quotations. The bulge met renewal of realizing or liquidation on the favorable view of the weather outlook, however, and the market weakened. May selling off to 21.44c and October to 21.21c, or about 27 to 35 points net lower. Prices were 5 or 6 points up from these figures, with the market quieter at midday.

JEFFERSON DEED FOUND BY RECORDER IN OHIO

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., May 2.—A sheepskin parchment deed bearing signatures of President Thomas Jefferson and Secretary of State James Madison, that had been mislaid and never recorded, was found in the county recorder's office this week and entered on the books. It conveyed to Capt. George McCully three tracts of land near Fort Washington for services in the Revolutionary War.

CITY DETECTIVE DYE NAMED COURT CRIER

City Detective Joseph Dye was elected crier of Criminal Court yesterday at a meeting of the judges. He will fill the position vacated by the death of James A. Steele. Mr. Dye was sworn in today and began his new duties immediately. The new crier is 53 years of age and lives at 3606 Beechwood boulevard. He came to Pittsburgh in 1899 from Work county, W. Va., where he had been a school teacher.

PRODUCE MARKET

Dealings for all lines of fruit and vegetables were rather slow today at the local wholesale produce district. The prices on fruit and vegetables were about unchanged.

Poultry was in liberal supply and the market was easy. The demand was rather dull and the quotations were about unchanged.

The cheese market was steady. Butter was weak. The quotations on these markets were unchanged. The egg market was firm at the quotations listed.

Car lot supplies were liberal, a total of 608 cars being on track. Included in the arrivals were 5 cars of apples, 3 beans, 4 cabbage, 6 celery, 2 cucumbers, 8 grapefruit, 2 lemons, 5 onions, 4 oranges, 1 peppers, 1 spinach, 13 potatoes, 3 strawberries, 4 sweet potatoes, 12 tomatoes and 1 peas.

STANDARD SANITARY, LONE STAR MOVE HIGHER

UTILITIES HIT NEW PEAKS IN ADVANCE

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—The stock market headed upward today, stimulated by heavy buying of public utilities, motors and investment railroad shares, although prices tapered off somewhat after noon in sympathy with a wide selling movement in the oils. A number of ordinarily obscure issues came into prominence as professional traders sought out the laggards in the list.

New peaks were established by a long list of high grade issues, such as American Telephone, American Can, Kennecott Copper, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway. Radio scored an extreme gain of six points and General Motors, Graham Paige, Electric Auto Lite and the New York Traction shares had advances of 3 to 4½ points.

Low prices shares, responding to the rapid movement of Chicago and Alton common, which sold as high as 18, just double its closing quotation on Monday, were in sharp demand. Minneapolis and St. Louis was turned over in round amounts, selling up to 6⅜, compared with yesterday's close of 4¼. Chicago and Alton preferred touched a new peak at 26⅝, but met heavy realizing sales and slipped back to 20, dragging the common back from its high level. New York, Ontario and Western was heavily accumulated in the early afternoon, rising 3 points to 28½.

The speculative buying of the oils apparently had ceased for the moment, at least, and most of them fell back on extensive profit taking and short sales. Losses ran as high as 2 points in Pan-American "B," Mexican Seaboard and Atlantic Refining. The scope of the selling in this group eventually caused the general list to taper off from its high figures in the early afternoon.

TURBINE BLADE CRACK HALTED SHIP'S TESTS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(INS.)—A defective turbine in the Navy's new $45,000,000 airplane carrier Lexington caused suspension of the Lexington's official tests off the Pacific coast, Secretary of Navy Wilbur has announced. Wilbur said cracks in the blading of a turbine had interrupted the trials. New blading will be installed and the trials resumed. The turbines were supplied by the government on contracts apart from the shipbuilding itself.

U. S. Steel Operating Unchanged.

United States Steel Corporation subsidiaries now are operating at the unchanged rate of 88 to 90 per cent of ingot capacity. Chicago steelmaking holds at 95 per cent, according to Iron and Trade Review. Pittsburgh steel mills are working on slightly lower schedules, averaging generally around 80 per cent of capacity. Some of the smaller independents are on a 70 to 75 per cent basis and one is working at 50 per cent. Some of the larger ones, however, still maintain an 85 per cent schedule.

Say Rail Shares Lag.

The recent stock market has proved such a maelstrom of conflicting specific trends that it is unwise to draw general conclusions regarding the market as a whole, says the Moore, Leonard & Lynch Graphic Market Review. This much, however, may be said—railroad issues have generally lagged behind the industrial side of the market, while industrial trading has in considerable degree consisted of the featuring of a few specific issues. That is, certain stocks have been prominent on certain days only to yield this prominence to other stocks on other days.

April Mail Order Sales.

April sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. were $21,150,161, against $21,901,114 in April last year, and for four month his year $96,227,026, against $90,391,916 in the same period of 1927. Montgomery Ward April sales amounted to $15,940,784, as against $16,557,218 for April a year ago, of a decrease of 3.72 per cent. April this year contained one less working day than a year ago. Sales for the first four months this year totaled $61,517,279, against $61,791,141 a year ago, a decrease of .44 per cent.

Dillon, Read in New Office.

Dillon, Read & Co. have established themselves in a new suite of offices, 1045 Union Trust Building, which represent almost the last word in investment headquarters in this city. The local office now represents all activities of the company, doing practically everything that the principal headquarters in New York could accomplish. More commodious quarters and greater facilities for investment information are at hand in the new suite. The company formerly was on a lower floor in the same building. William S. Charnley is resident manager and vice president of the company.

Aggregate Rail Net.

First 73 railroads to report March earnings had net railway operating income aggregating $84,917,520, compared with $87,488,786 in the same month of 1927, decrease of 2.94 per cent. Their February earnings amounted to $63,294,050; total February net for all roads reflected an 0.85 per cent increase over 1927, but January net was off 7 per cent from 1927. March gross revenues for these roads totaled $466,527,226, against $489,951,846 in 1927, decrease of 4.7 per cent. Their February gross totaled $403,499,265.

Bond Market as Barometer.

New bond offerings by houses of issue show no increase in the yield to investors. If money rates were to remain around 5 per cent for a protracted period, say traders, buyers would be demanding a better return on what they buy. Otherwise they could lend their money to greater advantage in the Street. Average bond prices are off about a point since the discount rates were raised. This small decline, say the same traders, is sufficient to discount a temporary period of higher money rates.

Stewart-Warner.

Stewart-Warner Speedometer Corporation's first quarter net income of $1,387,284, equivalent to $2.31 a share on common is the largest for any first quarter since 1924. It compares with $1,062,048 earned in first quarter of last year, equivalent to $1.75 a share. Record first quarter was in 1923 when company reported net income of $1,827,974. Company's showing is the result of the large volume of business which it has enjoyed since February. In fact, if margin of profit on its principal products had been as large as in 1923, 1924 and 1925, company's net income would undoubtedly have surpassed that of any first quarter in its history.

Chandler Shows a Profit.

The Chandler Cleveland Motors Corporation reports for the March quarter net profit of $52,265 after taxes and depreciation. This compares with net loss in the same quarter last year of $99,225. F. C. Chandler, president, said: "Due to the late start on our new models, January and February each showed a loss, but March net profits amounted to $159,019, making net profit for quarter of $52,265."

American Water Works.

American Water Works and Electric Company March net income was $497,136 after interest, depreciation, etc., against $450,046 in 1927. For 12 months net income is equal to $2.60 on the common, against $2.89 in same period last year.

Mining Shares Strong.

Copper stocks were in good demand today, stimulated by bullish statements of two leading copper company officials. Stephen Birch, president of Kennecott, said the copper situation is healthy with no appreciable stocks of the metal held here or abroad. He sees no reason to expect a decline in the price of the metal. Kennecott, one of the world's greatest mining companies, owns 97½ per cent of Utah Copper, which, in turn, owns about 43 per cent of Nevada Copper. J. T. Crabbs, president of Granby Consolidated Mining, told his stockholders that Granby's dividend is safe at current metal prices. Stockholders will be asked to approve further reserves of capital for dividend payments as soon as current reserves are exhausted.

JOHN C. RUDOLPH, Secretary.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—Trading in the bond market tapered off still more today and prices followed no definite trend. The usual first of the month reinvestment demand apparently had been satisfied by the active buying last week in anticipation of dividend and interest payments. Uncertainty over the trend of the money market was a factor.

A few railroad obligations were in demand, among them Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s, Denver and Rio Grande Western 5s and Seaboard Air Line adjustment 5s. New York traction issues improved slightly under buying.

Liquid Carbonic convertible 6s, which advanced nearly 2 points, were outstanding in the industrial group. Andes Copper 7s showed no change in price and United Drug of Delaware 5s sagged.

Activity of British United Kingdom 5½s and German Central Agricultural Bank 6s was the feature of the foreign group, the latter coincident the over-subscription of a new $30,000,000 6 per cent issue offered this morning.

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

MARKET LEADERS FIRM HERE

A strong market for Standard Sanitary Manufacturing with the stock holding firm at 38 and above throughout the forenoon was the feature of the early dealings on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today.

The stock is scheduled for listing on the New York Stock Exchange but when the application will be acted on by the securities committee over there is not known. Some of the buying this week, it has been suggested, has been in anticipation of probable action on the matter within a few days. However, there has been nothing official or semi-official upon which to base the opinion.

Lone Star Gas evidenced increasing interest on the buying side, moving above 50 in the first hour. There was not much volume to the dealings, however, and traders busied themselves with transactions in the "rights" which allow a fractional profit based on the selling price of the shares. Holder of three rights may purchase one share of the stock at $25.

Lone Star is understood to have enjoyed a very favorable first quarter and the earnings statement is expected to show profits which will entitle to the stock a price well above the current level.

Movements in the miscellaneous manufacturing issues were narrow and the market for these shares was quiet. Union Steel Castings suffered a further decline to 37, off 2½ points from its price of a few days ago. Pittsburgh Plate Glass was firm. Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt was quiet and unchanged.

FRIENDSHIPS Don't Grow in a Cold Atmosphere

The confidence with which Pittsburgh regards the name "COMMONWEALTH" wherever it is mentioned, is our reward for hewing to the line of conservative banking—flavored with humanness.

There is so much more to banking, you know, than the dull routine of handling money.

Successful banking, or successful business of any kind, is largely a matter of successful friendships.

Misfortune is no respecter of persons.

No one can say today with any degree of certainty what is going to happen to him or to his tomorrow.

Those who set aside a definite part of their income regularly and systematically, and place these funds in high grade investments, are fortified against adversity. They are prepared for any emergency.

The ready marketability and high yield of Cities Service securities make them a particularly attractive investment. At its present price, Cities Service common stock gives you a net yield of over 8%. And you can turn your stock into money almost as quickly as you can cash a check.

As an owner of Cities Service common stock, you are a profit-sharing partner in one of the largest and most successful public service and petroleum organizations in the country—with total assets of more than $650,000,000.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

OFFICE OF
TREASURER OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY,
PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

In pursuance of the 21st section of an "Act relating to Allegheny county," approved the 1st day of May, 1861, and of the amendment to said section, approved the 30th day of March, A. D. 1866, I do hereby give notice that the duplicates for the several wards of the cities of Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Duquesne and Clairton, boroughs and townships, will be open, and I will be prepared to receive the county, poor, road, bond interest, personal property and park taxes for the year 1928 on May 1st. Said taxes may be paid during the months of May, June and July at 5% discount, during August at face, 10% penalty being added on and after September 1st.

Statements will be furnished promptly upon written request, if given name, location by ward in the cities of Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Duquesne or Clairton, or by boroughs or townships. If statement of Personal Property or Occupation Tax is desired, please give street address also.

Use of the mail is advised for requesting statements and in making payments of taxes. Remittance may be made by bank draft, certified check, or postoffice money order (payable to John Francies, County Treasurer), accompanied by stamped and addressed envelope for return of tax statement or receipt.

JOHN FRANCIES,
County Treasurer.

GIVEN FLOWERS

About 50 old customers of Spear & Co., gathered in the Penn avenue store to pay tribute to Nathaniel Spear, founder, on the occasion of the store's thirty-fifth anniversary. Above is a group of visitors. In the center of the group are Mr. Spear and Miss Martha Wilson Shaw, daughter of one of the customers, presenting a boquet of flowers. To the right, little Miss Shaw with Mr. Spear in his office.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

TWO operas will be heard on the air tonight, Mascagni's "L'Amico Fritz" (Friend Fritz) will be presented, in tabloid form, by the National Grand Opera Company over Red network stations, including WCAE, at 10:30 o'clock. Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "Pinafore," will be broadcast over WJAS and other Columbia chain stations at 9 o'clock in the Operetta in Miniature program.

The Philco hour, which has been moved from Saturday to Wednesday, will be heard over the Blue Network, including KDKA, at 9 o'clock. This hour will offer "The Burgomaster," a musical comedy of old and new New York. Colin O'More and Jessica Dragonette have the leading roles.

Irving Kaufman, soloist and entertainer, will be with the Champion Sparkers who will be heard as a network feature over KDKA at 8 o'clock. Mr. Kaufman will sing "If I Can't Have You," "Beautiful" and "Who Wouldn't Be Blue?"

A variety program will be presented over WCAE and other Red Network stations at 9:30 o'clock by the Goodrich Silvertown cord orchestra and quartet. A soprano soloist also will be heard. Among the numbers to be presented will be Finden's "Temple Bells," Axt's "Savage Carnival" and Tobani's "Gems of Stephen Foster."

One of the highlights of tonight's radio program will be the presentation of Barbara Maurel, concert mezzo soprano, and Sascha Jacobsen, violinist. These musical artists will feature the Columbia Phonograph hour over the Columbia Chain, including WJAS, at 10 o'clock. Each will offer five numbers. The singer's selections will be Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me," Adams' "Bells of St. Marys," the Habanera from "Carmen," Kjerulf's "Last Night" and Kreisler's "The Old Refrain."

A tabulation of tonight's radio events follow:

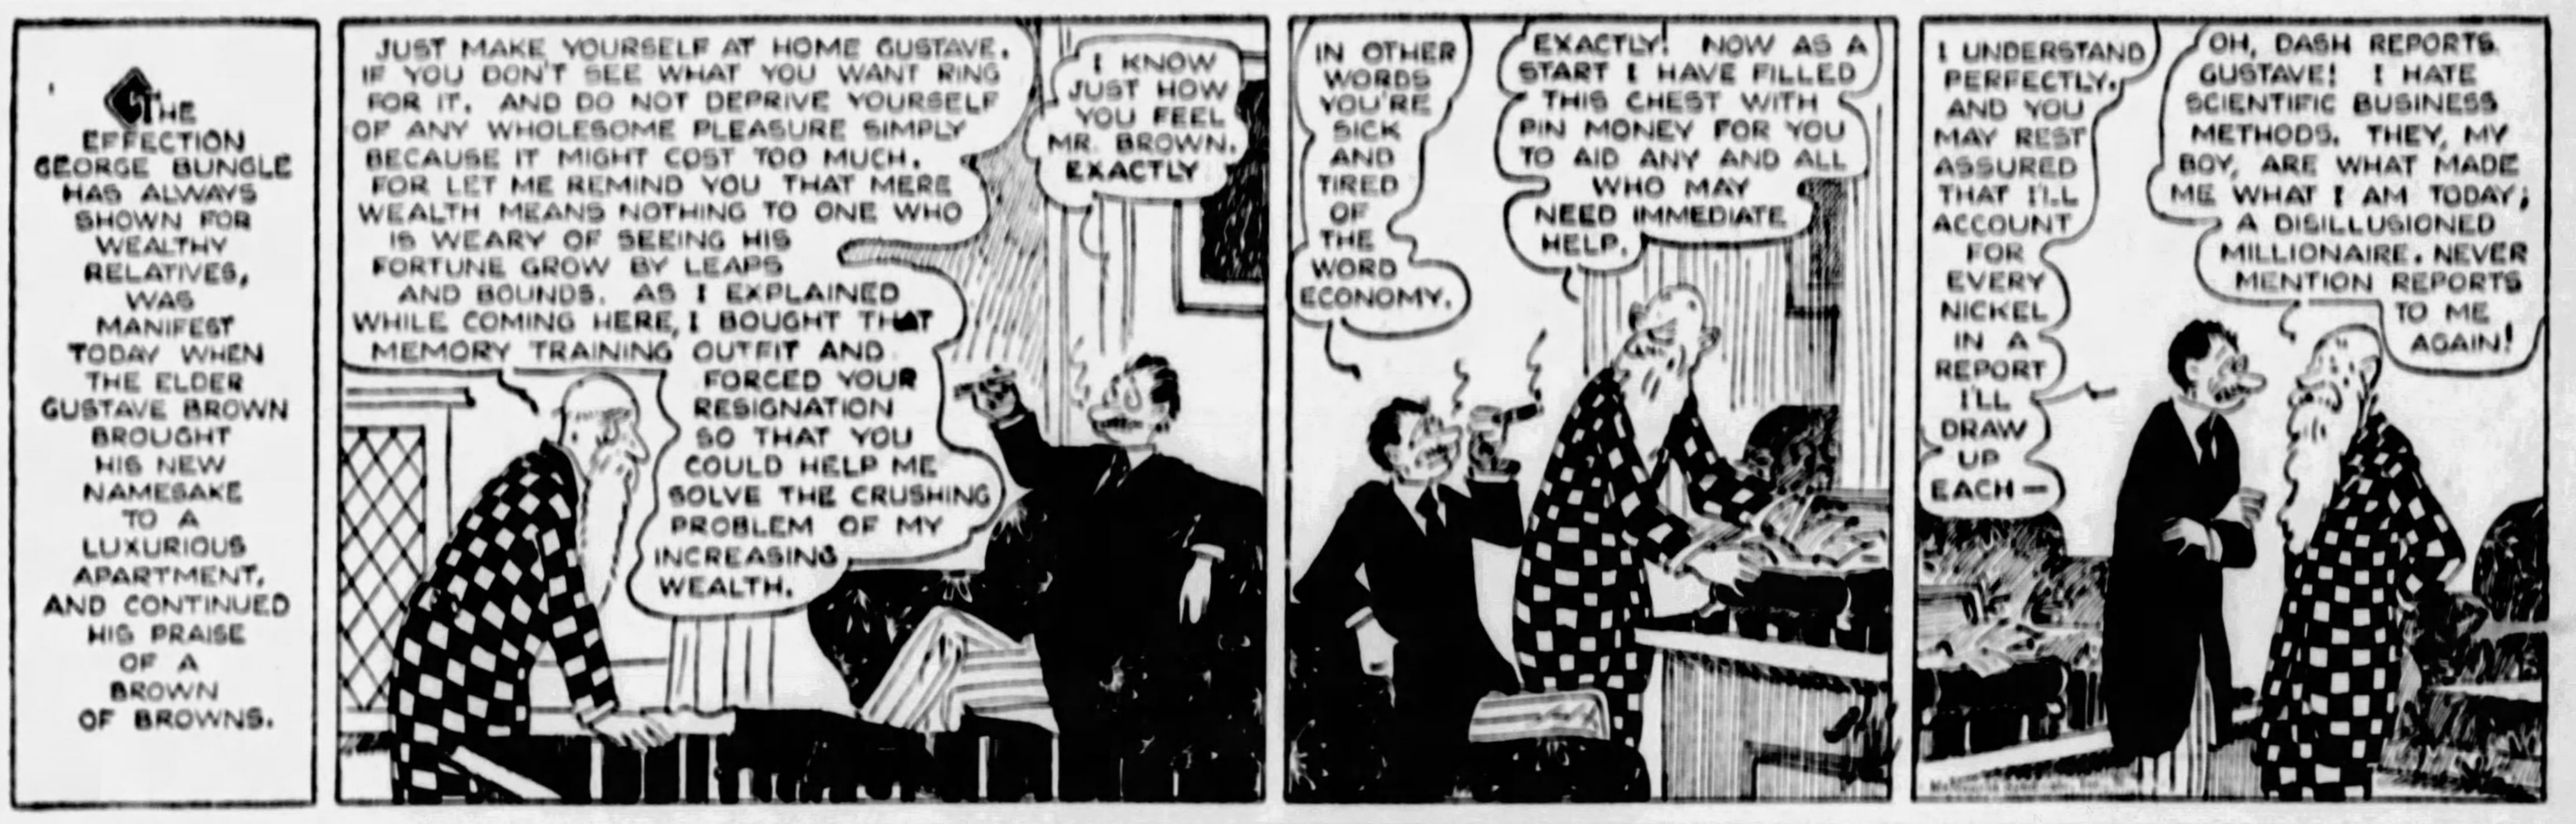
THE BUNGLE FAMILY

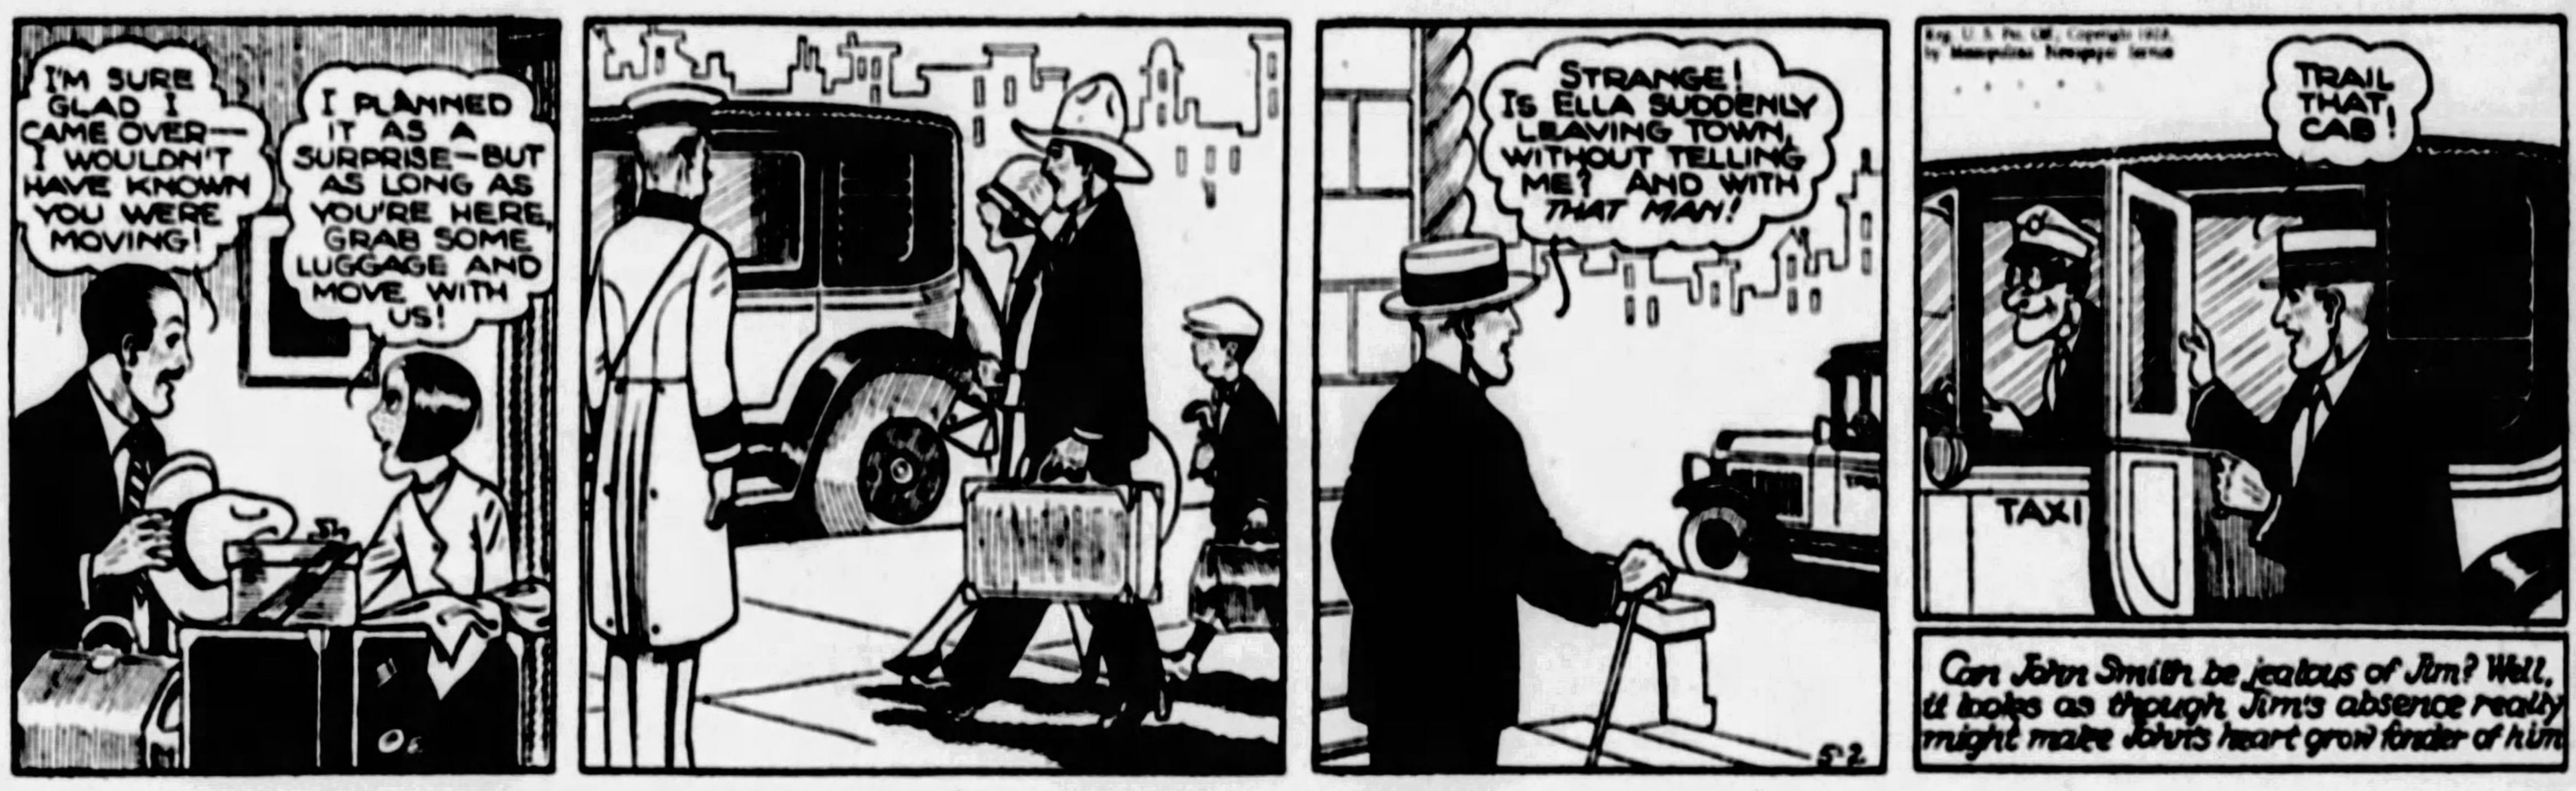
An Easy Boss



THE EFFECTION GEORGE BUNGLE HAS ALWAYS SHOWN FOR WEALTHY RELATIVES, WAS MANIFEST TODAY WHEN THE ELDER GUSTAVE BROWN BROUGHT HIS NEW NAMESAKE TO A LUXURIOUS APARTMENT, AND CONTINUED HIS PRAISE OF A BROWN OF BROWNS.
JUST MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME GUSTAVE. IF YOU DON'T SEE WHAT YOU WANT RING FOR IT, AND DO NOT DEPRIVE YOURSELF OF ANY WHOLESOME PLEASURE SIMPLY BECAUSE IT MIGHT COST TOO MUCH. FOR LET ME REMIND YOU THAT MERE WEALTH MEANS NOTHING TO ONE WHO IS WEARY OF SEEING HIS FORTUNE GROW BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS. AS I EXPLAINED WHILE COMING HERE, I BOUGHT THAT MEMORY TRAINING OUTFIT AND FORCED YOUR RESIGNATION SO THAT YOU COULD HELP ME SOLVE THE CRUSHING PROBLEM OF MY INCREASING WEALTH.
I KNOW JUST HOW YOU FEEL MR. BROWN, EXACTLY
IN OTHER WORDS YOU'RE SICK AND TIRED OF THE WORD ECONOMY.
EXACTLY! NOW AS A START I HAVE FILLED THIS CHEST WITH PIN MONEY FOR YOU TO AID ANY AND ALL WHO MAY NEED IMMEDIATE HELP.
I UNDERSTAND PERFECTLY, AND YOU MAY REST ASSURED THAT I'LL ACCOUNT FOR EVERY NICKEL IN A REPORT I'LL DRAW UP EACH —
OH, DASH REPORTS GUSTAVE! I HATE SCIENTIFIC BUSINESS METHODS. THEY, MY BOY, ARE WHAT MADE ME WHAT I AM TODAY; A DISILLUSIONED MILLIONAIRE. NEVER MENTION REPORTS TO ME AGAIN!

ELLA CINDERS

The Jealous John



I'M SURE GLAD I CAME OVER — I WOULDN'T HAVE KNOWN YOU WERE MOVING!
I PLANNED IT AS A SURPRISE — BUT AS LONG AS YOU'RE HERE, GRAB SOME LUGGAGE AND MOVE WITH US!
STRANGE! IS ELLA SUDDENLY LEAVING TOWN, WITHOUT TELLING ME? AND WITH THAT MAN!
TRAIL THAT CAB!

Everything Is Better

Even the Barber's Hard Job

Two things everybody should do—work hard and BE DISSATISFIED with things as they are,

Working hard is a duty and the only road to success. INTELLIGENT dissatisfaction means making things better,

But while we should all be dissatisfied with ourselves and with conditions, especially with the condition of the less prosperous, we should occasionally find comfort in the extraordinary improvement visible everywhere, in all lines of work,

For instance, ask John Maioriello, philosophical barber who does things exactly as you want them done in an "exclusive" barber shop.

Mr. Maioriello says: "Young folks dissatisfied ought to know how things were when I learned my trade as an apprentice barber. I was glad to get $1.50 a week. For that I worked all day from 7 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. I had to come early, before 7, and clean up. I had to clean up after the others went away. By and by I got to be what they call 'half a barber,' I could shave people, but I could not cut hair yet. When they thought I knew how to cut hair I was a 'full barber.'

"And even a full barber got only $8 or $9 a week in those days. The tips when you got them were five cents or ten cents, even in good barber shops. Seven in the morning until nine at night were the working hours. If you stepped away from your chair in that time you got an ugly look from the boss barber."

Barbers are not satisfied yet, and they ought not to be. In a country as rich as this things should grow steadily better. They will grow better, if men and women think earnestly and work HARD AND HONESTLY while they strive for better things.

What is true of the barber's job is true of a thousand other jobs in the United States. The man who writes this remembers the efforts of the striking street car drivers to get more than $1.50 a day and prevent the boss from taking part of what they got. It was a bloody strike.

Before the war you could hire as many men as you wanted in the country to work hard for $1.50 a day. Foreigners worked on farms and in the city for $12 a month and their board. Bricklayers and carpenters were aristocrats because they got $5 a day.

Five dollars a day isn't aristocracy any longer. That's called "just enough to live."

Always be dissatisfied, first of all with YOURSELF. For the real trouble is in ourselves.

Second, with CONDITIONS, for they can always be made better. But while you criticize yourself, and while you strive to make conditions better for all that work, DON'T FORGET TO WORK HARD.

And don't forget this:

All that any workman can ever get is part of what some other workman produces. If the workmen produce little their share will be comparatively little.

Hobbles Off

Britain's Plan to Boom Productive Industry

Britain's Conservative government is proposing the most revolutionary tax plan since the day of Henry George.

Buildings, machinery, improvements used in productive industry are to be untaxed. No unnecessary burden will be laid on the instrumentalities by which workers are employed. The levy will be confined to the incomes resulting from industry and be based solely on ability to pay.

The same policy is to be applied in spirit to transportation. Freight rates on basic products, now staggeringly high, are to be lowered as an encouragement to greater employment of the idle, but the railroads are to get a proportionate reduction of their local taxes.

The key idea of the proposed change is that the enterprise which makes no profit should pay no tax. Instead, success will carry all the load.

That seems a curious policy to come from conservative sources. It is another example of radicalism winning indirectly.

How to Keep Young

Keep Your Brain Busy

A HAPPY GRANDMOTHER.

This British lady, Mrs. Runciman, is running in England for the House of Commons. Her father-in-law, Sir Walter Runciman; her husband, a member of Parliament, and five grandchildren are working for her, canvassing for votes.

This lady is happy, and young for her years, because HER MIND IS FREE, and busy.

Women grow old because after they finish worrying about babies and bringing up young children the world offers them nothing to do that is worth while—unless it be to SLAVE for those that OUGHT to be taking care of them.

Picking out new hats, face powder or a boyish bob is not enough of an occupation to keep an intelligent middle-aged woman's mind active and her spirit young.

We are as old as we think we are. Women and men are really old and hopelessly old when THINKING STOPS.

BE A PITTSBURGH BOOSTER
To Your Friends in Other Cities

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 2.—The highly successful New Yorker at one time or other in his career reaches the point where he desires more than anything else to be saved from friends. He finds himself besieged by those who use his friendship as an excuse for jobs, loans or recommendations.

The enterprise the successful man commands has been, as a rule, built up in a coldly commercial manner, with few sentimental values, and he dare not risk a single weak link. To give a job to a friend for mere friendship's sake is a mistaken kindness. He would rather pay him a salary than have him around.

Much of a successful man's unpopularity, it will be found, is inspired by those who once claimed friendship. Several years ago I was in the waiting room of a prominent magnate when a shabby and scowling man passed out of his office.

The magnate was upset. He inquired if I had seen the fellow who just left. He was one who had tried many things and failed and had come around for help. They had been rare and close friends in other days, had gone through rough times and heard the bullets sing.

He desired a job, but that his friend could not give him. He wanted to tremendously, but his greater responsibility was to his stockholders. "It seemed cruel," he said, "for him to think that for a moment I had forgotten him. We had shared so much together."

The magnate said he had resorted to frankness and wound up by begging his friend to ask him for any reasonable sum. To consider it as a loan, but for him never for a second to think that he expected it back. But it was a chance to get on in the world he wanted, and the offer of a loan offended.

So he lost a friend and doubtless acquired an enemy. Another successful man told me his success had cut him off from all the friends of early days who were dear to him. More than half sought to take advantage of his prominence for themselves or others, so in self-protection he decided not to see any of them.

Tributes to great men often say in substance: "His legion of friends glory in his success." That is rarely true. There is something oddly perverse about human nature that makes friends prefer their friends to stick in their accustomed groove. When they hop out of it on their way to the heights, their friends are first to wonder how in the world that could happen. Friendship is, of course, a wonderfully fine thing, but its jealousies over success are often contemptably mean and petty. The successful man usually tells you that most of the adulation he receives comes from those who never knew him until he became a success. It is friends who watch for him to come a cropper.

If there is fun in being a high-pressure success, it is difficult to observe from the sidelines. What should be relaxing hours, are really a fight to be physically fit for the exacting grind. The tasks left for the big executive are those that cannot be accomplished by others and are necessarily the most difficult, if you get what I mean. It seems rather thick to me.

* * *

There is a shadowy restaurant which is a rendezvous for young folks in love. They may hold hands and even embrace without being observed from the next table. And its proprietor, I am told, is an elderly maidenly lady who was disappointed in love and is now blind.

* * *

There is a head waiter in town who lacks the usual tact. Said he to a gentleman escorting a lady: "Your usual table, M'soo?" The greeting was really to impress the lady with the gentleman's importance when as a matter of fact the gentleman had never been in the restaurant before. And the lady happened to be his wife.

* * *

My own success in inspiring sweeping salaams from head waiters has been nothing to write home about. Just the other night one greeted me with, "Hello, young squirrel." Rather disconcerting to anyone trying to be a trifle man-about-townish.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

The Sieve of Life

IT GIVES me satisfaction to see a long-cherished belief of mine, founded not on theory, but on observation, corroborated by the Lasker Medical Research Foundation recently established in Chicago.

My belief is, that, barring the effects of physical disease and progressive physical degeneration, human intelligence increases with age, the mind accumulating the fruits of experience and not itself sharing the deterioration of its bodily instruments and agents. But as those agents weaken and decay, the mind is hampered, and its fruits are lost.

Now, the aim of the research maintained by the Lasker Foundation is declared by its president to be: "A unit attack on the disease of men and women of middle, and old, age, when their intelligence is at the highest and their value to the community the greatest."

I have italicised the words that strikingly accord with the belief above mentioned.

Statistics show that under the influence of advances in medical science and hygiene the average span of human life has been increased from thirty to sixty years. But at the same time, although the expectancy of life at birth has doubled, people who attain the age of fifty have no greater expectancy of continued life than had those who attained the same age a century ago. This is explained by the fact that the progress made in the treatment of disease has been mostly confined to the diseases characteristic of childhood and early life. There the gain has been enormous, while there has been no corresponding gain at the other end of the life span.

Infectious diseases have yielded to the attack; tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever and typhoid fever have all receded, but heart diseases, pneumonia and other ailments especially deadly in age, have remained unaffected, or have relatively advanced. Thus people are swept off just when their mental powers should be at the highest.

So the new Foundation proposes to organize against the degenerative diseases that carry off the best developed brains at the time when they are reaching the greatest efficiency. Nobody familiar with the need in scientific advance of uninterrupted, and constantly refined and intensified work, under the control of accumulated personal skill and aptitude, can fail to sympathize with the statement that the world is greatly a loser by the elimination, through physical degeneration of minds that are still ripening and expanding their powers.

Of course, exception must be made of those who think that the idea of a mind independent of and superior to the body is a myth. I shall believe that whenever I can believe that I am not I, but only the wraith of a chemical reaction.

I have tried to illustrate with a diagram the sieve-like character of the nets that disease and physical degeneration spread across the course of human life. The meshes of the sieve have always been most effective in the childhood period; but medical science has destroyed many of them so that of late years the number of lives extending on into the youth and middle-age periods has been greatly increased. But, the last period, that of old age, is still screened off as effectually as it was in pre-scientific times, so that the world really gains nothing from the lengthening of the earlier stages of life, or at any rate gains far less than it should, since there is relatively no increase in the number of highly developed minds that it possesses.

Isn't It So?

A friend who is not in need is a friend indeed.

No man is such poor pay that he can't borrow trouble.

A nice neighborhood in which to live is just inside your income.

A period is only a dot, but it's the best thing to use in the end.

Some mighty stupid young men are clever enough to have rich fathers.

It's the little things that annoy us. One decayed tooth may feel as big as an acre.

• • •

While his wife may have a parasol to match every gown, a man is lucky if he can find two socks that match when he is looking for his clean clothes.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Courage and Hope

YOU may know that you are just an ordinary person in appearance, education and social standing and commercial position.

Often you make comparisons between your opportunities and those of your associates.

Then comes a doubt as to your ability to pull yourself higher.

You hesitate to make the effort for fear of failure.

Always there is the thought of your handicaps.

But why keep your unfortunate circumstances always before you?

There will be enough stumbling blocks and discouraging conditions to meet without trying to picture things which may happen.

You know that your efforts have caused a little progress.

When you can see a little improvement from month to month or even from year to year you should not be disheartened.

Lack in your younger years may retard your upward growth but so long as you are going forward a little you should be hopeful.

Lift Up Your Eyes

LIFT up your eyes and see afar
A glory on the mist-wreathed world
That dims the last faint-silver star,
The glory of morn's gates ajar,
Banners of light upflung, unfurled!

Lift up your eyes. Beyond the ring
Of doubt's dark mists that circle you,
See how hope's shining torches bring
A glow like morn, a bloom like spring,
Transforming all the sordid view.

Always this power is yours to use,
Always this force within you lies
Through dark or light, the will to choose,
To cringe or conquer; then refuse
The slave's poor role. Lift up your eyes!

Tales that are Told

The Only Way

TWO golfing rivals were contesting the final of the club championship. They were all square at the seventeenth.

Driving to the home hole one made a perfect shot down the fairway while the other sliced into jungle country.

On going forward to investigate the latter player found to his consternation that his ball had gone down a rabbit hole. It was impossible to play the shot and the game was as good as over.

"Your niblick, sir?" inquired the caddie.

Not His Business

MALONEY, the farmhand, driving his employer's donkey-cart, was stopped at a toll-gate.

A long argument ensued, but in the end Maloney paid the three-pence demanded.

Later in the afternoon he returned, but this time the donkey lay comfortably in the bottom of the cart and Maloney himself was between the shafts.

He paid not the slightest heed to the gate-keeper, and would have passed through had not the latter closed the gate in time.

"Whirrah!" cried Maloney, angrily. "It's not a bit av use talkin' to me. Spake to the driver."—London Tit-Bits.

Not Convincing

THEY were a family of enthusiastic motorists, and the youngest daughter was reading an extract from a history book to her mother.

"Just think of it, mother!" she exclaimed. "Those Spanish pirates I've been reading to you about thought nothing of going three thousand miles on a galleon."

The girl's mother paused over her darning a moment to consider this.

"Ah, yes, dear," she returned. "But your father was only saying the other day that you can't believe all you hear about those foreign cars."

Quite Different

THE vicar's wife was very enthusiastic and appreciative about the new curate, and when she happened to call on an old lady parishioner she turned the conversation in his direction.

"You know," she observed, "he is capable in so many ways, but what I like most about him is the fact that he's a real altruist."

"Indeed, I am surprised to hear you say that," replied the old parishioner, "for I heard him singing last Sunday, and I could declare he was a tenor."—London Answers.

The Wrong Tin

AT A certain railway station the London Hospital has two collecting boxes in the shape of monster medicine bottles.

For some time past well-meaning people have been filling these with offerings of "silver paper" in lieu of silver of a more useful sort, so the hospital authorities have had affixed to each of the bottles this notice:

"This box is for the collection of tin of the Realm—and not of tinfoil.—London Tit-Bits.

Gone for Good

SAM JONES was on the spot when the explosion occurred. He was blown up, and they couldn't find any trace of him. When his wife called, the foreman said, quietly:

"He's gone, ma'am."

"Gone?" she said. "For good?"

"Well, in that direction," said the foreman.

Gallant Fliers

FLOYD BENNETT will not fly with Byrd to the South Pole, as he did to the North. But his spirit will ride with Byrd and live in the memory of every valuer of quiet efficiency and courage.

In this man's eagerness to serve; in the eagerness of Lindy to serve him; in the affection shown by his chief; in the sincere grief which his passing causes among millions who knew him only as a knight of the air, we have proof of the fineness of aviation's influence upon character.

These are no small-minded or little-souled persons, these gallant fliers. They are demonstrators of a new chivalry rich in its lesson for us all.

A Two-Step Stairway

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Men climb two steps from infancy to old age.

They climb the steps How and Why.

The first is: How to live, how to get food, how to find shelter, how to protect life against enemies and accidents and disease; how to outwit fatigue and make living easier; these are the primal considerations of existence.

The first step leads to material advancement.

It results in firearms, plowshares, feather beds, steam heat, canned fruits, railroads and mousetraps.

It brought commerce, finance, Wall Street and Pittsburgh.

In the earliest days, when man was weak, it concerned itself largely with escaping enemies that lurked everywhere.

As he grew more powerful, man sought better food and shelter as well. Now he includes more and more in the answer, making life easier to live, more full of comforts, producing the same end with less expenditure of time and strength.

The second step is: Why live?

As soon as the first question, How live, has been answered and leisure and security result, men and races have turned to the great unanswered WHY of life.

The face of nature and the soul of man are marked with an unending series of whys.

Why are we as we are? What is the purpose of existence? Why go on living?

Religion, philosophy and poetry are born of pondering on this second question. It marks the advance of the spirit of man.

Long periods of peace and prosperity, when the necessity of thinking of the first step is less imperative, are the times when most progress is made on this plane.

Warfare and poverty drive men's minds down to the first step. In fighting for existence little time is left for trying to understand what life is all about.

Perhaps the reason we have made more evident progress on the mechanical side is that the periods of peace and the times of continued prosperity have been relatively few.

The foundation of the house of life is answering the first question, How to live.

The edifice placed upon this foundation is the philosophy a man works out in answer to the second question, Why live?

When we say philosopher we think of an old man with whiskers and white hair and a wrinkled face, or some such person as Socrates or Aristotle. As a matter of fact, however, every man has some kind of philosophy, that is, he has some reason in the base of his mind and some theory that he accepts about why he is here and what he is to do while here.

Every man has a creed. If he believes there is no God that is quite as much a creed as if he believes in a God. A creed means what a man thinks and no man can think nothing.

A man's sanity and reasonableness depend largely upon his philosophy of life. Those whose philosophy is to look out for Number One are thoroughly selfish, while those who are interested in the welfare of others get more out of life.

Whatever can assist man on the way toward clearer thinking and sound reasoning helps strengthen the fabric of his days.

Right Angles

Her Jewels

ONCE upon a time there lived in the eternal city, Rome, a mother whose charm, after some 20 centuries, remains more verdant than that of Longfellow's Evangeline, and whose wisdom still sets her apart as one of the world's queen of hearts.

Her name was Cornelia and she was the daughter of Scipio Africanus, and the wife of Gen. Gracchus, who, like the birds, died a violent death. Queenly though she was as wife, she was more so as a mother, and unborn ages shall still continue to call her, "the Mother of the Gracchi."

There was a social function in her home and the ladies of Rome's upper 400 were there in their peacock plumage. It was such a company as might have graced the parlors of Marie Antoinette in the climactic days of later France. Jewels there were in abundance and the Roman ladies vied with each other in the exhibition of their gems.

Finally Cornelie's two boys, replicas of Apollo, entered the room, and the proud mother, taking them by the hand, led them forward and said, "These are my jewels."

And well she might call them jewels, for those two boys, Tiberius and Caius, filled the world with the fame of their works for humanity. The former, as Tribune, executed the first agrarian law which forbade anybody to own more than 500 acres and divided the inheritances among the poor. He was killed for his goodness, but his brother, Caius, carried it on till his enemies armed themselves and chased him to the Grove of the Furies, where he was killed by his slave at his own request. And the slave then killed himself.

Mothers, your children are jewels more priceless than the gems and jewels of all the lapidaries of the earth. Look upon them all as prospective Gracchi. If the child is weak, so was Pope and Stevenson.

Some mother somewhere is rocking the cradle of a President; another is crooning a lullaby to a future Beethoven; another is stitching the little booties of an incipient Michelangelo. No home, you know, is ever safe from genius.

No wonder the greatest of the Jewish bards sang:

"Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord. Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them."
